FOSTER, 12 OTHERS OUT

GRAHAM HILL WINS

Fiery Pileup at Indy

BULLETIN

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Graham Hill, 36-year-old Londoner, won the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race on his first attempt. Jim Clark of Scotland was second, Jim McElreath was third.

(Times News Services)

INDIANAPOLIS—A blazing pileup of 16 cars, including one driven by Billy Foster of Victoria, stopped the 50th annual 500-mile race today moments after it started. Only one driver and 14 spectators were hurt, none seriously.

The cars left of the original 33 restarted the race in single file after flames in burning cars were extinguished and the debris cleared from the 2½-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway track. The race was resumed after a delay of one hour and 22 minutes.

The 16 cars were the most ever involved in one smashup at the famous racing grounds.

Dr. Tom Hanna, medical director, said about eight spectators were treated at the hospital and six others at first aid stations. He said they were "hurt primarily by panic rather than flying debris—all injuries are minor."

After repair of minor damage, three cars joined the re-starters, increasing the field to 20.

On the first lap of the restart, Johnny Boyd's BRP rear-engined Ford spun against the first-corner retaining wall. He walked away from the crackup.

Front-running Lloyd Ruby was sent to the pits with his car smoking and rookie Jack Stewart of Scotland inherited the lead with only 50 laps to go.

Defending champion Jim Clark, also of Scotland, was running second but encountered trouble with his suspension. Clark twice spun out earlier in the race but managed to stay in. Favorite Mario Andretti was knocked out earlier.

It was the second time in two years a mishap marred the race and it had to be halted. Two years ago, at the other end of the main stretch on the second lap, Dave MacDonald and Eddie Sachs were killed in a multiple smashup.

Track officials blamed the crackup on a fight for position among the racers.

The officials said Foster's car made contact with Gordon Johncock's. The chain reaction pileup continued as drivers tried frantically to avoid the first two cars.

At least one wheel came off one of the cars bolting past the starting line. One of the racers smashed against the outside retaining wall at the southwest turn and caught fire. The blaze was less than 15 yards from fans in the grandstand.

Two-time winner A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., was one of those eliminated in the pileup. Foyt, who had also cracked up in time trials for this year's race, escaped with a scratch on his knee.

Out of the race with Foyt were Foster, Don Branson, Gary Congdon, Dan Gurney, Gale Yarborough, Arnie Knepper, Al Miller, Bobby Grim, Larry Dickson and Ronnie Duman.

Foster, 28-year-old car dealer who last year became the first Canadian to qualify for the event, started in the fourth row in a Vollstedt Ford. He had qualified this year with an average speed of 159.490 miles an hour.

A Last-Second Victory

Mary Bower Wins City Trophy

It was an inch-by-inch finish.

The massive yawls Diamond Head and Mary Bower fought every inch for the finish line at the weekend's racing classic, the Swiftsure.

And it was a second's delay in setting a spinnaker that gave the Mary Bower that extra inch to flash across the finish line and the City of Victoria trophy for the first boat home.

Thousands of spectators lining the breakwater at Ogden Point were treated to one of the most dazzling finishes in the 35-year history of the race.

In the last precious seconds, the people were within 20 feet of the Mary Bower's rigging as the yacht screamed by Diamond Head on the inside.

136-MILE RACE

All through the 136-mile race that had thrown every condition in the book at the contestants, Mary Bower's skipper, John Long, had worked his boat and crew to the limit.

Then came the second that

EAGLES TRIMMED BY FLEDGLING

Crewman 'Sews' Terna to Victory

By PAT DUFOUR

A fledgling trimmed the feathers of the biggest eagles in the Swiftsure classic over the weekend.

Terna, the smallest yacht in the race, came through in grand style to capture the coveted Swiftsure Trophy for over-all winner.

This was the maiden race for the 32-foot sloop owned and skippered by Per Christoffersen of the West Vancouver Yacht Club. It beat out such champions as John Graham's yawl Maruffa and Ches Rickard's L36 Winsome III which is the only yacht to win the title of overall winner three years in a row, 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Christoffersen admits he had "tears in my eyes" when he crossed the line and realized that, on corrected time, he was a hot contender for top spot.

Co-skipper with Christoffersen was Phil Miller of the Vancouver sailmaking firm of that name. An able skipper of six-metres he was given the helm by Terna's owner for the all-important start at Brotchie Ledge.

More Suicides Threatened By Buddhists

Four Die By Fire In 2 Days

(Times News Services)

SAIGON — Two more Buddhists burned themselves to death today in the struggle to force South Viet Nam's military regime from power. A Buddhist leader warned of more suicides unless Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government steps down.

A 17-year-old monk burned himself to death at the Buddhist Institute here and another monk took his life by fire at Dalat, a resort 115 miles from this South Vietnamese capital.

A Buddhist girl was reported to have cut her wrists in Dalat. A later report said the girl survived.

Two Buddhist women burned themselves to death Sunday.

The young monk's body was inside the institute's compound when correspondents arrived. Other monks said he had set himself ablaze near the main gate to the grounds.

Thich (venerable) Tam Chau, the Buddhist Institute's moderate chairman, appealed to monks and nuns for an immediate halt to such "self-sacrifice." But later the 86-pound monk told correspondents self-immolation is not a contradiction of Buddhist principles of non-violence. He added:

"We hope the general Ky realizes the situation. Today is only the beginning. I will try to do my best to use diplomatic means. If not, there is no other way but to struggle with suicide and blood."

PLACES NO DEADLINE

Tam Chau gave no deadline for Ky's resignation, but his talk of more suicides as a means of forcing the United States to withdraw support from Ky indicated the monk was under pressure from extremist members of the Buddhist hierarchy.

The new wave of Buddhist protest suicides were the first immolations since seven monks and nuns burned themselves to death in the months before the overthrow of the late president Ngo Dinh Diem in November, 1963. The new suicides are believed to reflect despair among Buddhist extremists of rallying enough support in the streets to bring down the junta.

While the Buddhists gave their lives in the struggle against their government, the U.S. infantry fought regular North Vietnamese troops near the Cambodian border Sunday, crippling the equivalent of a full battalion.

A U.S. spokesman said 227 North Vietnamese were killed, most of them in fighting that continued until Sunday night in the hills west of Pleiku, 240 miles northeast of Saigon. The Americans took moderate casualties, the spokesman said.

P.E.I. VOTERS DECIDE PENSION BATTLE TODAY

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Following a month-long campaign that developed into a battle of pensions, Prince Edward Island voters today will name the winner.

The voters will choose between Progressive Conservative and Liberal candidates in 15 two-member ridings. Death of a Liberal candidate postponed the election in one constituency until July 11.

The two-party campaign, during which both sides promised to increase old age pension to $100 a month from the present $75, ended Saturday night with Conservative Premier Walter B. Shaw and Liberal Leader Alex B. Campbell speaking at separate rallies in Summerside and both have predicted victories.

The Liberals were reduced to eight seats in the 1959 election when the PCs won 22. They cut the margin to 19-11 in 1962 and to 17-13 with two byelection victories in 1965.

SOFT LANDING OUT

Antenna Fails On Moon Probe

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) A camera-carrying Surveyor spacecraft rocketed toward the moon today, but the possible failure of an antenna to deploy could prevent it from achieving the first U.S. soft landing on the lunar surface.

Surveyor darted into space on schedule at 10:41 a.m. EDT under the thrust of a powerful Atlas-Centaur rocket.

The control centre reported nearly an hour after liftoff that the flight was progressing smoothly but one of two omnidirectional antennas had apparently not extended as planned. The two antennas, located on the end of five-foot extendable booms, are used to receive commands from the ground and to transmit information back.

Robert J. Parks, Surveyor project manager, said the folded antenna could possibly upset the balance of the spacecraft as it attempts to land on the lunar surface, causing it to land improperly.

However, he said, "This does not preclude a possibility of getting a full success out of this mission."

Parks predicted that a delicate mid-course correction could still be achieved.

NEED BOTH ANTENNAS

Both of the antennas are needed to receive signals from the ground, because the spacecraft is spinning. Only or is required to transmit signals.

The unlocking is normally started by the firing of an explosive device when it is about 12 minutes in flight. The spacecraft was speeding along apparently on a proper course.

The use of the two omni-directional antennas is important for a mid-course correction manoeuvre which the spacecraft must make early Tuesday morning to put it on course to its target on the moon—the crater-pitted Ocean of Storms, where American astronauts may explore.

If the complex moonship survives its 63-hour journey, it is to touch down gently on the moon's Ocean of Storms about 1:38 a.m. Thursday.

Surveyor could transmit hundreds of clear closeup pictures and scientific data which could determine whether that area of the moon is safe for manned expeditions. History's first lunar soft-lander, Russia's Luna IX, showed last February that at lease one area is firm enough for landing.

WIRE BRIEFS

Weekend Talks Fail

MONTREAL (CP) — Nine hours of meetings Sunday between representatives of the International Longshoremen's Association (CLC), the Shipping Federation of Canada and Labor Minister Nicholson resulted in no progress toward ending the three-week dockworkers' strike in Quebec, Mr. Nicholson said early today.

Rainstorms Kill 73

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters)—Weekend rainstorms in northeast Brazil caused at least 73 deaths in the cities of Recife and Salvador, the national radio said today.

Narcotics Crackdown

CAIRO (UPI) — The government has launched an all-out campaign against narcotics smugglers following the killing of four security officers and policemen in a desert ambush last Thursday, it was reported today.

Fishboats Bombed

TOKYO (AP) — China has charged that four U.S. planes bombed and strafed six Chinese fishing boats in the Gulf of Tonkin Saturday, killing a fisherman, a fisherwoman and her daughter, and injuring 18 others.

AUTO MECHANIC IGNORES 'TREND' AND HELPS

Crowd of 50 Watch as Crying Boy Burns

NEW YORK (UPI) — An 11-year-old boy grovelled helplessly on the railroad tracks Sunday, vainly trying to extinguish his burning clothes. High above the railroad cut about 50 people stood gaping at him, listening to his screams for help.

No one in the crowd offered to go to the boy's aid.

But for the "uncommon" decency of a young auto mechanic, who ignored the "don't get involved" psychology of the crowd to rescue young Ronnie Perez, the incident might have ended in tragedy.

Ronnie had been playing with some friends on a concrete embankment over the tracks of a Long Island railroad freight yard in Brooklyn. The boy suddenly missed his footing and fell 40 feet to the tracks below. On the way down, Ronnie struck at least one of the 12,000-volt, high-tension lines strung over the yards, setting his clothing ablaze.

Curious passers-by, hearing the crackle of the struck power line, gathered to watch the injured, but still conscious boy, on the tracks, flailing his clothing and crying pitifully.

John Dennis, 28, who began work as an auto mechanic last week at the nearby Blake auto clinic, noticed the crowd and went over to see the cause of the disturbance.

"I don't know why nobody else went to help that kid," Dennis said later. "But when I saw him there, his clothing burning, I knew I had to do something and to do it fast."

Dennis vaulted the fence and ran down a ramp to the track below. Picking up the boy, he began to smother the flames as he carried him up to the street.

"This motorist stopped. We ripped off the burning clothes and wrapped the boy in a garment that was in the car," said Dennis.

The two men then drove Ronnie to Brookdale Hospital, where he was treated for third-degree burns and placed on the critical list.

Mainland Yacht Object of Search

Air-Sea Rescue craft were alerted today to look for the sailboat Yehda, overdue on a weekend trip to the Gulf Islands.

Owner of the 30-foot craft, H. J. Mapzkuhn, of Vancouver, apparently told a neighbor he would be returning Sunday night.

When he failed to return to the Thunderbird Marina, North Vancouver, she alerted the rescue co-ordination centre.

Minor Fined $35 For Having Beer

Joseph Lima, 19, of 2320 Howard, was fined $35 in central court today when convicted of being a minor in possession of liquor.

Police testified they found a case of beer in the accused's car when they stopped it on Broughton Street, May 16.

Diamond Head was leading but had trouble setting her spinnaker and the readjustment gave Long the edge he had been waiting for.

The close finish posed its problem for finisher Neville Life of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. It was so close that he didn't have time to reload his gun and signal Diamond Head's finish before most of the length of her hull was speeding down the Inner Harbor.

In the early hours of the morning, the two first yachts home in the Juan de Fuca race had also fought a close-hauled duel.

FIRST CONTEST

Theo De La Mare, skippering in his first contest, brought his Spencer 35 Tandem home in first place. Shortly after, Doxy II, skippered by Peter Coombs, had gone over the line and captured the trophy for overall handicap winner, wrestling it away from Tandem by two minutes, the time gained through the rating handicap of the two boats.

Challenging weather and sea conditions made both races one that yachtsmen will record in their log books for posterity.

Twenty-nine yachts in the Swiftsure were forced to give up and head for home as masts and rigging crumbled under the force of gale-sized winds. Two RVYC yachts that were among the 'casualties' were Don Lawson's Te-Pah and Roy Denny's T'Solo.

Another of the local entries that came limping home was the Royal Canadian Navy's ketch HMCS Oriole.

MAST SPLIT

The strain and punishment split one of her masts and she was forced to turn her back on the storm that had promised her a fair bid at the chance to be first boat home.

At the start, her master, Lt.-Cmdr. Jim Butterfield, had had to make a quick tack right on the start line which had resulted in her almost being disqualified by fouling a boat. With skill, Butterfield managed to position Oriole and avoid a possible mishap.

The sloop Aphrodite was another to become dismasted and Jolly Peasant, skippered by G. Stewart of the Nanaimo Yacht Club, after doing well, was also stormed out of the race.

Fair winds at the start gave no indication of what was to come as the pack split in two and headed for Canadian and American sides of the strait. When the gale struck, yachts reefed down and pounded through waves that built up to eight and 10 feet.

Just as severly tested were the escort vessels that rolled and reeled as they worked up and down the strait, checking and listing positions and recording each casualty.

Switsure officials had tightened safety regulations even more this year and their decision was justified by the severe testing that made this Swiftsure the tougest in 35 years. The damage which crippled the 29 drop-outs was minor and at no time was there a risk to either yachts or their crews.

BIGGEST SURPRISE

The biggest surprise of the race was the feat of Terna, the 32-foot Discovery sloop of West Vancouver Yacht Club's Per Christoffersen that romped home in grand style and captured the positions of overall winner and first in division four. Launched only six weeks ago, Terna was the smallest yacht in the race.

Other yachts in the Swiftsure finished in this order: Mistral, J. C. Baillargeon, Seattle Yacht Club; Nantuk, W. M. Young, Royal Vancouver Yacht Club; Vrolijk, E. H. Wall, SYC; Jolly Olly, V. Ruskin, Royal Van.; Lancer, N. Larabee, Corinthian Yacht Club.

Ontario To Build Rest Homes

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario government plans to establish a series of small public rest homes to fill the gap between homes for the aged and hospitals.

Welfare Minister Louis Cecile first outlined the proposals before the legislature's select committee on aging last year, when he said the idea was to give special care to persons who no longer require active hospital care.

The capacity of the homes would be limited to 30. They would be built mainly in smaller Ontario centres "in reasonably close proximity to a resident's lifelong place of residence."

While the homes would be mainly for elderly persons, the province doesn't propose to establish an age limit.

Residents would be admitted on a statement by two physicians that they could no longer benefit from active hospital treatment but needed continuous maintenance and support 24 hours a day.

Knepper said:

"The start was all right but some driver made a mistake. It looked like worms crawling through spaghetti."

Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., one of the drivers forced out of the race by the crackup, was unhurt but angry.

"I was right in the middle of all of it," he said. "They were around and in front of me and I think one or two of the fellows used very poor judgment.

"There was nothing I could do. I tried to avoid it at all costs. I could see it coming for weeks. I expected it."

. . . TERNA

His skill as sailmaker was tested to the fullest when the driving Terna split her Genoa, going full pelt. Miller sewed up the all-important sail while she was still set and pulling. Later, when the spinnaker ripped under the strain, he repeated the performance.

Also in Terna's crew were George Mason, Ian Kirkland and Carl Petersen, her builder. All are 'hot' Star competitors.

Christoffersen admits he wouldn't have made his bid for the Swiftsure in his new boat, launched six weeks ago, it it wasn't for the calibre of his crew.

COULDN'T SAY NO

"When Carl came to me and told me the boys were all set to go, I couldn't turn it down. A good crew is half the battle, if not more, in such a race and I knew that Terna had a good chance."

DESIGNER WINS TOO

Terna is the first yacht to be designed by Peter Hadfield, who took his training in Scotland and formerly worked with John Brandlmayr, designer of the Spencers 35 and 42.

A Spencer 35, owned and skippered by Theo De La Mare of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, also showed her ability as an ocean racer by coming first over the finish line in this year's Juan de Fuca race.

Terna has a light displacement hull, fin keel and sharp bow which all helps give her the speed that kept her barrelling along at an approximate seven knots all the way even when the gale-force winds were blowing at 40 and gusting higher.

Her skipper contends: "It was a comfortable ride and attributes this to her wide beam (nine feet, two inches) and her ability to maintain her speed even under heavy reefing.

"We were reefed down most of the night and we still kept gobbling up those miles."

GALLEY CLOSED

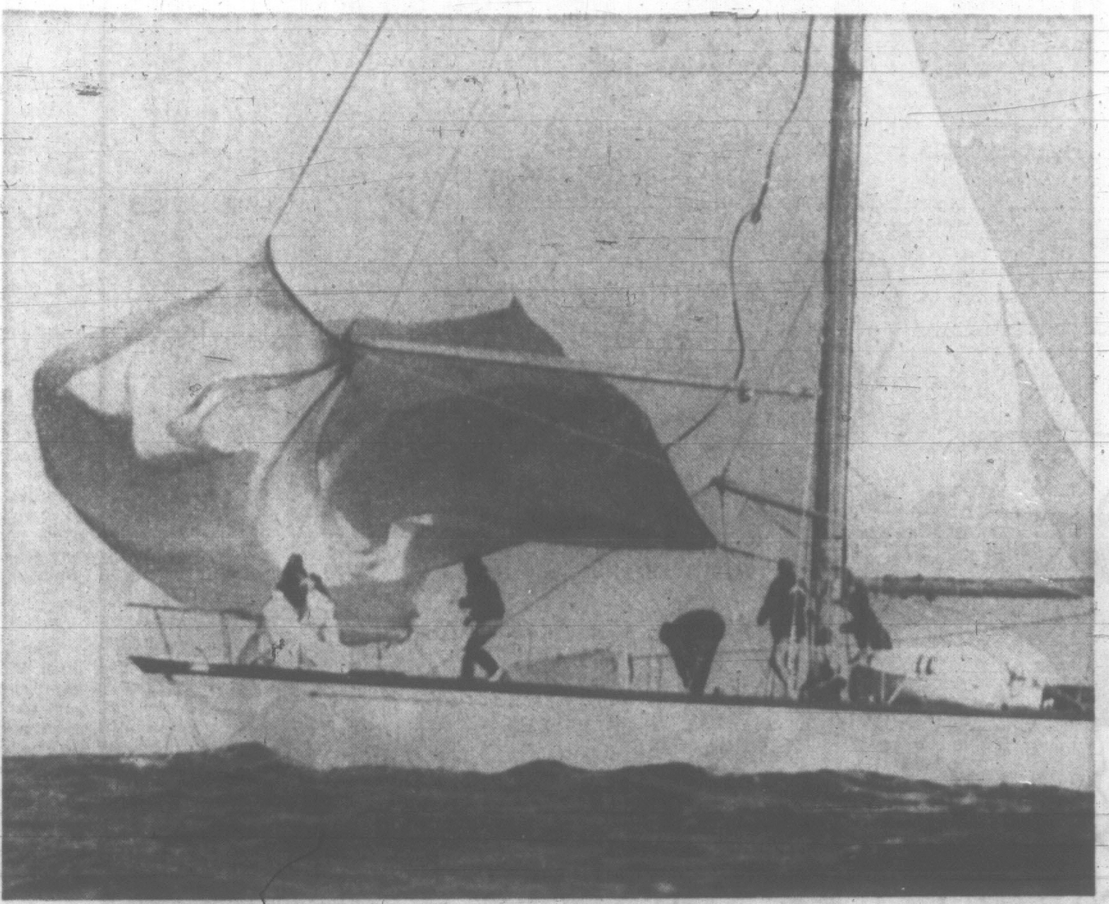
Unlike the larger yachts that dropped out of the race through damaged gear and broken masts, Terna kept her casualty list to a couple of tears and the inability of being able to use the ship's galley.

"It was a minor thing but it meant being unable to cook. But no one's interested in sitting down to a three course meal anyhow!"

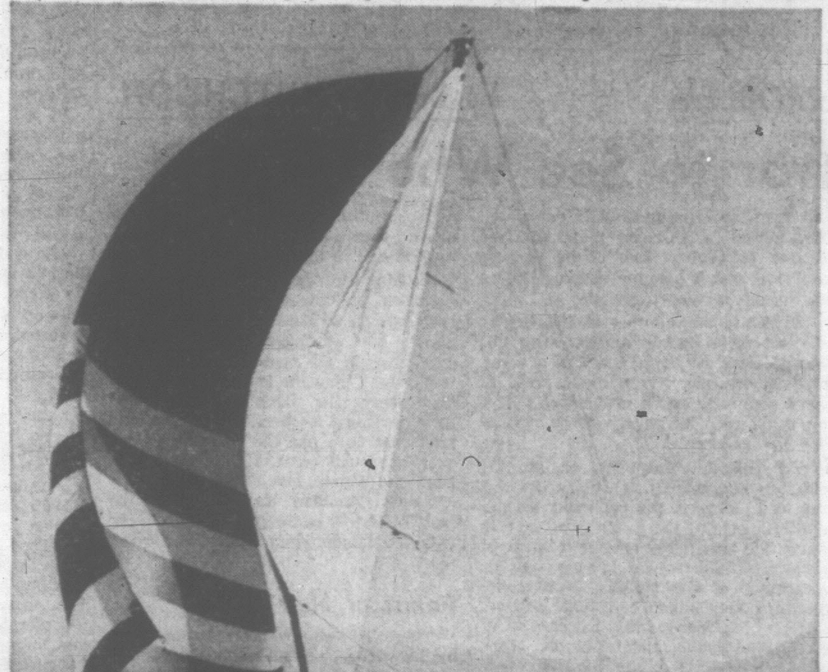
This was Christoffersen's third Swiftsure. He's competed as crew twice before, in John Brandlmayr's Spencer 35 Coho and the Seattle yacht Chinook.

Both he and his wife, Nan hail from Norway, Christoffersen says his initial experience of competition off his old country's shores stood him in good stead this weekend when sea and wind conditions made the Swiftsure the most exciting in the past 30 years.

Having whet his appetite by "coming home with the bacon" Christoffersen is now setting his sights on Norpac, a five-race series for large yachts. It will be sailed off from July 30 to August 7 which averages a course of 20 miles a day, beginning in Barkley Sound and taking in Ucluelet, Tofino and other points and ending at Effingham Island.



THIS WAS THE MOMENT that lost the Diamond Head her chance to cross the line first and capture the City of Victoria trophy. Spinnaker trouble slows her down for the length of a second, the scrap of time that allowed Mary Bower to gain that important five-foot lead.—(James McVie Photo)



SKIPPER and crew of Mary Bower give everything they have as they fight to keep that all-important spinnaker full and pushing. Behind Diamond Head as they came within 100 yards of the finish line, Mary Bower crashed through at the last second to gain a five-foot lead and the City of Victoria Trophy as first home in the Swiftsure classic. IMPOSES BAN ON MIND DRUG

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California today becomes the first state in the U.S. to clamp controls on the fantasy-producing drug LSD. Governor Edmund G. Brown explained a prime aim is to protect "young thrill-seekers."

The bill makes unauthorized possession or knowing use of the drug a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum fine of $1,000 or a year in county jail.

Illegal manufacture, possession for the purpose of sale, or sale of LSD is a felony bringing penalties of one to five years imprisonment for the first offence and two to 10 years for repeated lawbreaking.

Witnesses before legislative committees said LSD is being bootlegged for $5 to $10 a dose at high schools and colleges.

Puzzle: Whose War?

THE WESTERNER'S SMALL hope of understanding Vietnamese politics is further diminished by the addition of religious overtones in periods of crisis. The situation in South Viet Nam today exhibits many parallels to that which immediately preceded the fall of the Diem government and the subsequent succession of short-lived, usually military, regimes.

Buddhist opposition to Premier Ky and the religious leaders' obvious efforts to involve the United States in their cause have brought the South Vietnamese political pot again to boiling point. Premier Ky's promise to hold elections by next September, and his later statement which apparently indicated that he intended to hang on to power for at least another year, have given his Buddhist opponents a peg on which to hang their latest policy of violence.

The Buddhist leaders are reputedly skilled politicians, but the addition of self-immolation as a political lever to force President Johnson to declare himself in the war-within-a-war is enough to baffle any Western observer.

Some aspects, however, are clear enough. The split in the South Vietnamese military forces, even though ostensibly healed at the moment, is believed to have seriously weakened the anti-Communist war effort. One American observer has estimated that up to two-thirds of the army is now of questionable loyalty. And United States field commanders note that American troops are now taking the brunt of the fighting—a development reflected in their rising casualty figures.

Politically, the base from which the United States forces are fighting has turned to shifting sand. If Premier Ky is sustained the Americans will be blamed by his political foes. If he is deposed, the Buddhist-led regime which would replace him would have obvious anti-American elements in it.

But the chaotic state of South Vietnamese politics cannot be wholly blamed on the presence of American forces in the country. There are so many diverse elements—religious, racial, political, economic—that any situation lacking a strong and unassailable ruler would seem destined to crumble before long. In the absence of the Americans, the X-quantity might well be represented by a strong Communist core within the country, which in a short time would either control or constitute the government.

That is a prospect which Washiington has constantly in mind. But there is also the possibility, as a result of declining to take sides in the current internal struggle, that the United States may emerge with no solid body of support at all within the country. American forces would be left in the position simply of an army of invasion—an evolution of status which would have very definite repercussions at home.

It's Time the Twain Did Meet

IN an editorial entitled "Who's in Charge Here." The Globe and Mail of Toronto last week wondered how it was that the Western provinces, notably British Columbia, have managed to arrange so many deals with Japan involving both trade and capital investment which are seemingly beyond the ability of Ottawa to control or regulate.

What set the Toronto newspaper off was the current visit to Japan of Alberta's Premier Manning, who has seen what happened in this province as a result of Japanese interest and is looking for a slice of the same. Mr. Manning, The Globe and Mail notes, "has promised that Alberta will buy more manufactured goods from Japan, apparently ignoring the convention that it is Ottawa that negotiates the so-called voluntary quotas by which Japan limits its exports of sensitive goods to Canada."

It is only necessary to translate "sensitive goods" into basic English meaning goods which are manufactured in Eastern Canada and sold in the West to understand why The Globe and Mail is so concerned. In confirmation of this translation, the editorial says further on: ". . . it is perhaps significant that in making purchases of heavy machinery for both the Peace and Columbia dam and power projects, British Columbia invited Japanese tenders and that these tenders were frequently successful (to the accompaniment of some Eastern Canadian grumbling that the voluntary quota system should be used to diminish such unwarranted competition)."

The Toronto newspaper's view that foreign trade is a federal field and that the provinces should not be displacing Ottawa's formal jurisdiction over it is quite correct. But just as certainly Western Canada, if it is to attain its full economic growth, cannot be held back by Eastern Canadian business, finance and industry which have to varying degrees been sheltered by protective tariffs from foreign competition. There is hardly a Westerner who wouldn't "Buy Canadian" on a basis of equal quality — provided the price was competitive. But there is also a strong and growing feeling among Westerners — based on 100 years of commercial domination of the West by the East — that it is up to Easterners to prove that they deserve to hold their markets here.

It has now become customary for the boards of directors of large Canadian firms to meet in various Western centres once a year and comment glowingly of the great future of this part of the nation.

But unless such sentiments are given concrete form, such as investment in productive facilities or attempts to be more competitive in price with foreign goods, they can be dismissed as little more than an exercise in public relations.

The Globe and Mail notes the "comparatively unfettered fashion in which the Western provinces have romped into trade agreements with Japan" and asks, "But what does it all bode for federal control of the economy?"

It will not affect federal control at all. The federal government can always impose regulations on imports, and importers in this province, whether governmental or private, will comply. But both the federal government and the eastern interests whose concern is expressed by the Globe and Mail should remember that purchases from Japan also mean Canadian sales to that country. That's not a bad bodement.

High Seas and High Sport

AS IF IN ANSWER TO THE many occasions on which yachtsmen have complained of calms and doldrums, the unpredictable Strait of Juan de Fuca this year provided Swiftsure contestants with all the whitecaps and green water they could handle. Both the major race and the shorter event for smaller boats became stern tests of seamanship and seaworthiness as winds up to full gale proportions sent a record number of graceful hulls driving over the courses.

It is this element of never quite knowing what to prepare for, and the knowledge that whatever it is it will call for the best efforts of crews and boats, that has helped to raised the Swiftsure to the position of one of the most popular yachting events in the Pacific Northwest.

To the local enthusiasts who each year devote many hours to the excellent arrangements; to the participating yachtsmen, both local and visiting, whose sportsmanship and sailing abilities are major factors in each year's success, congratulations are due. This community, always partial to boats and ships of all kinds and sizes, welcomes the annual event as a fine feature with which to be associated.

To this year's winners go congratulations, particularly to the overall winners: Mr. Christofferson's "Terna" from West Vancouver, and Mr. Coombs' "Doxy II" from RVYC. These were well in the tradition of the Swiftsure.

"Not thataway, thisaway!"

THE REAL CANADIAN PROBLEM

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Look in a Mirror to See Who Made It

Hutchison

MOST of the politicians, the newspapers and the nameless people all over the country seem to agree on one simple proposition, and one only. The nation's Parliament, they say, will never work satisfactorily until Mr. Pearson and Mr. Diefenbaker have left it. Even though this is generally believed, it may still be true. But surely it is not the whole truth? There must be other matters of substance to consider, if we had the courage to consider them. Instead, we concentrate our minds on the failings of two men because we are unwilling to face questions that neither of them, nor any politicians, can possibly answer.

We excuse our own failings, the nation's true dilemma, by blaming individuals who, though assuredly blamable, are rather unimportant in the scheme of things — brief phenomena and birds of swift passage soon to disappear into the history books.

Not long from now the nation will live under different leaders. Can a sensible Canadian suppose that the arrival of a Sharp, a Hellyer or a Winters, a Robarts, a Roblin or a Hees, will solve anything important? Nevertheless, that seems to be an almost unamimous assumption among a people more mesmerized than the Russians and Chinese by the cult of personality.

Naive

Indeed, we are even more naive than the Russians and the Chinese. They worship distinguished and proved personalities who clawed their way to the top. In Canada it is assumed that any leader, no matter who he is, will be better than those we have now. Anyone will do, provided that he is untested and his capacities unknown. Ours is a new theory of politics, the cult of impersonality.

The fact that the nation has been unable to come to terms with its political system is only part of a larger fact — that it has been unable to come to terms with itself. Our confused politics perfectly reflect our own confusion, of which Mr. Pearson and Mr. Diefenbaker are accurate symbols.

All nations are in a similar state, more or less. So we shouldn't be too discouraged about Canada. True enough, some other nations have strong governments, as we have not, but the strongest among them are making a pretty bad mess of their affairs.

President Johnson, for example, is a man of extraordinary inner strength, yet his country faces perhaps the gravest and certainly the most complicated problems since its civil war. President de Gaulle is the archetype of the strong man, yet his country is squandering its genius, its treasure and its friendships on a fatal illusion of non-existent power and will reap the consequences in due time. Mr. Wilson is a strong man, too, yet Britain is solving none of its deepest problems and is steadily slipping behind its European competitors.

Evidently strong men of themselves are not the complete answer after all. The yearning for them, the hope of some magical saviour, the pathetic trust in some easy way out, a grand jack pot, if we could only hit on it —these notions are for children.

The bland assurances of all the official communiques, the bronzed Texas grin of a Johnson, the comically solemn mutterings from the great stone face in Paris, the laboriously contrived image of a prime minister in London as the apotheosis of the simple, tweedy, no-nonsense Englishman and John Bull incarnate, the ingratiating boyishness of a Canadian prime minister or Mr. Diefenbaker's favorite role as the Hollywood heavy and tragedian of amateur night—these public postures are necessary, no doubt, to keep our spirits up but they unlock no riddle, answer no significant question.

Outside Politics

In fairness to the lost Canadian politicians it should be understood that the real riddles and answers lie outside politics altogether. The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, or in our star actors, but in ourselves. Yet that is the last place we ever look. It is so much less disagreeable to condemn someone else and the politicians are shining targets. The clumsiest archer can hit them. Any fool, who has made a wreck of his own life, can denounce a Pearson or a Diefenbaker for wrecking our public life and every fool is doing it, with fine, patriotic frenzy.

This Canadian voodooism reaches its logical climax when a poor lunatic tries to blow up Parliament and replace it with a Leader, a native Fuehrer, but only manages to blow himself up — a parable well worth thinking about. Many nations, more skilful with bombs, have blown themselves up by the same method and in the same vain hope.

Looking to politicians for instant salvation on the cheap, we put our problems backwards. What this country needs, we all agree, is a greater excellence in all aspects of life, but it won't come from the gaudy magic of the state where the witch doctors, behind their paint and feathers, are puzzled and frightened men like the rest of us. Such excellence will come, if it ever comes, from the bottom, not the top, from the ordinary Canadian household and the daily behaviour of the private citizen, not from the cabinet chamber and the brains trust.

Pangs of New Age

There is some comfort however, in the knowledge that all nations suffer the same birth pangs as a new age struggles to be born, and suffer, above all, what the younger generation is pleased to call the death of God. This supposed death, recurring in all past cultures once they were tired and over-ripe, is the central facet of ours, or the central fallacy, depending on one's own judgment. From the resulting bewilderment flow many strange forces, including among others the real Canadian dilemma, as disguised by the temporary political dilemma.

Concerning which the celebrated psychologist, Dr. Eric Fromm, recently uttered a shaking observation. "What we confront now," he said, "is the possibility that man is dead, transformed into a thing, a producer, a consumer, an idolator of other things." If we have decided in Canada that God as well as our Parliament is dead without any substitute for the moment, let us remember that Messrs. Pearson and Diefenbaker didn't kill Him. And their successors, however able, won't change us and the nation basically in the least, for that is a strictly personal, do-it-yourself job, beyond the reach of government.

Forgotten Port

Upon reading the news report on "Bennett Offers To Buy CN Line" in your edition of May 25, I would like to point out that some of Mr. Bennett's remarks were a bit confusing to those conversant with the northern part of our province.

In speaking of Prince Rupert being the closest port to Japan and the key to the Orient, and further stating Prince Rupert is closer to the Orient than any other Pacific port by two whole days, I think he has overlooked another "forgotten port" besides Prince Rupert.

The port of Stewart, B.C., while not right on the Pacific, is situated at the head of Portland Canal which opens off the Pacific. This canal provides a landlocked deep-sea body of water and provides a harbor at Stewart, open the year around to navigation. It is also one day's sailing closer to the Orient than any other port on the Paciifc.—N. H. Smith, 919 Vancouver St.

Tribute

The late Mr. W. C. Duncan, a native-born Victorian who was proud of his Scottish origins, leaves a host of friends and admirers to mourn the passing of so vital a personality at the peak of his productive energies and community involvement.

The world of music and books and speculation was an inseparable part of this man but he was also at home in the outdoors and had a great love for the sea and for nautical lore. His career afloat began at the age of seventeen when he first shipped out to Shanghai as a messenger boy. Later he joined the Royal Canadian Navy and found opportunities to work in areas of special concern to him, such as rehabilitation therapy and hospital administration. Perhaps his most outstanding characteristic, to those who knew him well, was his acute social conscience. His compassion for his fellow men and women, particularly the aged and chronically ill, has been vividly demonstrated during these past three years while he has served in the capacity of institutional placement officer with the Victoria Social Welfare Department.

He had faith and he had vision and if he had not been cut down in his prime he would have continued to draw on all resources available, both personal and external, to further his work toward the goals he so fervently believed in—M. E. O'Grady, 2660 Currie Rd.

BBC News

Have your readers noticed the trend towards the suppression of news from the United Kingdom by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation?

For years past we have received the excellent British Broadcasting Corporation's world-wide news service every morning here in Victoria. Now the CBC has suppressed it on Sunday mornings in order to make room for a repetitious and uninteresting recapitulation of stale happenings. Repeated protests on my part to the CBC have produced only the all-too-familiar public relations apologetics.—A. C. Cummings, 890 Heywood.

Frost Warning

During this past month and the night of May 26, in particular, we in the greater Victoria area have been subjected to many heavy frosts. This morning, May 27, there was a thick coating of ice on our bird bath and my early potatoes, tomatoes, and beans were blackened.

With all our so called up-to-date methods of weather forecasting, is it not possible for our meteorlogical service to give some indication when there is a danger of frosts at this time of year.

Our present temperature forecasts from Gonzales may be good for tourists, but for us who keep the economy of Victoria going all year round they are of little use.

I am sure many avid gardeners like myself would certainly appreciate a service of this kind which I consider is long overdue.—A. C. Setterfield (Major, Retired), 1285 Reynolds Rd.

FROM HONG KONG

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Wheels Within Wheels at Peking

Alsop

AT no time in the past ten years, has the community of students of China been so stirred and alerted by developments on the mainland. A vast, quite possibly bloody drama is clearly beginning to unfold in the somber twilight of the aged, ailing Mao Tse-Tung. For one called home abruptly at the close of the second act of the latest drama in Viet Nam, as this reporter has been, it is a wonderful corrective to learn of this other drama's startling progress. And maybe the strange facts will help other Americans to put the news from Saigon and Danang and Hue into better proportion.

The surface facts are curious enough. Briefly, the campaign against certain allegedly revisionist intellectuals has reached a pitch of ferocity in the past fortnight that is without any recent precedent. Grim warnings have begun to appear, moreover, that Wu Han, Teng To and other publicly named sinners have enjoyed the "support" and "protection" of much more highly placed persons.

The language, the tone, the accusations all indicate an atmosphere like that created by the In Kao Kang in the early 1950s. Even today, the exact crimes of Kao Kang are not altogether clear. It is only clear that as Mao's viceroy of Manchuria, Kao Kang was one of the three or four most powerful men in China, and that his career nonetheless ended with his alleged "suicide" which was announced in 1953.

Judging by the connections of those now under public attack, the new Kao Kang may well be the enormously powerful mayor of Peking, Pen Chen — as has already been suggested. Since Pen Chen used to be regarded as one of the two probable heirs apparent, the other being Teng Hsiao-Ping, any crisis centering upon him is bound to be profoundly convulsive.

Beneath Surface

If one looks beneath the surface, however, the facts become even more curious. To begin with, it is now being publicly intimated that Mao Tse-Tung's more paranoid policies have repeatedly encountered strong and widespread oppostion within the Party over a considerable period of time.

Wu Han, for example, is being denounced for publishing a laudatory account, in June, 1959, of an ancient Chinese dignitary who "censured the emperor." The implication, of course, is that this was intended to encourage censure of Emperor Mao.

Again, it is charged that in 1961, when the "right" opportunists, whom the Party had dismissed from office after Lushan were agitating for a review of their cases, Wu Han once more came to their support. Lushan, it should be explained, was the meeting at which the army commander, Marshal Peng Teh-Huai, led a bold attack on Mao's lunatic "Great Leap Forward."

Marshal Peng was rewarded for his common sense with dismissal and disgrace; and the present army commander, Marshal Lin Piao replaced him, with the chief of secret police, General Lo Jui-Ching as the new chief of staff. But after the catastrophic failure of the Great Leap Forward, it is now clear that the Great Leap's opponents tried for a come-back.

No Monolith

The picture that emerges is necessarily conjectural. But it is now extremely reasonable to conjecture that the pragmatic, or anti-paranoid faction in the Chinese Party, probably led by Pen Chen and perhaps aided by Lo Jui-Ching, made a preventive attempt to gain power when it began to appear that Mao had reached the end of the road.

It is also reasonable to conjecture that Mao unexpectedly came back to life and partial health just soon enough to frustrate this bid by the party's pragmatists.

For the time being, therefore, it would appear that the Chinese Party's paranoid faction is in the saddle. Judging by the language being used, a blood-purge may well be on the way. As already sugested, too, Marshal Lin Piao may well be Mao's immediate successor.

Yet how provisional and almost frenetic all this appears, if you think about it. For if Lo Jui-Ching is implicated, then the whole vast body of the secret police, whom he has controlled from the revolution, can no longer be considered fully trustworthy. Within the army, too, Marshal Peng Teh-Huai is just as likely to prove to have strong sympathizers.

Above all, if even the highest party leadership is riddled with differences and full of people wanting to return to common sense, what are the chances that Mao's brand of Communism will long survive the death of Mao?

DENNIS THE MENACE

"...AN' A SHOT FOR MEASLES, AN' A SHOT FOR CHICKEN POX, AN' A SHOT FOR POYO. AN' IF YOU'RE STILL ALIVE AFTER THAT, YOU'LL NEVER GET SICK!"

Looking Back

From the Times of May 30, 1906:

MADRID: An attempt on the lives of King Alfonso of Spain and his bride, Queen Victoria, was definitely made yesterday here. A bomb was thrown at the royal party, wounding an equerry and killing a child and two horses. The king and his queen escaped unhurt. A 14-year-old boy has been arrested.

It is further stated that the king and queen behaved with great calmness and that after the delay caused by the concussion proceeded to the palace.

Peers Take a Look At 'Hell-Fire' State

By NORMAN SHRAPNEL
Manchester Guardian

The House of Lords last Thursday turned to gambling, not for the first time in their ancestral lives, but the place looked considerably less dashing than the notorious eighteenth century Hell Fire Club.

Lady Wootton was sitting primly on the Woolsack, and none of the bishops appeared in any immediate moral danger of losing their cathedral bells, as King Henry VIII is reputed to have done, on a turn of the dice. It was soon apparent, in fact, that most of the peers had come along to discourage gambling rather than promote it.

There was plenty to discourage. We have now not a Hell Fire Club but a Hell Fire State. It was generally agreed that, with a total turnover of £1,000 millions and betting shops now around the 16,000 mark, and still rapidly increasing, this is our most spectacular growth industry.

Nobody was boasting. In fact, Lord Longford, at the government dispatch box, was so worried about how our recent legislation has worked out, and particularly about the contemptuous way in which gambling club proprietors are dodging the rules, that he foresaw a decisive tightening of the law.

Intimidation and blackmail, mentioned by one speaker after another, were also in Lord Longford's mind.

"The situation," he firmly declared, "cries out for remedy."

It seems we may get it some time soon. For Lord Longford mentioned the need for proper public supervision and for a law flexible enough to stamp out new abuses as they arise. Probably there would have to be "some sytem of licensing or registration or both."

Lord Stonham later confirmed that the Government does intend to act. But not this session.

People want to gamble — this their Lordships faced.

Gambling Habit

One speaker, Lork Kilbracken, expressed the dilemma most eloquently by calling himself a compulsive gambler who was at the same time well aware of "the completely disintegrating effect gambling can have."

Apparently, he ran a book while still at Eton; and although he managed to lose on it, and get a caning into the bargain, the lure survived.

Lord Kilbracken gave some startling examples of what goes on in London, which now seems to be turning Las Vegas into a rather sedate back number.

Many Americans are now being flown here, with all expenses paid, simply for a week's gambling. You can now chance your arm and your bank account, it seems, on almost every game of hazard that exists.

Including politics. This was a special anxiety to Lord Wade, who hated to see a general election becoming a punters' field day.

The betting on the last election ran into millions, and Lord Wade's fear seems to be that the studied placing of bets in marginal constituencies may ultimately win and lose elections.

Nobody mentioned Caligula's horse, which won without a single bet or a single vote.

Planning Rescues In Space

By JOHN G. NORRIS

NEW YORK — What will happen if the American astronauts' good luck runs out and they encounter trouble in orbit on a future space mission that cannot be corrected?

Air Force and space industry engineers admitted to the Aero-Space Writers Association here that there is no way to save them at present and that there won't be during this decade without a crash effort to build a space rescue system.

But the experts did unveil some of the plans for an effective space rescue program that has been partly underway in recent years to bring astronauts back from orbit alive.

General Electric has developed an "emergency cocoon" — a sort of inflatable lifeboat or shelter in which an astronaut could survive if trouble in his space ship forces him to bail out. Another space ship would then come up and get him.

For Re-Enetry

Another is called the "MOOSE" also devised by General Electric. It stands for Manned Orbital Operations Safety Equipment and it is an erectable one-man re-entry vehicle for emergency return to earth.

Two major features of MOOSE, G.E.'s Harold L. Blum told newsmen, are a foldable heat shield and a polyurethane foam structure which forms a capsule around the astronaut and insulates and supports him during reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

These and other space rescue plans — about which almost nothing previously had been released — were disclosed by a panel of government and industry officials here.

T. J. Gordon of Douglas Aircraft described his company's program to compartmentalize spacecraft, with water-tight doors and air locks. A fire in one compartment could be snuffed out by shutting off the oxygen. Douglas also is working on plans for larger space stations that would carry Gemini or Apollo crafts as "life boats."

Famous Last Words

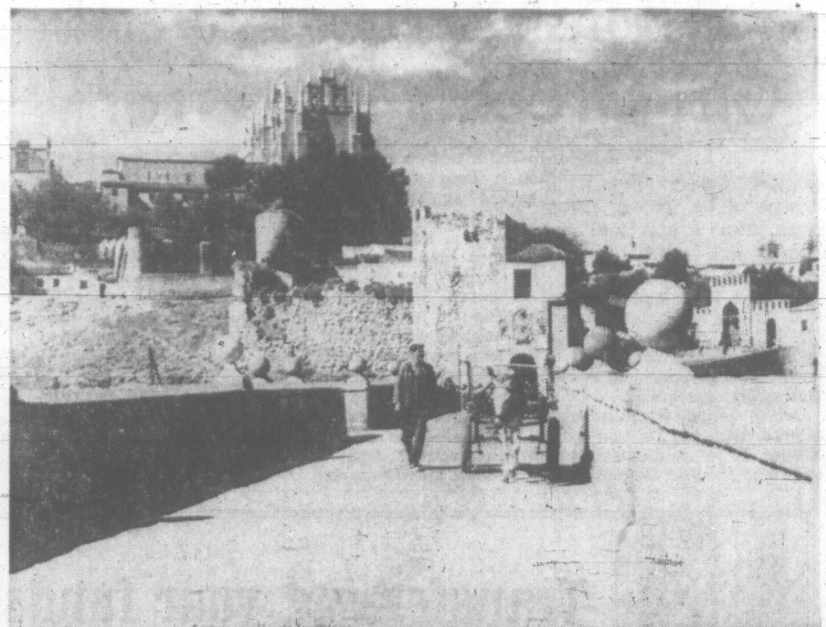
Dag Hammarskjold (1905-1961)

The diplomat's diary began:

"Tomorrow we shall meet,
"Death and I—
"And he shall thrust his sword into one who is wide awake."

The last entry before the fatal African plane crash:

"Is it a new country
"In another world of reality
"Than Day's?
"Or did I live there
"Before Day was?"



Backward and still medieval in many respects, Spain is slowly moving into the 20th century but not without great difficulties. Dictator General Francisco Franco still holds power through the police, but another of his bulwarks, the Church, is slowly shifting away from him as the result of a new concern for social justice among the lower clergy, encouraged by the new liberal spirit which has come from the Vatican Conference. The scene above is in the old city of Toledo where things have changed little in hundreds of years.

Franco May Be Facing His 'Moment of Truth'

THE ECONOMIST
By Special Correspondent

MADRD—For more than one Hispanic dictator the moment of truth came when he lost the goodwill of the Roman Catholic Church.

The church has been a pillar of General Franco's regime for more than a quarter of a century. But Catholic goodwill for the regime was dented on May 11 by the truncheons of the Barcelona police. A member of the civil governor's staff admitted a "crisis" in relations with the lower clergy.

The crisis began when a hundred priests held a silent procession in the centre of Barcelona in protest against the alleged ill-treatment of imprisoned students.

Not First Time

This was not the first time priests had demonstrated in public against actions of the Franco regime. Last year Catalan priests assembled outside a law court in Madrid, and Basque priests handed out leaflets in the centre of Bilbao. But then the police merely kept an eye on them and the press carried no mention of either affair.

The latest ecclesiastical demonstrators were savagely charged by truncheon-wielding policemen, who injured about ten of them; the controlled press and radio reported that a number of priests had been "dispersed."

Hit Back

At once the priests hit back with a weapon that embarrassed the Archbishop of Barcelona, who is criticized by the junior clergy for his "servility" to the regime, as much as the civil authorities: a demand that the offending policemen be excommunicated—which would involve their dismissal, since only a practising Catholic may be a policeman or civil servant in Spain.

In making their demand, the priests invoked article 2343 of canon law which declares that any person who strikes a member of the clergy is liable to excommunication. Some priests argue that this article also applies to the civil governor of Barcelona, who is generally believed to have ordered the police to take stern action against them.

It is known that the "socio-political" sections of the police in Barcelona and other large Spanish cities are uneasy about the evolution of the regime and more than usually short-tempered.

In principle, the police are required to break up all unauthorized meetings and demonstrations; in fact, a few well-connected groups are being allowed a lengthening amount of rope—but nobody tells the officer on duty until he cracks down on the wrong target.

GEN. FRANCO

Despite the Concordat, and despite appearances, anticlericalism is strong in the police, the Falange, the sindicatos (official unions) and other ancillaries of the regime; the fact that "certain priests and Catholic movements flirt with the opposition while sleeping with the government" is resented by many officials.

Denunciation

The police are one of the few remaining strongholds of falangist indoctrination in Spain; and falangists are loud in their denunciation of the "separatist" Catalan clergy.

As they see it, the Catalans were disillusioned by the Vatican's collaboration with General Franco in silencing the out-spoken Abbot of Montserrat. After his declaration that "the Spanish regime calls inself Christian but fails to respect the basic principles of Christianity," the abbot was called to Italy and given a temporary mission that looks like occupying him for the rest of his life.

The abbot's sermons and interviews had made him the unofficial leader of the Catalan regionalist movement. After his departure many Catalanistas, feeling let down by the Vatican, broke away from the church, and anticlerical leaflets appeared in Barcelona.

Anti-Clericalism

Falangists suggest that the Catalan clergy fear a recrudescence in the future of the anti-clerical violence that has scarred Catalonia more than once in the past: hence the efforts of the priesthood to recapture the leadership of the Catalan opposition at all costs.

If —, as there is reason to believe — this view is held by senior Barcelona police officers, and possibly by the civil governor, who is also provincial chief of the Falange, it may help to explain the contempt and anger with which the priests were assaulted.

There is a grain of truth in the falangist interpretation of the Catalan clergy's motives, but it is an oversimplification.

The upper and lower clergy of Spain inhabit two different worlds. At the bottom of the scale, in most parishes, priests live much the same kind of material life as is experienced by the mass of the population.

Born Poor

Many parish priests, born into poor families, went — or were sent — into a seminary to ease the economic burden on their parents, not becuse they felt an overpowering vocation. Their vocation came later, and with it a sense of the need to say more about life than what happens after it.

In Catalonia and the Basque country — less hidebound socially, and livelier intellectually, than many other parts of Spain, and where people are stimulated by the challenge of preserving their regional culture — the junior clergy have few political inhibitions.

At the moment many of them are reading the third volume of "El Catolicismo y la Cruzada de Franco," by the Basque priest "Juan de Iturralde," supplies of which are now filtering through the customs in ecclesiastical trunks.

Severe Critics

Their criticism of their bishops is often severe; their influence among Catholic laymen it growing.

"In the past," one of them said recently, "the church gave the impression that, while it was always ready to meet the rich and powerful half-way, it insisted that the poor and underprivileged come to it, as if in an act of unconditional surrender. Today it must go out and meet the under-privileged halfway."

That, in a sense, was what those Catalan priests were doing.

South African Judiciary Rebuked for Its Silence

By STANLEY UYS

CAPE TOWN — The South African judiciary has come under criticism for failing to speak out against laws which offend against moral values.

In Cape Town last week a former Opposition MP, J. Hamilton Russell, said: "Our judges have set high standards of probity in the administration of justice. The public has had faith in them. This will change if, by their silence and lack of criticism they seem to accept if not inadvertently approve, the arbitrary rules and extreme laws which it is their duty to interpret in the courts.

"As I see it, there is no obligation in a judge to remain silent if in his opinion the law he interprets is a negation of the rule of law and endangers the liberty (or life, or sanity) of the subject.

Moral Duty

"I believe the courts have a moral duty to condemn such laws. If is clear to a judge that while he is interpreting a law he is not administering justice in terms of the rule of law, he should say so.

"Our judges should not allow their minds to be conditioned by the incessant claims of the government that the present state of the country necessitates arbitrary emergency laws to preserve 'law and order,' or that the perpetual state of emergency declared by the government amounts to a 'state of war'."

Mr. Russell, who resigned from the opposition United Party in protest against its attitude to the Verwoerd government's 90-day detention law, is a member now of the executive of the Progressive Party.

The other criticism of the judiciary comes from Professor A. S. Mathews, professor of law in the University of Natal, and Professor R. C. Albino, professor of psychology in the same university, in an article in the South African Law Journal on the 90-day and 180-day detention laws.

Answer Plain

They write: "It may be argued that it would be wrong for judges to have regard for what appear to be political values. The answer to such an argument is plain. The ideal of which we speak is part of the woof and warp of Roman Dutch law, and it can surely never be wrong for a judge to give effect to the very spirit of that great legal system unless Parliament forbids him to do so in clear and unambiguous terms.

"In recent years, the courts have interpreted laws which have cried out for one of those resounding defences of individual liberty in the dignified and majestic language in which judges sometimes speak. But the opportunity has been passed by.

"There is another reason why faith in the courts has been dangerously weakened. Men have over the years looked to the courts for protection of basic rights. In South Africa the courts have had to enforce and apply a heavy program of laws which deny basic rights. We are not concerned now with the reasons for the laws, but merely with the fact that the courts have become an instrument for what many people regard as oppressive legislation. This is not the fault of the courts, but it is hard to deny that our courts have not shown themselves to be the reluctant, or even faintly troubled, instruments of the enforcement."

Barbarism

The authors discuss the holding of detainees in solitary confinement and state "there can be little doubt that solitary confinement for a prolonged period may be a dangerous and barbarous punishment."

Two 90-day detainees committed suicide while in detention, and a number of others were committed to mental institutions from which they were later discharged.

The authors refer to a case involving a detainee, in which the judge asked: "Did Parliament intend that in the furtherance of the object of inducing the detainee to speak, the continued detention should be as effective as possible, subject only to considerations of humanity as generally accepted in a civilized country?" They comment: "These words show that the court assumed, without much self-questioning, that imprisonment in solitary confinement, without reading matter and writing materials, is in accordance with the considerations of humanity."

Doubt Confessions

The authors think that "little reliance" should be placed on the prescribed weekly visits of magistrates to detainees, and they warn against the reliability of confessions and admissions extracted under conditions of detention in solitary confinement.

Referring to a case in which the court "correctly" found that aged African parents — one of whom was blind — had no legal right to live with their son in a location, the authors pose the question: "Should it not have added words of disapproval, or even a request for official alleviation, or an expression of concern? (this is but one example of inexplicable silence.)"

Soviet Scientists Find New Chemical Element

WASHINGTON — Doubts now have vanished that Soviet scientists have produced a chemical element 104—the first man-made chemical element discovered by the Russians and the first discovered outside the United States.

Tentative Russian plans are to call the new element Kurchatovium after the late Igor Kurchatov, "father" of Russia's hydrogen bomb.

Late in 1964 the Russians announced they had found evidence for the existence of element 104. When first reported, most other scientists expressed doubt largely because the Russian evidence was based on physical measurements and not chemical identification, which is the classical method for new element claims.

Now, however, more evidence including some chemical studies have accumulated to remove almost all doubt over the Russian claim.

The Russians have not yet sought to publicize their achievement or to seek formal international recognition of their claim. One reason is the Russians recall the scientific imbroglio over the discovery of element 102.

In 1957, a team of scientists working in Sweden claimed to have discovered 102. But confirmation from other laboratories was not forthcoming.

Indeed, it was during the confirmatory experiments that element 102 actually was discovered by scientists at the University of California Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, which has played a key role in the discovery of all man-made or transuranium elements.

Now the Russians apparently are waiting confirmation of their discovery from experiments being carried out at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory.

Political Realities Force Delay on 'Inner Cabinet'

By GERALD WARING

OTTAWA — The first time I recall Prime Minister Pearson having plugged the idea of a small "inner" cabinet was soon after he took office three years ago. He has mentioned the idea more than once since then, mostly recently in the Commons last week. His failure to proceed with the plan suggests that he has failed to solve the practical problems raised by such basic reorganization.

Waring

Or to put it another way, it suggests that the political disadvantages at this time of shaky Liberal hold on power outweigh the administrative advantages. Had the Liberals received a majority last November Mr. Pearson might have been influenced to go ahead. But now, and with Mr. Pearson's tenure of office not likely to continue beyond this Parliament, it's rather late in the day for this particular prime minister to remake the executive in the British mold.

* * *

Indeed, Mr. Pearson made it clear in his comments to the House that no immediate action is under consideration. But, he said, "as government business continues to increase . . . it may be necessary to increase the number of ministers." Then he added "it will perhaps become necessary to introduce a system into our governmental structure by which we will have ministers in the cabinet and ministers who only attend cabinet meetings when subjects of direct responsibility and interest to them are being considered."

"This would mean that the cabinet itself would be smaller and that there would be a number of ministers who would not automatically be members of the cabinet," he explained.

In lieu of implementing this reorganization long ago, Mr. Pearson tried another method of increasing executive efficiency. He set up a number of standing cabinet committees to which cabinet matters in specified categories are referred for consideration and recommendation to full cabinet. While this arrangement has been helpful, it still does not blast out the bottleneck of ultimate decision by 25 men and one woman.

The nature of the bottleneck is the time required to get 26 more or less strong-willed ministers with widely-different regional responsibilities to agree on policies and courses of action. One minister confessed to me that projects with which he wants to proceed are held up almost interminably by inability to get decisions out of cabinet.

* * *

Mr. Pearson's "inner cabinet" plan would automatically ease this bottleneck. Cabinet as a decision-making body might then be no more than 10 or 12 men, with the remainder of the ministers being left with departmental administration, participating in cabinet decisions only when their departments' activities were involved.

Mr. Pearson's inner cabinet, if he named one, would comprise those already recognized as the chief ministers: Martin, Sharp, Winters, Favreau, Marchand, Pickersgill, MacEachen and perhaps Cardin and Greene. The power of government would be concentrated in their hands. Ten men plus the PM—and only two of them from outside the central provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

What has stayed Mr. Pearson's hand, I suspect, is the belief that an Ontario-Quebec inner cabinet running the country would be resented in the outer provinces, with harm to national unity and the Liberals' political future.

DATSUN 1600
New Model Outperforms Specifications

A sports car that actually exceeds manufacturers' specifications in both top speed and acceleration is the hot and handsome Datsun 1600.

Powered by a 96 HP, 4 cylinder OHV engine with twin carburetors, the stock two seater was recently test driven in Japan by reporters for 11 automotive magazines. Tests took place at the Yatabe track near Tokyo.

Maximum speed over the circular course was 112 MPH. Average speed was 110.2 MPH as compared with a catalogue maximum of 106 MPH. From a standing start the Datsun covered a quarter mile in 17 seconds flat; it hit 62.14 MPH in 10.3 seconds.

Now available in Canada, the new 1600 is a beautifully finished, luxuriously equipped and superbly engineered unit. Compression ratio is 9:1. Weight is 2,028 lbs. Mechanical features include front wheel disc brakes, cam and lever type gear steering and a four speed fully synchromeshed transmission. The 1600cc dislocement engine develops 95 HP at 6,000 rpm.

Race wins for the model have been numerous. They include firsts in the GT2 and GT3 categories at the Japan Grand Prix and a first in the All Japan Hill Climb. Another first was scored in the Women's event of the U.S. Sports Car Club races before the car was officially in production.

A fastback coupe version of the 1600 now in limited production created a sensation at the recent New York Auto Show. 'Car and Driver' called it "one of the most ogled exhibits." 'Road and Track' commented: "completely original and very well finished — a combination of proven chassis and engine wrapped in an attractive package."

Burnaby Firm Taking Back Fired Strikers

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia labor troubles took a turn for the better on at least one front during the weekend.

The Lenkurt Electric Co. dispute appeared at an end with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (CLC) announcing Saturday most of the 257 employees fired last month for taking part in a wildcat strike would return to work today.

Angus McDonald, president of the IBEW's Vancouver local 213, said the employees met Saturday and voted to go back on company terms. The company said it would accept the men back only as new employees without seniority.

The dispute flared when the men walked off their jobs to protest being asked to work overtime. They claimed the company had agreed there would be no overtime while a new contract was being negotiated.

The company promptly fired all 257.

Six labor leaders and 24 other persons were still scheduled to appear in B.C. Supreme Court here today to face contempt proceedings arising from picket line disturbances at the Lenkurt plant in suburban Burnaby

They will be required to show cause why they should not be imprisoned, fined or receive other penalties for alleged contempt of two Supreme Court orders barring picketing of the plant by the electricians' union and other labor organizations.

Nine persons were arrested during the incidents and charged with assault and obstruction.

In another dispute, this one between the city of Vancouver and its outside workers, the workers Sunday endorsed a union telegram to Mayor William Rathie calling for continuous negotiations in the wage dispute to begin today.

The telegram was sent to Mayor Rathie Friday and asked for the mayor and city councillors chosen by him to sit down with the city and union negotiators in continuous negotiations until, such time as they either reach an agreement or mutually agree to ask the government for an industrial inquiry commissioner.

However, Jack Philips, secretary of the Vancouver Public Employees Union, told the 1,500 striking union members Sunday that he had received no reply from the mayor.

The union went on strike three weeks ago to back demands for a 70-cent-an-hour pay increase in three years. The best city offer was 28½ cents over two years. The basic wage at present is $2.28½ an hour.

In North Vancouver, striking municipal employees refused to service the city's water chlorination plant, despite seven ruptured water mains and a blistering letter to the union from Mayor Carrie Cates.

Alex Markides, president of the north shore local of the Canadian Union of Public Employees (CLC), said Sunday the city superintendent and his assistant are qualified to operate the plant.

Water from the city of Vancouver is being used and the increased pressure is blamed for breaking the mains.

Doctors Must Report On Narcotic Trading

OTTAWA (CP)—Doctors who dispense narcotics and controlled drugs are required for the first time to keep the same kind of records as pharmacists, it was learned today.

It is estimated that more than 2,000 doctors will come under new regulations on narcotics and controlled drugs regulations approved by the federal cabinet earlier this month.

Federal authorities say it is becoming a growing feature of medical practice in Canada for physicians also to dispense drugs.

While they will be required to keep records of dispensary sales of these drugs, doctors will not have to report the drugs they dispense to a patient as part of a house call. These are not usually dispensed in quantity.

The new regulations also will clear up an anomaly of drug control whereby doctors who own or operate drug stores, as is the case in some smaller communities, did not have to keep pharmacists' records of their supplies and sales of narcotics or controlled drugs.

FIX AMOUNT FOR RECORD

Records will be required if the doctor dispenses more than three times the maximum daily dosage recommended by the manufacturers or three times the generally - recognized maximum daily therapeutic dosage.

The information required includes names and quantity of drugs furnished, name and address of the person to whom it was furnished and the date.

As in the case of pharmacists, doctors affected by the new regulations must permit federal drug inspectors to examine their drug records and check their stocks.

The doctors also are required to take precautions against loss or theft of narcotics or controlled drugs and to report within 10 days of discovery any loss or theft.

FATHER PROTESTS

Girl Dreams of Terror

VANCOUVER (CP) — Four-year-old Debbie Tann still dreams of her ordeal Friday night when a man held her hostage with a knife at her stomach for two hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tann said Sunday night their daughter is still frightened and is unusually silent. She refused to leave her parents' side. She still wakes, screaming.

Debbie's ordeal began minutes after a man and his son were slashed by a man wielding a knife and shouting incoherently.

The man then grabbed Debbie on a busy street corner and backed against a wall while police and crowds gathered. He pressed a knife to the girl's stomach and demanded that his "story" be told.

Vogislav Stankovic, in fair condition in hospital after knifing himself, was charged Saturday with two counts of attempted murder. Also in fair condition with stab wounds were Theordor Kaczor and his son Teddy.

Police said the man was released recently from nearby Riverview mental hospital.

Debbie's father said he intended to ask Attorney-General Bonner for stiffer laws to keep disturbed persons at Riverview for an indefinite period once they have committed a crime.

"It was irresponsible to release a man like that," said Mr. Tann.

Dr. B. F. Bryson, medical superintendent at Riverview, said the man "had improved when we released him six weeks ago, but we can never guarantee a deranged person is completely cured."

KENYA CLEARS CORN SUSPECT

NAIROBI (AP) — Kenya's suspended marketing minister, Paul Ngei, was cleared Sunday of criminal offences in the sale of corn and taken back into the cabinet of President Jomo Kenyatta. This time he's minister of housing. A three-month inquiry was set up to sift charges that Ngei's wife, who runs a corn mill, was responsible for last year's shortage of that grain in this former British colony in East Africa.

We Can Turn You Out, Unions Warn Wilson

By LOUIS NEVIN

LONDON (AP)—British trade unions are increasing their opposition to the Labor government's campaign to limit wage increases.

As the merchant seamen's strike entered its third week, union leaders and left-wing laborite legislators assailed the government for assuming emergency powers to meet a threat to Britain's food supply.

The union heads and legislators warned Prime Minister Wilson the working man and his unions brought him to power and they could also turn him out. They charged the government was infringing on labor's rights to bargain collectively.

Some laborites said Wilson seemed determined to make the seamen's strike a test case of his battle to control wages and prices.

Britain's economy has been unhealthy for years. Rising prices were losing traditional export markets for British industry while, with imports booming, the British were buying abroad more than they were earning.

An inflationary situation has existed for years, brought on by a shortage of workers resulting in a steady stream of wage increases followed by price increases to pay them.

The Labor government said the vicious circle had to be broken if Britain was to survive economically and get the balance of payments out of the red.

A national five - year plan was drafted with a cardinal point that wage raises should be held to between three and 3½ per cent in any year, except in cases of manifest inequality or hardship.

A prices and incomes board was set up and both labor and management agreed, grudgingly, to submit to the board's judgment.

But every union felt its case for a raise was one of hardship or manifest inequality and chafed under long investigations by the board.

The government held the line until April, when it gave a 33-per-cent pay increase to the doctors working under the state medical program. That was the break in the dike and the seamen's demand for a 17-per-cent raise came flooding through with more demands expected to follow.

The seamen's strike is being felt by many.

The housewife is paying seven cents more a pound for lamb roast and five cents a pound more for her roast of beef. Hundreds of families are stranded on the beach in Dover this Whitsun Day (Pentecost) holiday, unable to get aboard one of the Belgian or French ferries for a long weekend on the continent. Vauxhall, the General Motors subsidiary, lost the sale of 1,200 cars to Canada because they were unable to deliver.

No one denies that British seamen are underpaid at a basic wage of $45 for a 56-hour week. But the government says the line must be drawn somewhere for the sake of the nation as a whole.

It costs so little to make a photo talk

When a family grows up and goes its several ways, when a job that has to be done separates you by thousands of miles from near and dear ones, there's a gap left that photographs only partly fill. And yet, it takes only a minute—and costs so little—to pick up your phone and make that beloved photo talk.

If you travel frequently on business or have to spend extended periods away from home, be sure to arm yourself with a B.C. TEL Long Distance Credit Card. It enables you to call long distance from any phone in the country to any other phone and charge the call to your personal or business account.

You can always call home "collect," even from phones in the U.S. Remember, too, that long distance calls cost about one-fifth less after 6 pm and all day Sunday. Here are a few typical charges from and to Vancouver:

VANCOUVER—PRINCE GEORGE	$1.35
NEW WESTMINSTER—CALGARY	$1.50
VICTORIA—TORONTO	$2.35

(Evening, station-to-station calls, first 3 minutes)

The pleasure of a long distance call remains one of today's biggest bargains. Despite rising incomes and living costs, many long distance calls actually cost less in dollars and cents than 10 years ago. Use Long Distance for all it's worth!

As the years pass by, the telephone becomes one of the strongest links holding scattered families together. On birthdays and other special anniversaries—on occasions like Easter, Mother's Day, Father's Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas—a long distance call is "the next best thing to being there."

500 Letters Favor Saanich Sports Centre

LUCKY DOGS who got VIP treatment Saturday at the hands of junior SPCA members were residents of the society's animal shelter. Pooches were combed, brushed and untangled by young animal lovers who had just received short courses in pet grooming from SPCA instructors. After the beauty session 24 girls and one boy lined up with their charges for Times photographer Irving Strickland, who didn't even try to separate the dogs from the kids, just shot them together.

Saanich residents have written more than 500 letters favoring a municipal sports centre, parks and recreation committee chairman Councillor Edward Lum said Saturday.

"More letters favoring a centre are coming in almost daily," he said. "This would be a major undertaking and I would like to see more opinions on the subject from Saanich residents in the form of letters."

He had favored the idea of two ice surfaces, but this would meet the immediate needs of "only a portion of the people."

A sports centre should have "something for everyone," from ice surfaces to activities for senior citizens. It could be coupled with an auditorium and catering facilities for conventions.

"As a rough estimate I think a complex such as this would cost in the neighborhood of $1.5 million," he said.

The location would be most important to its success. Roads and parking areas were problems which would have to be studied by engineers and planners.

"I'd like to see the studies finished as soon as possible so the question could be placed before the electorate in a December referendum," he said.

Bear Loses 7-Hour Duel With Elderly Prospector

EDMONTON (CP) — Death in the form of an angry black bear stalked a 60-year-old man for seven hours across the Arctic barrens last week.

Fred Lypka of Edmonton told today of the ordeal in which, step by step, he retreated miles across the tundra toward his tent and the safety of his rifle.

Lypka, a prospector, was working several miles from his camp about 250 miles north of Yellowknife. He was armed with only an axe.

About 7 p.m., he sensed, rather than heard, danger behind him. He yelled and whirled to face the huge beast which had come silently up behind him. The bear was already upright, with a massive forepaw poised to strike the unarmed man.

The yell startled the bear, which backed away a step. The gleaming claws slashed harmlessly through the air.

YELLED AGAIN

The prospector yelled again as he picked up his axe, but the bear would back away no farther. It was determined.

Lypka knew he was in trouble. he had often faced bears, but in 23 years in the north, this was the first one he was unable to frighten off.

Cautiously, Lypka began moving backwards. The bear followed. A slip meant certain death.

"As long as I was yelling, the bear would hang back," said Lypka. "But the minute I stopped, it would rear up and take a swipe at me."

There was no help available; the nearest person was 100 miles away.

Hoping the bear would give up, Lypka inched his way backward, yelling and brandishing his axe. But the bear continued to stalk him.

Finally, Lypka realized the bear wasn't going to give up and began backing toward his only hope — a rifle in his tent, miles away.

Knowing he couldn't back through bush without falling — and dying — Lypka backed toward a survey line cut through the bush in the direction of his camp. He reached the line, in which tall grass was growing, and realized he had another weapon — fire.

DROPS MATCHES

He began dropping matches into the grass. The fire flared. The bear backed away.

Lypka turned and ran, hoping to lose the beast for good.

It didn't work. He ran until he gasped for breath. He looked back. The bear was almost upon him again.

The duel resumed. Lypka yelling, swinging his ax, and backing up a step at a time. The bear was stalking, slashing, and waiting for its intended victim to make a wrong move.

LOSING VOICE

Hours dragged by. Lypka began losing his voice.

But he kept fighting. Then, at about 2 a.m., after seven hours of terror, he reached his camp. He turned, dashed for the tent and reached for the loaded rifle just inside.

The bear charged around the corner of the tent just six feet away as the prospector raised the rifle and fired.

The bear dropped, its back broken.

Lypka said he was "just lucky" with the shot. His glasses were steamed up from the sweat pouring down his face.

Vets Travelled 38,000 Miles For Anniversary

Old soldiers of the 15th Brigade travelled a total of 38,000 miles between them to commemorate the 50th anniversary of their departure from Victoria to fight in the First World War.

The occasion was a banquet in the Ingraham Hotel at which Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes was guest of honor.

Wes Baldwin travelled from Detroit, Hugh Harrigan came from Montreal and Norman Goldsworthy arrived from Flint, Mich.

Many travelled from California, among them Dr. John Helmcken of Santa Ana, grandson of Victoria's first doctor and Speaker of the Legislature.

More than 70 former members of the 15th Brigade — the largest contingent of artillery to leave Victoria during the First War — drank a toast to the brigade proposed by Judge J. B. Clearihue, chancellor of the University of Victoria

$139,000 Damage Award In Car Flip

MONTREAL (CP) — Associate Chief Justice George S. Challies of Quebec Superior Court today awarded $138,874 to a former garage helper who lost the use of his arms and legs as a result of an automobile accident Aug. 20, 1965.

Driver of the car, Garry Gibbs of Montreal, was ordered to pay the amount, plus interest and costs, to Godfrey Romaniuk, 29, a passenger in his automobile.

Gibbs had testified that his car spun out of control while trying to avoid a collision with another auto. But the judge said that in his opinion Gibbs had lost control of the vehicle and driven it down a slope "and turned it over under circumstances which do not indicate it was necessary to do so."

Teen-agers on Tear

TORONTO (CP) — Four persons were arrested early Sunday after more than 300 screaming teen-agers trapped two policemen on the roof of a car in Yorkville Village, Toronto's midtown coffee-house district. Constable James Hughes and William Owens climbed on the car and held the crowd at bay until 20 policemen came to their rescue.

Flames Doused In Cathedral

LEON, Spain (Reuters)—Firefighters early today won a five-hour battle against a blaze that threatened Leon's famous Gothic Cathedral.

Priceless art treasures and ancient stained-glass windows were saved, a spokesman from the civil governor's office reported.

Lightning is believed to have started a raging roof fire that sent worshippers fleeing into the streets Sunday night.

Flames menaced the entire nave roof and the 180-foot-high central dome. Centuries-old windows, some 40 feet high, were also imperilled.

But local firemen—aided by units rushed from neighboring towns, two Spanish army regiments and a United States Air Force base—brought the blaze under control.

Deadline Nearing For 1967 Pension

Deadline for registration to receive the old-age pension next January is rapidly approaching but almost 75 per cent of the 80,000 eligible Canadians haven't filed papers yet.

The department of national health and welfare today said all persons who become 68 years old anytime during 1966 and have lived in Canada 10 years should submit applications now.

Applications, obtainable at any post office, must be submitted by July to give time for processing so that first cheques will be sent out January.

Pensions at age 68 next year will mark the second step in a five-year plan reducing the qualifying age to 65 in the year 1970.

QUEBEC VOTES SUNDAY

Union Nationale Hunting Support of Separatists

QUEBEC (CP)—Party leaders contesting Quebec's provincial election are treating the issue of separatism as though they expect it to have considerable influence on the result of Sunday's voting.

In weekend campaigning, Premier Lesage again attacked the idea of Quebec independence. Daniel Johnson, whose Union Nationale party formed the Opposition in the last legislature, renewed his appeal for separatist votes.

Candidates of the separatist party, le Rassemblement pour l'Independance Nationale, meanwhile sent a message of congratulation to the people of Guyana on their recent independence celebrations.

The message said the independence achieved by the only British colony in South America, the former British Guiana, will act as a "stimulant" for Quebec, "the last British colony on the North American continent."

Mr. Lesage, speaking in Chicoutimi Sunday night, made his first public appeal to Quebec's estimated 500,000 first-time voters who range in age from 18 to 24. The voting age has been lowered to 18 from 21 for the current election.

"Young people, we need you, Quebec needs you," he said. "I ask you to think of the great task ahead of you."

Some parties said Quebec's Liberal government had a "servile" attitude toward Ottawa, "but this is false."

"You remember the victories we won at the federal - provincial conferences. We (Quebecers) are not on our knees."

Federal - provincial conferences made more sense than "addressing ridiculous and childish challenges to the 200,000,000 English - speaking North Americans."

"Unless one loves hate, I don't see why we should create needless antagonism."

Mr. Johnson, speaking in the St. Lawrence River port of Rimouski, repeated that he is not a separatist but called on voters who are inclined in that direction to vote Union Nationale. A common front was the only way to defeat the Lesage government "which nobody wants any more."

"Let's get rid of our inferiority complex and settle the constitutional problem, and then the rest of Canada will lose its conqueror's complex."

During a Saturday night rally in St. Johns, Mr. Johnson called Premier Lesage "a constitutional buffoon, a London royalist and an Ottawa federalist."

Pierre Bourgault, leader of Le Rassemblement, drew applause from a Saturday night rally of some 900 persons in Quebec with a surprising statement of support for a Liberal cabinet minister — Education Minister Paul Gerin - Lajoie.

He said the education minister deserves support because he has brought about a virtual revolution in the field of education.

"Perhaps, for the first time, we are raising a generation which will be better than the preceding one."

The support did not extend, however, to the Liberal party, its policies or its leader.

Princess Killed

LAUTERBACH, West Germany (AP) — Princess Marie Christine of Prussia, 19, great-granddaughter of the last German kaiser, was fatally injured Sunday in an automobile accident, police reported today.

Dog Kills Girl

DUNROBIN, Ont. (CP)—A 20-month-old girl was mauled to death by the family dog here Saturday. Angela Monaghan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Monaghan, had been playing with the golden retriever near her farm home. Mrs. Monaghan found the child lying in the backyard, the dog standing nearby.

Development Body Backed

TORONTO (CP) — Prof. Edward Neufeld of the University of Toronto told a weekend Liberal party conference that the Canada Development Corp. is the cleanest, easiest way to begin the nationalization of industry.

Speaking Saturday to a Toronto and district Liberal meeting, Prof. Neufeld said use of the development corporation would be the most sensible approach to take if the government starts nationalization of industry.

He said the corporation is designed to give more Canadians a chance to invest in the development of their country. The proposed structure of the organization would give the government 10 per cent of the shares and limit other groups and individuals to three per cent or less.

Former finance minister Walter Gordon said the government did not plan to take an active part in the corporation but would, instead, appoint management representatives from the business world to reflect the point of view of private shareholders.

But, he said the $1,000,000,000 corporation would be profit-making and only take control of industries which might be purchased by foreign interests.

He said the government-owned Polymer Corp. of Sarnia would come under the control of the corporation and the Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Organization, operated by the department of transport, might also be absorbed.

Canam Sale Supported

TORONTO (CP) — Shareholders of Canam Copper Co. Ltd. today voted to sell all the company's assets to Giant Mascot Mines Ltd. and to wind up Canam.

Giant Mascot shareholders approved buying the assets Thursday.

Canam's main asset is a copper-molybdenum-silver property in Hope on which Giant Mascot spent about $237,000 in development under an agreement with Canam.

Giant Mascot will give Canam: 1,084,994 shares; pay $217,770 owed to Lorado Uranium Mines Ltd. and Consolidated Mogul Mines Ltd. and $3,457 in unearned insurance premiums.

A spokesman for Canam said after the company is wound up, shareholders will receive one share of Giant Mascot for each eight shares of Canam.

Union Fighting 2 Battles

The new regional direcor of Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers says the union is fighting two opponents.

"They are the pulp and paper manufacturers who are unwilling to make necessary concessions on wages and working conditions and a raiding breakaway group trying hard to disrupt us," said E. P. O'Neal, the former secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labour.

"The actions of this breakaway group aids and abetts the employers. They are hurting all workers in the industry."

Mr. O'Neal said pulp and paper workers face "hard bargaining. Locals were taking their own strike votes and there may soon be a government-supervised one.

He called the rival union "disruptors in the mills."

His comments came as the independent Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada made its second application within a week for locals now held by the international union.

The Canadian union has applied to the Labour Relations Board for certification for 950 workers at Harmac, near Nanaimo, and 750 workers at Elk Falls, north of Campbell River.

Harmac would be Local 8 and Elk Falls Local 7 of the union, formed several years ago when locals at Crofton and Castlegar left the international union.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trading was limited on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as a result of holidays in both Europe and the United States.

There was a lack of interest on all commodities, especially oilseeds. Some hedging sales appeared and were absorbed by a modest demand although prices were easier. Oats and barley trade was light with domestic demand for feed. Prices showed underlying firmness.

The rye market moved in a narrow range, reflecting firmer prices than were evidenced last week.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 2,900,000 bushels to Russia, 920,000 bushels to China, 300,000 bushels to the United Kingdom and 55,000 bushels to Belgium.

Car Fees Increased

SINGAPORE (Reuters) — The Singapore government today increased the registration fees on all imported cars, including those from Canada and announced an increase of 30 per cent in imported car duty within the next 14 months.

Finance Minister Lim Kim San said the new tax measures were framed to promote "the sound and speedy development" of the motor vehicle assembly industry here.

The registration fee for cars imported from Britain as from today will be 15 per cent, while manufacturers in other countries, including Canada and Australia, will pay 25 per cent on the value.

Until today the registration fee charged on cars imported from Britain, Canada and Australia was five per cent on the value, while other countries paid 15 per cent.

Commenting on the lower registration fees for British-manufactured cars, Lim said Singapore could not accord preferences to all Commonwealth countries unless it received reciprocal preferences.

Emerald Isle Bank Strike Tightens Cash

DUBLIN (AP) — The Emerald Isle's bank strike is going into its third week, and there is no sign of a settlement.

About 900 banks in Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic are shut down by a walkout of junior employees to back up demands for more pay.

Business north and south of the border seems to be operating normally, but the squeeze is tightening. A considerable volume of money was available at the start of the strike, but some of it now seems to have dropped out of circulation.

Businesses with large cash intakes each day are getting rid of their surplus by making deals with firms that have large weekly payrolls but take in no cash.

One large brewery has taken on the role of banker for pubs. Saloons are favorite places for cashing cheques.

FAIRS HARD HIT

Hardest hit are the Irish cattle fairs, where street transactions are traditionally on a cash basis.

Hundreds of young bank clerks have gone to England for jobs, and many of the girls who operate accounting machines have deserted the banking business for better-paying jobs in other industries.

The 3,400 junior bank employees are demanding a seven-per-cent wage increase in the Irish Republic and 11-per-cent rise in Northern Ireland.

Larger Role Advocated For Workers

TORONTO (CP)—Maurice Lamontagne, former secretary of state, says labor must be given a stake with management in Canadian enterprise if current disputes are to be resolved.

Speaking Saturday to a Toronto and District Liberal Association policy conference, Mr. Lamontagne said current economic affluence has brought its share of labor-management problems "and these will get worse until labor shares in production.

"If we go on as we are now the battles will continue. There is a need for more research in the field."

Mr. Lamontagne said it was time to go beyond the useful work of the Economic Council of Canada and establish a department of economic planning.

He told delegates the permanent "scientific revolution" has made planning more than a socialistic dogma.

"There must be a major ovehaul, much more than has been done in the last few months. There must be changes in the organization of the cabinet and the economy itself needs a major overhaul."

DELEGATES UNIFIED

In a later speech, Mr. Lamontagne said Ontario and Quebec delegates to the national Liberal party convention in Ottawa will be unified in support of a resolution asking greater membership control over the parliamentary wing of the party.

At a recent policy conference of the Ontario Liberal party, a resolution was approved requiring the provincial leader to put himself up for re-election within two years after an election.

The resolution also asked the parliamentary wing of the party to follow policy decisions made at membership meetings and report its performance to the membership.

Mr. Lamontagne said "leadership can degenerate into absentee democracy." He said the party needs active participation of its members because "work at the intellectual grass roots is essential to the vitality of the party."

Talks Continue

HALIFAX (CP) — Premier Robert Stanfield said Sunday negotiations are continuing between the province of Nova Scotia and Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. to increase the capacity of Deuterium of Canada's heavy water plant at Glace Bay, N.S. Mr. Stanfield said in an interview he had been notified of AECL's decision to impose a June 15 deadline for the signing of a contract with the federal government by Deuterium.

Copper Price Cut Forecast

By JOSEPH BENHAM

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile, which rocked the economic world in April by raising the price of export copper 20 cents a pound, will begin cutting the price early in 1967, a majority of industry and government officials believe.

The big questions are when the price will begin to drop and how far it will fall.

There is nothing resembling unanimous agreement on either point. But the nearest thing to a consensus would seem to be along these lines:

—The world copper shortage will begin to ease early next year, although copper will remain in fairly short supply until at least 1968 and it probably will be 1970 before production catches up with demand.

—As the shortage becomes less severe, the price will begin to fall slowly . . . as slowly as the Chilean government can go and still hold its share of the market.

—The price could begin to decline as early as the last quarter of 1966 or as late as mid-1967, but most observers say they believe the first quarter of 1967 is a likely time for the drop to start.

—The decline probably will level off somewhere between 40 and 50 cents a pound. This is the area of least agreement, with some officials saying they think the price may drop to the high 30s and others talking confidently of 50-cent copper.

All predictions were heavily qualifed. Everyone interviewed said the Viet Nam war, unrest in the African countries which produce copper and the health of the U.S. and European economies will have major impacts on the copper price situation.

Major reductions in auto production in the United States would reduce the demand for copper and cause the price to drop, one observer said, while a step-up in the war in Viet Nam would aggravate the current shortage. Any African development which halted the flow of copper from Zambia or the Congo would have a major effect on the market.

Barring something unforeseen, officials say, they do not believe the Chilean government will move the price above the 62-cent level to which it was raised in April.

Any move to increase the price again would be certain to meet strong opposition from the copper producers who are known to have counselled against the 20-cent increase on grounds that it would make customers turn to substitutes such as aluminum and plastic.

Chilean officials say they believe customers who turn away from copper are likely to do so because of the difficulty in obtaining the metal rather than the price, though they consider price a factor.

HOLLYWOOD TAKES BACK SEAT

Tokyo Becomes Film Capital

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Hollywood still gives the Oscars but it is no longer the movie capital in terms of production.

The 1965 United Nations Statistical Year Book published Saturday, shows the United States ran fifth in the number of long films produced in 1963. It produced 155 compared with Italy's 241, Hong Kong's 259, India's 305 and Japan's 657.

That was a switch on the situation of 1948, when the United States led by producing 394 long films compared with India's 265 and Japan's 123. Hong Kong produced none to speak of that year, and Italy only 54.

In numbers of movie houses, the yearbook brings out, the United States takes a back seat to the Soviet Union; it had 17,500 in 1963 compared with the Russians' 113,000.

Both nationalities are shaded by the mainland Chinese in mass movie attendance. The latest available figures show that, counting repeaters, 2,178,000,000, people in the United States and 3,900,000,000 in the Soviet Union went to the movies in 1963, compared with 4,000,000,000 in China in 1960.

In radio and television the United States statistically leads the world.

U.S. HAS MOST RADIOS

By 1963-1964 statistics, the yearbook says, there were 192,000,000 radio sets in the United States compared with 68,900,000 in the Soviet Union. China was far down the list with 8,000,000.

In 1964 there were 67,100,000 TV sets in the United States compared with 16,710,000 in Japan, 13,150,000 in Britain and 12,900,000 in the Soviet Union. China again was far down the list with a mere 100.

In daily newspaper circulation per thousand inhabitants in 1964, the United States ran 12th — behind Britain, Sweden, Japan, Iceland, Luxembourg, New Zealand, Norway, Switzerland, Australia, Denmark and West Germany, in that order. The U.S. figure was 314 copies, the British 523.

Having bigger newspapers, the United States used 46 per cent of the world's newsprint in 1964 and its per capita consumption was the world's highest — 83.6 pounds compared with Australia's 68.2.

The yearbook credits the Soviet Union with publishing the most books — 78,204 titles in 1964, compared with 28,451 in the United States, 26,123 in Britain, 25,204 in West Germany, 24,049 in Japan, 15,440 in Spain and 13,479 in France.

The foot-long volume of 748 pages contains 204 tables of statistics gathered by questionnaires from more than 150 countries and territories and in published documents from others.

It estimates the world's population at 3,229,000,000 in mid-1964, compared with 2,900,000,000 in 1958. That's an 11-per-cent increase.

Million Shares

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian Dyno Mines Ltd. announced today it has bought 1,000,000 shares of Lorado Uranium Mines Ltd. for $1,500,000. The company says the shares, bought from Louis Chesler and E. D. Wright, gives them about 25 per cent interest in Lorado.

Will the short skirt get shorter?

Where did the short skirt come from in the first place — and where is it going? A group of "experts" tackle these questions (and lots of others about "kooky" teen-age clothes) in this month's Reader's Digest. Is the short skirt a sign of rebellion, as a fashion photographer claims, like "spitting in someone's eye" . . . or are the sociologists right when they say it's just a reaction to the mixed-up times we're living in? Find out — in the new issue of Reader's Digest, on your newsstand today.

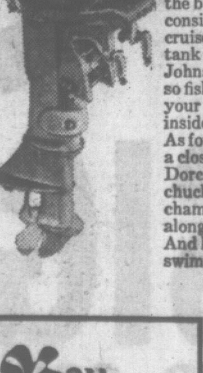
JOHNSON MOTORS A PRODUCT OF OUTBOARD MARINE CORPORATION OF CANADA LTD., PETERBOROUGH, CANADA, MANUFACTURERS OF LAWN-BOY POWER MOWERS, SNOW CRUISER SNOWMOBILES, PIONEER CHAIN SAWS.



We took on a six-horse racing team to prove a point: the Johnson 6 is an astoundingly peppy motor. This makes it handy for fishermen. They don't spend all day getting out to the big ones. Because it's a considerate motor you can cruise 11 hours on one tank of gas. Like all Johnsons, the 6 is quiet, so fish won't know where your boat is until they're inside it.
As for the race, we placed a close second. But Tom Dorchester was driving the chuckwagon. His champion-style rig speeds along at 35 miles an hour. And his horses weren't swimming.

The Johnson 9½ could easily be called the best fishing motor ever made. It idles so slowly you can almost count the propeller revolutions. Because it's a low profile engine, you can cast over it sitting down.
It's so well-balanced that moving it from your car to your boat is no trouble, and portaging it is a pleasure. Storing is easier, too. Nothing sticks out from the sides, and the steering handle folds neatly out of the way.

If you think versatility must be expensive, you've never priced a Johnson 5. It powers anything from a small fishing skiff to a medium-sized sailboat. The 5 is compact, weighs just 43 pounds, and has a flat starboard side that makes storing a snap. The operating controls are positioned for one-hand operation, so you can turn, speed up, slow down, or stop, without putting down your trolling rod. Engine improvements, such as the positive locating of the pinion gear, make the 5 even quieter than ever before.

The Johnson 3 offers a choice of two different models: Angle-Matic and High-Thrust Drive. Both are twin-cylinder motors—very smooth running. Both weigh just 35 pounds. Both will cruise up to 17 hours on a 5-gallon tank of gas. The gearcase of the Angle-Matic is designed to slide over rocks and sandbars and cut through heavy weeds. What fisherman could ask for more? The High-Thrust model is geared to swing a low-pitch propeller for greater thrust than you'd ever expect from a motor of its size.

BIG CONVENTION CENTRE

Promoters of Needle Should Raise Sights

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Forbes

Suppose . . . just suppose . . . the syndicate that wished to erect a Space Needle at the entrance to our Inner Harbor, raised its sights (when it decides on an alternate location) to include a building large enough to take any size convention that might come to our city.

Suppose that building had a king-size banquet hall, some smaller meeting and committee rooms, restaurant service and — let us say — a viewing deck.

* * *

It would seem to me that such a place would bring far more visitors to our city and would pay bigger dividends, than a lone replica of Seattle's space tower.

You say that's wishful thinking — and no doubt you are right. Yet, I'll wager that someone will build such a hall here — and before too long.

Victoria is rapidly becoming a convention rendezvous. It is booked for such events throughout the year.

Those of reasonable size manage to fit themselves into the Empress Hotel. The larger ones usually have to juggle their programs in such a way that they sleep in the hotel, eat at the curling rink and hold business sessions in either the Royal Theatre or McPherson Playhouse.

Right now, the Grand Chapter of British Columbia, Order of the Eastern Star, is holding its business sessions in Esquimalt Sports Centre.

* * *

This entails added expense. What is even worse, the visiting group goes away grumbling a little, no matter how well co-ordinated the various events may be.

So far, through farsighted planning, the Empress Hotel has managed to take on most comers. Staff members go out of their way to assist with program details and at the same time, to maintain a service which has become a proud boast with them.

I can vouch for this, first hand, because I'm helping to plan a national convention here in July.

To handle this group the hotel has placed the ballroom, tea room and lower lounge in service for dinners and banquets. The kitchens will be busy from morning until night. Extra help will be taken on.

* * *

Coupled with the meals will be need for split-second timing in order to turn the ballroom from business sessions to luncheon settings and then back to business sessions on schedule.

All this will be done with little fuss and with an apparent ease that deceives most visitors.

Nevertheless, a convention that demands this type of service in a summer month is a strain on the capabilities of the best organized staff. Especially when it is faced with keeping to a time table in restricted space.

When the Empress Hotel was built, at the beginning of this century there were few — if any — conventions. The trend was toward dinners, balls and afternoon tea dances.

But times have changed. Today, Victoria accepts conventions as a part of its economy. They bring thousands of visitors who spend money as well as make resolutions and have fun.

* * *

We need these gatherings. We need the good will and recognition of all those who attend. We need the money that comes with them and that is spent before they leave.

We also need a building that will house any size group that wishes to meet here.

Around the first of this year there was talk that the city might do something about such a hall. That talk died down and we've heard no more about it.

Which brings me right back to wishful thinking. Suppose . . . just suppose that a viewing tower could be expanded to include king-size convention and banquet halls, smaller committee and meeting rooms and restaurant service.

Well . . . at least, a person can dream!

HOME GARDEN

Don't Be Frustrated Landscaping Lot

By HILDA BEASTALL

Hilda

Young people with their first home are inclined to feel frustrated and even unhappy if they are not able to put in a complete landscaping job during the early days.

Sometimes the reason is lack of funds to take on a sizeable planting of shrubs as recommended by a landscaper.

More often the young folks will confess that they have no idea what kinds of plants they want, nor even of the effect the wish to create around their home.

GOOD BACKGROUND

Not surprising this, when you think how long it took the rest of us to become acquainted with a couple of dozen shrubs and small trees suitable for the average home lot.

Few homeowners today consider the growing of grass up to the walls of the house, yet it was common practice 50 or more years ago.

Surprisingly enough, the grass makes a charming background or foreground for the house even without any shrubs.

As opportunity occurs, add a specimen shrub chosen for permanent garden value; perhaps a summer flowering shrub in a strategic position, or an evergreen for all-year interest.

During the first five years of working on the garden plan, a young couple could add one plant the first year, two the second, three in the third year and so on.

My computing makes this 15 permanent shrubs or trees in place and, in the areas where grass was cultivated, the soil will be improved far beyond that usually found near the foundations of houses.

Also, during the five years the average couple will become aware of the wide variety of plant material which attracts their interest.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) —Gasoline bombs set four fires Thursday night in the Bakersfield Negro district where racial trouble broke out earlier this week.

POLICE ATTACKED

Wild Climax To Goodwill Malta Visit

VALLETTA, Malta (Reuters) An Italian flotilla prepared to sail from Malta today after its sailors attacked police with chains and whips in a wild climax Sunday night to a goodwill visit that went wrong.

Several police and some civilians and British sailors involved in the fracas at Sliema, three miles from the capital, were injured.

There were other scuffles involving the Italians in Valletta and Floriana Sunday as ill-feeling lingered after Italian-British clashes in a services club Saturday night.

A strong force of police rushed to Sliema ready for trouble after the Italian sailors, from three warships, gathered there Sunday afternoon.

Fighting broke out after the sailors were reported to have insulted passersby.

THESE ARE COPIES of paintings that Brooklyn lawyer and art collector Edward I. Elicofon bought 20 years ago for $500. Elicofon said he's sure the paintings are portraits of Hans and Felicitas Tucher, painted in 1499 by German master Albrecht Durer and worth about $1 million.—(AP Wirephoto)

PAID $500

Two Paintings Worth $1 Million?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two paintings bought by a Brooklyn attorney for $500 following the Second World War were believed today to be works of the 15th-century German artist Albrecht Durer worth more than $1 million.

Edward Elicofon, a 62-year-old lawyer and art collector, said he purchased the two oil-on-wood portraits in 1946 from a young man sent by a mutual friend. They currently are stored in a vault at the Metropolitan Museum of Art where experts, Elicofon said, have established their authenticity.

The two portraits, believe painted by Durer in 1499, are of Hans and Felicitas Tucher, members of a prominent merchant family in Weimar. They had hung for many years in the Grand Ducal Museum in Weima, now in East Germany.

The portraits were among 121 art treasures moved from Weimar for Second World War safekeeping in a Schwarzburg castle in Thuringia, now an East German state.

At the war's end, the Tucher portraits and others were missing.

Until three weeks ago, the paintings hung unrecognized among other art in Elicofon's Brooklyn home. The possibility they were authentic Durers arose when a friend, while thumbing through a West German published book called Lost Art Treasures, saw reproductions of two portraits he had seen in Elicofon's home.

Legal complications surrounding ownership of the paintings are great. The United States government, under the Hague convention, is bound to return discovered art treasures stolen during the war to West Germany. But complications arise because the United States has no relations with East Germany and there is no precedent for returning paintings to Weimar.

Elephants Trample Professor

NAIROBI (CP-Reuters) — A Canadian university professor, Dr. Evan Kerry Gill of Ottawa, was trampled to death by elephants on the slopes of Mount Kenya Friday night, police reported here Sunday.

He had been on vacation in Kenya from a lecturing post in Zambia.

Gill and his wife, the former Carol Ryan of Bass River, N.S., accidentally wandered into a herd of elephants while descending the mountain at dusk, police said.

Mrs. Gill was unhurt but suffered from shock. They were married last year.

A park warden said it was thought the elephants stampeded when the Gills walked among them.

TAUGHT CHEMISTRY

Gill taught chemistry at Lusaka University in the Zambian capital.

In a recent letter to members of his family in Canada, he had said that he and his wife intended to spend a short, midterm holiday on a walking trip in Kenya.

School Said Not Helping Students

TORONTO (CP) — Most school children use only one-tenth of their learning ability, says a United States educationist.

Dr. Francis Ianni of Columbia University told a New Democratic Party education conference Saturday that "we are barely scratching the surface of child learning ability."

"The school as an institution restricts the learning of the child rather than helping it," he said.

Dr. Ianni, director of Columbia's division of educational institutions and programs, said research conducted in various parts of the United States shows that two-year-olds can be taught to read and write, Grade 1 students can deal with the fundamentals of economics and algebra, Grade 3 students can use computers to solve mathematical problems and Grade 5 students can compose music.

But he said most school children are shackled to a system featuring such traditional ditties as "gobble gobble gobble goes the turkey" and other items having "no connection with reality."

Schools must drop all "manufacture sugar-coated tales and trivia," he said.

Gerald Gross, director of the Quebec education department's English studies division, said teachers form one of the biggest stumbling blocks to overhauling the education system in Quebec.

"The most conservative group that we are dealing with are the teachers," Mr. Gross said. Little could be done to imporve education in Quebec until the teachers changed their attitudes and accepted new methods.

1,000 YEARS OF CHRISTIANITY

Poles Give Thanks At Special Service

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Church Eidtor

Polish residents of Victoria and Vancouver Island celebrated 1,000 years of Christianity over the weekend.

They gave thanks at a special mass in the Roman Catholic Church of the Sacred Heart, Lake Hill, Sunday at which the children wore colorful native costume — and on Saturday night they made merry at a banquet and dance in their own White Eagle Hall.

Christianity came to Poland in May 966 A.D. when Prince Mieszko 1 accepted the faith on behalf of his subjects.

"Because of that great event, Poland has been able to retain her national dignity through centuries of storm and strife," said Eugene Felter, president of Victoria's White Eagle Club, which arranged the celebrations.

"It has been Poland's blessed good fortune to have had as her ally in freedom and culture the support of the mother church of Rome which, through the ages, has given spiritual solace and moral courage to our native land.

"Poland has stood at the great crossroads of the plains of central Europe and has been the eastern rampart against paganism and tyranny."

"It is people like you who make Canada what it is today," said Ald. Clyde Savage, representing Mayor Alfred Toone. "A young country like Canada can learn much from a nation which is old in wisdom and experience and has been making history for so long.

"Your float in our last Victoria Day parade, representing the birth of Christianity in Poland, was a great inspiration to us all."

Police Chief John Gregory said the Polish residents of Victoria are good law-abiding citizens and proud to call themselves Canadians.

"Hold on to your national customs and accomplishments. They are a valuable contribution to the cultural life of Canada and we need them."

Ald. and Mrs. Savage attended the mass in the Sacred Heart chruch Sunday afternoon at which Rev. Jan Planeta gave an address in Polish. The congregation joined heartily in the singing of the Sanctus, Agnus Dei, the Gloria and a Mass for Christian Unity and Holy Communion was celebrated.

There was a reception at the White Eagle Hall afterwards at which national dishes were served and the children staged a Polish play.

"This has been a week of rejoicing for Polish people all across Canada and throughout the world," president Felter said. (See story Page 25.)

NEXT FALL AT UVIC

Gordon, Galbraith Lined Up for Forums

Several controversial political figures, including former Russian revolutionary Alexander Kerensky and former Canadian finance minister Walter Gordon, will speak at the University of Victoria next fall.

Also scheduled to address a student political science forum are Harvard economist John Kenneth Galbraith and ambassadors to Canada from the USSR, Cuba, Israel and the United Arab Republic.

Dates set for the engagements are Walter Gordon, Sept. 27; Prof. Galbraith, Sept. 29; and Mr. Kerensky the first week in October. Definite dates for the other speakers have not yet been fixed, said student Gordon Pollard, forum president.

Kerensky, now 85, was the first premier of Russia after proclaiming the country a republic in 1917.

He held office only a short time, however, before the November Bolshevik revolution led by Trotsky and Lenin.

After Kerensky's attempt at a counter-revolution failed, he fled the country.

Still actively interested in international affairs, he now lives in New York, and is the author of a number of books and articles.

Mr. Gordon resigned as finance minister after last year's federal election. His book, A Choice for Canada, has recently aired the argument that the country must resist increased foreign interference in the economy.

Prof. Galbraith, a controversial figure in the U.S., is a former ambassador to India and author of a best-seller, The Affluent Society.

A close associate of presidents Roosevelt and Kennedy, he also worked with Adlai Stevenson in his two presidential campaigns.

Other speakers who will appear during the fall term are USSR ambassador Ivan Shpedko, Cuban ambassador Dr. Americo Cruz, Israeli ambassador Gershon Avner, and UAR ambassador Mahmoud M. Hammad.

TV Film Shows Leo Knows a Foul Ball

Mathew's Shot Not in Bounds; Cubs Still Win

Associated Press

One picture might be worth a thousand words, but Leo Durocher prefers both pictures and words.

Durocher used the words first, then the pictures Sunday and was convinced that the latter justified the former.

The words came in the ninth inning of Chicago's game with Atlanta and were the reason Durocher wasn't around to see Ron Santo hit a home run in the 10th inning and give the Cubs a 3-2 victory over the Braves.

Durocher was ejected from the game for the way he tried to explain to umpire Bob Engel why Eddie Mathews' inside-the-park homer that tied the game 2-2 actually was foul.

After the game was over, the Cubs' manager looked at the pictures—the video tape from the telecast of the contest.

'COULDN'T BE FAIR'

"It was foul," Durocher insisted. "It hit the wall along the right field line, and the wall is about a foot away from the foul line. There's no way it could have been fair. . . . "

Durocher said the Cubs would send the film to National League president Warren Giles if necessary.

The ejection was Durocher's second this season.

In other National League games, San Francisco nipped Philadelphia Phillies 6-5 in 10 innings, New York Mets trimmed Los Angeles Dodgers 7-6, Houston Astros edged Pittsburg Pirates 3-2 in 11, and St. Louis Cardinals topped Cincinnati Reds 3-2 in 10.

Mathews' disputed home run sent the game into extra innings, but the Cubs didn't take long to win. Santo led off the 10th by hitting a 3-2 pitch from Billy O'Dell into the left field seats.

Earl Battey wears an earmuff for protection against opposing pitchers. What the pitchers need is some protection against Battey.

The stocky Minnesota Twins catcher pounded decisive hits in each game Sunday as the Twins swept a doubleheader from American League-leading Cleveland Indians 5-1 and 1-0, snapping the Indians' winning string at five.

Battey's clutch hitting and the strong pitching of Jim Kaat and Jim Grant pulled the Twins out of a long tailspin. They had dropped eight of nine games on a road trip, including two straight to the Indians.

Phil Ortega pitched seven hitless innings and tied a strikeout record as Washington Senators edged Boston Red Sox 3-2, Rick Reichardt's two - run homer lifted California Angels past Detroit Tigers 2-1, Chicago White Sox blanked New York Yankees 2-0 on Tommy John's three-hitter and Kansas City Athletics downed Baltimore 6-3.

ALLOW 12 HITS

Kaat scattered eight hits in the opener and Grant allowed only four in the nightcap while nailing Minnesota's first shutout victory of the season.

Battey, who pioneered the protective ear-plate on batting helmets after being hospitalized by a stray fast ball six years ago, rapped a pair of run-scoring singles in the first game and knocked in the only run in the nightcap with an eighth inning single.

His three key hits placed Battey among the league's top ten batters with a .296 average. He hit .297 last season, second only to league-leader Tony Oliva on the Minnesota club.

Harmon Killebrew walked in the eighth inning of the Twins-Indians nightcap but was forced at second by Sandy Valdespino.

Valdespino then stole second and Battey broke up a scoreless duel between Grant, 4-5, and Luis Tiant, 4-3, with a single to centre.

Red Lions Maul Nanaimo Juniors

Keith Lawrence had on his shooting shoes Saturday at Memorial Arena as Victoria Red Lion defeated Nanaimo Juniors 15-1 in a Vancouver Island Senior B. Lacrosse League game.

Lawrence blasted seven goals against the outclassed visitors.

Lema Racks Up Impressive Win

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Champagne Tony Lema fired a blazing seven-under-par 65 Sunday, piling up the largest victory edge on the Professional Golfers' Association tour this season, in winning the $57,000 Oklahoma City open.

Lema, who started the day one stroke behind Saturday's leader, Young Tom Weiskopf, finished with a four-day total of 271, 17 strokes under par. He wound up six strokes ahead of Weiskopf, who was second.

Lema wiped out the old record of 277 for the 7,173-yard, par-72 Quail Creek Golf and Country Club course, set in 1964 by Arnold Palmer.

Weiskopf shot a 72, 11 strokes under par with a 277.

Masters Champion Jack Nicklaus finished with a 71 for the day and a total of 279 — good for third place money.

Lema collected $8,500 for his victory. Weiskopf picked up $4,600, and Nicklaus got $3,700.

Lema, who earlier this year suffered from a painful elbow irritation, now has shot 14 straight rounds of 71 or better in four tournaments.

Money-winners:

271—Lema ($8,500).
277—Weiskopf ($4,600).
279—Nicklaus ($3,700).
280—Zarley ($3,200).
281—Devlin ($2,800).
282—Beard, Player, Pott ($2,216).
283—Hill, Archer ($1,775).
289—Stil, Marad, Henning, Marti, Thompson ($1,400).
285—Maxwell, Glover, Dill ($1,016).
286—Yancy, Courtney ($850).

Finley Answers Charges

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Chares O. Finley said Sunday he has lost more than $5,000,000 in his five years as owner of Kansas City Athletics baseball club and spent $1,700,000 in bonus payments to young talent.

Finley's statement was in reply to a column by Joe McGuff, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, who wrote that the fact Athletics have received nearly $500,000 from trades in the last three years shows "all too clearly the serious imbalance of playing talent A's have received."

Finley said by phone from his Laporte, Ind., home:

"The gentleman who wrote this story hasn't done his homework. For his information, during the past five years the A's spent over $1,700,000 in bonus payments to young talent.

"It's quite true over the past few years we have received cash in trades, but cash has never been and never will be the primary object of trades.

LOST $5,000,000

"Considering the fact the Athletics in the past five years have lost over $5,000,000, the approximate half-million in trades helped to reduce the losses.

"At the time I bought the club in 1961, the A's had no farm system to speak of. Today, the A's farm system is one of the best in baseball.

"The management is doing everything possible within its power to build a championship team. Before I bought the team, Roger Maris, Clete Boyer, Ralph Terry and Hector Lopez were traded to the Yankees . . ."

Rugby to Get Fitness Grant

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Rugby Union will receive an $18,356 grant from the national health department's physical fitness council to hold five football coaching clinics in university centres across Canada.

Four of the five clinics will be held June 16-19 at the University of Alberta, Edmonton; the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg; McMaster University, Hamilton, and Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Que.

The clinic at St. Mary's University in Halifax will be held in August.

Fazio Recalled From Vancouver

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City Athletics have recalled infielder Ernie Fazio from Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League, bringing the A's' roster to the 25-player limit.

Manager Al Dark said Fazio was recalled because "we have doubleheaders coming up and we need another player."

Shortage of Players Sidelines Ladysmith

A player shortage has caused Ladysmith to withdraw from the Connie Mack League. All scheduled games against Ladysmith are to be considered defaulted.

Boosters moved to within a half game of league-leading Evening Optimists Sunday on the strength of Brian Brossard's four-hit, 3-2 victory over War Amps. Boosters needed an extra inning to take the win by scoring a run off Brian Craig in the bottom of the eighth.

Cubs Trade Herrnstein For Keough

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Cubs made their second trade with Atlanta Braves in two days Sunday, obtaining veteran outfielder Marty Keough in exchange for first baseman-outfielder Johnny Herrnstein.

The Cubs also purchased left-handed pitcher Arnold Earley from the Braves' Richmond farm club and will send him to Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League.

Saturday, the Cubs obtained first baseman Lee Thomas from the Braves in exchange for relief pitcher Ted Abernathy. The Cubs also purchased Chuck Estrada, former Baltimore Oriole pitcher, from the Tacoma farm club.

Keough, 32, underwent surgery in a Cincinnati hospital last week for a leak in an air pocket of his chest. A left-handed hitter, he was obtained by the Braves earlier this season from Cincinnati. He will join the Cubs Tuesday in Pittsburgh.

Estrada, a right-hander, will join the Cubs today.

Rocks Sign New Player But Money Major Worry

Victoria Shamrocks have financial woes.

They don't intend to withdraw from the Intercity Lacrosse League, but without greater customer support the greenshirts will end up in the red.

Shamrocks must make 15 trips to the mainland (against five from each mainland team). Their travelling expenses for 1966 are estimated at $3,500. Each mainland team is expected to spend $900 on its total Victoria trips.

Ferry and regular airline schedules do not permit Shamrocks to meet their game commitments on the mainland.

COSTS $375

Forced to use chartered aircraft, the Rocks' tab per trip breaks down this way: Charter two 10-passenger aircraft — $176; bus on mainland — $44; return via Air Canada — $120; Victoria bus — $35. Total cost — $375.

For the mainlanders Air Canada flight fit perfectly into travel plans. Their total cost per trip — $180.

Mainland clubs agreed before the season to put in $500 each to assist Shamrocks but club president Doug Fletcher says that increased gate support is necessary to keep the team out of the red.

NEW PLAYER

In a happier vein Fletcher announced the signing of defenceman Bob Goss.

A former junior with the New Westminster team that lost the Minto Cup to Oshawa last season, Goss has been on the senior Westminster roster. But he has seen only limited action and feels he will have a better chance to develop with the Rocks.

Goss won't play Wednesday when Shamrocks host league-leading Coquitlam at Memorial Arena.

Billy Gray is expected to make his first appearance with Victoria Wednesday. He has been on a cross-Canada tour with the University of B.C. rugby team.

VANCOUVER BEATEN

Even with Gray, Rocks will face a Coquitlam team bent on avenging a 6-4 loss in its first game here.

Adanacs, with Mike Gates pumping in two important fourth-quarter goals, edged Vancouver 10-9 Saturday at Coquitlam.

Vancouver's Pete Black, the league's leading scorer, had three goals and one assist.

LUCKIES, LIONS LOSE

Forfeitures Mar Softball Offering

Sooke and Carlings picked up their softest victories of the Senior A Men's Softball League Sunday at Heywood Park.

League president John Oster declared them winners by forfeit.

Sooke actually lost 6-4 to Luckies but was awarded the game when Carlings used Ken Larsen, an unsigned player.

Carlings and Red Lion Inn were tied 2-2 in the eighth inning when an injury to Bob Caldwell left them with eight players, one under par. Red Lion had lost Tom Hardy on an injury in the first inning.

Mexicans Sitting In Best Position

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Mexico needs only one victory in two singles matches today to turn back Argentina and qualify for the American zone final of the Davis Cup tennis competition against the United States.

Luis Garcia, making his Davis Cup debut in this series, gets the first chance to clinch the semi-finals for Mexico when he meets Roberto Aubone of Argentina. Should Garcia falter, the best-of-five series will hinge on the final singles match between Rafael Osuna of Mexico and Eduardo Soriano of Argentina, the aces of their respective countries.

Argentina, after dropping both singles matches Saturday, remained in contention with an upset victory in Sunday's doubles. Aubone and Soriano outlasted Osuna and Marcel Lara, 7-5, 3-6, 12-10, 6-8, 14-12, in a four-hour marathon to reduce Mexico's advantage to 2-1.

In Saturday's singles, Garcia upset Soriano and Osuna beat Aubone.

The survivor of this series will meet the U.S. at Cleveland, Aug. 12-14.

Roller Derby May Return Here in July

Attendance at tonight's game at Memorial Arena may determine if teams in the International Roller Derby League will be returning to Victoria this summer.

Roller Derby officials are reported considering another Victoria visit in July.

In tonight's game, starting at 8, Northwest Cardinals will meet New York Chiefs in a clash of 10-player teams — five men and five women.

Last Monday, the Cards skated to a 29-28 victory at the arena before about 1,800 fans.

Victorians Grab B.C. Trap Titles

Two Victoria Gun Club shooters collected titles Sunday in the British Columbia trap-shooting championships at Vancouver Gun Club.

Doug Beaumont won the handicap championship by blasting 95 of a 100 targets.

Rick Bate captured the junior crown.

MINNIE ABHORS FIGHTS EXCEPT HER VERY OWN

ST. HELENS, England (UPI)—A 57-year-old grandmother charged into a mob of brawling rugby football players this weekend and battered them with her handbag.

"I cannot stand there and see dirty play," dclared Minnie Cotton after six policemen had dragged her off the turf during the final game of the Rugby League championships.

"In the future I shall watch from the stand and leave my weapons at home," promised Minnie, who less than a month ago broke up a semifinal rugby match by pummeling a 210-pound rugby player with her umbrella.

Millions of television viewers watched three policemen haul Minnie off the field after that incident.

Fran Morse Captures Victoria Rifle Prize

Veteran Franie Morse returned to the winner's circle Saturday at Heal's Range.

The Canadian Scottish marksman won the Albert Ashe Shield in a Victoria and District Rifle Association shoot as he fired 101 out of a possible 105.

Two points behind in shooting from 200, 500 and 600-yard ranges was Dr. Jim Hatter.

Team competition for the Gordon Trophy, originally scheduled for Sunday, has been postponed until next Sunday.

'NOT UNTIL JULY . . .' '. . . OR MAYBE NOVEMBER'

Percival Must Wait to Have His Day

TORONTO (CP)—Fitness expert Lloyd Percival of Toronto, anxious to clear himself of charges that he gave stimulants and sedatives to his athletes, will probably have to wait until July or even November to present his defence.

Pete Beach of Toronto, chairman of the Canadian Track and Field Association, said Sunday he does not intend to deal with the case until the group meets in Edmonton July 15-16.

The case will probably be referred to the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, which could wait until its annual meeting at Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 12-14 before dealing with it, Beach said.

Percival, one of Canada's best known fitness counsellors and coach of the Don Mills Track Club here, has been charged with recommending and giving his track and field athletes drugs in a letter written by middle-distance runner Bill Crothers of Markham, Ont.

Fred Foot, Crothers's coach and chairman of the Central Ontario branch of the AAU of Canada, has confirmed that Crothers sent the letter to the association March 31.

Foot said an investigation is now under way and that the case has been forwarded to Beach.

Beach said from his home that he had heard nothing officially on the matter.

He said both the Canadian Track and Field Association and the AAU of Canada do not have the money to call people from across the country for extra meetings and will have to deal with it at the regular sessions.

Percival, meanwhile, has said that he is only interested in a complete clearance of the charges. He is being guided by legal counsel.

The parents and executive of the Don Mills club issued a statement Sunday expressing their confidence in Percival and stating they had never seen drugs or stimulants being used in the club.

In addition, a letter being sent from about "nine" parents to Percival said in part:

"Throughout, we have been in a position to observe your actions at first hand and have never seen, nor would we have permitted, the use of drugs or stimulants as charged."

Horseshoe Tourney Set At Carnarvon

Leading horseshoe tossers from the B.C. mainland and Vancouver Island will match skills at Carnarvon Park on June 4.

They'll be competing in a double-loss elimination tournament staged by the Victoria Horseshoe Club as part of Oak Bay's diamond jubilee celebrations.

Ringer-experts in the open division will start tossing at 2 p.m. in a chase that will produce a trophy and $25 for the winner.

Contestants in "B" class will be shooting for a trophy when they start firing at 10 a.m.

Cricket Leaders Fight to a Draw

Castaways and Cowichan gave it a try Sunday at Beacon Hill but they still haven't snapped their first-place deadlock in the Victoria and District Cricket Association.

Both sides remained unbeaten as they played to a draw.

Batting first, Castaways ran up 133 runs and Cowichan had replied with 139 for eight wickets when time ran out.

Bulwark for Cowichan was team captain and opening batsman Pete Josselyn, who scored 81 not out.

Peter Seale (46 runs) and Dave Clarke (39) did the most damage against Cowichan bowling, in which Jack Dicksen took four wickets for 49 runs and Al Murray toppled four for 48.

In Saturday's matches, Albions whipped Oak Bay by nine wickets and Incogs defeated Alcos by 133 runs.

Albions routed Oak Bay for 40 runs at Beacon Hill as Mike Ali captured four wickets at a cost of only five runs and Alvin Carter took five for 13.

In the Albion innings, Carter batted up 17, not out, and Brian Figgins scored 20 as Albions reached 41 runs while losing only one wicket.

Incogs were hitting them long and often at Windsor Park and declared after blasting 209 runs for four wickets, Bob Niven set the pace with 97 runs, Jim Wenman added 67 and Roger Allen 32.

Alcos were dismissed for 76 runs.

Costa Rica Wins Third Straight On Late Charge

VANCOUVER (CP) — Costa Rica, the horse that usually wins but doesn't get much favor from the bettors, added the $5,000-added Speed Handicap to his laurels Saturday at Exhibition Park.

The fleet B.C.-bred horse came from third and last place to overhaul Sweet Life and Westbury Road in the final furlong.

There was no betting on the race because of the small field of only three horses.

It was the third straight win for Costa Rica this season. He has won four of six starts in 1966.

Time for the 6½ furlongs was 1:16 4-5.

MOST VALUABLE player in Washington State junior college baseball circles is Bob Burrows. Former Oak Bay High ace, who went to Spokane College on basketball scholarship, hit .600, drove in 10 runs and belted two homers in recent state championship tournament, won by Everett. Burrows returns to Victoria next week.

MEETS UNITED

Columbus Wallops Burnaby

It will be Victoria United and Vancouver Columbus in the final of the Pacific Coast Soccer League playoffs.

Columbus, hit by injuries and with several juniors in their lineup, earned the spot against United in the June 12 final by thumping Burnabys Villa 5-1 Sunday in a semi-final replay at Vancouver.

The clubs had tied 1-1 in their first playoff clash.

United marched into the final on May 15 by upsetting the Canadian-champion Firefighters 3-0.

Heroes of the Columbus triumph were Dan Comuzzi and Bob Smith, trigger-men on the new two-pronged, spearhead system used on attack by the Italians.

Comuzzi scored four goals and assisted on a marker by Smith, who set up three of Comuzzi's goals.

It was 1-1 at half-time but Columbus overwhelmed Burnaby in the closing stages.

In Victoria, United worked to stay in condition Sunday by playing an exhibition game at Mount View High School against Brodies Bakery of the Victoria and District League. United waltzed to a 6-1 victory as centre-forward Jim Jamieson scored three goals.

United manager Fred Magee said today an extra bus would be chartered to accommodate Victoria fans wishing to attend the June 12 final at Vancouver.

Return bus fare will be $6 and reservations may be made by calling Magee (383-3303) or Carlie Lewis (384-2917).

Moseley Back in Action With Flawless Flinging

Rawlings' veteran left-hander Des Moseley came out of retirement Sunday to lead his club to a tight 1-0 win over Courtenay in what had to be the feature game during weekend action in the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League.

Moseley, who will team up once again with righthander George Brice, could provide Rawlings with the league's best one-two pitching punch. Moseley fanned 15 and gave up only two hits.

Herb Weatherall drove in the only run Moseley needed in the top of the fourth after George Holt singled and stole second base.

Courtenay's Chum McLellan, whose 4-0 won and lost record is tops in the circuit, tagged Brice with a 3-1 loss during the opening game of the Courtenay doubleheader.

Meanwhile, Kings split a doubleheader with Chemainus at Hampton Park. Chemainus' Tom Nicholson picked up an 8-5 win in the first game before Cliff Rutledge retaliated with a 4-2 victory for Kings in the nightcap.

Saturday at Hampton Park, league-leading Greaves showed plenty of pitching and power by mauling Chemainus 15-0 and 15-1. The winners pummelled Chemainus pitching for 33 hits in the doubleheader, eight of them for extra bases.

Bob Bowles led the attack in the opener with six rbi's on a homer and two singles.

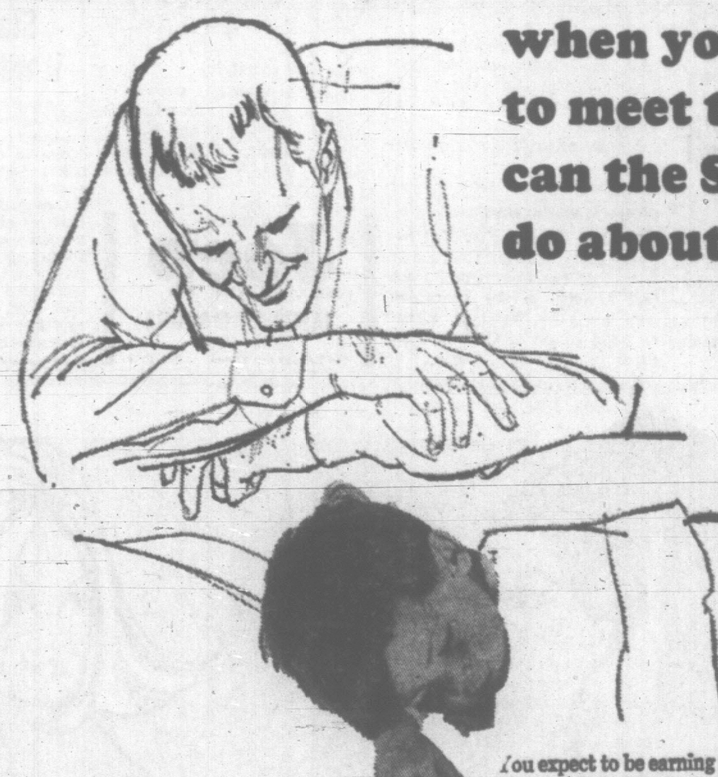
Newspaper Advertising Stimulates Buying



An ironical fact of young family life:
Your financial responsibilities are often greatest when you can least afford to meet them. What can the Sun Life man do about it?

You expect to be earning more in a few years, maybe a lot more, but that doesn't help now. You have a family to support until they're on their own. A wife to support through life. The children's education to think of. Payments on your home? Car? Major appliance?

Hard to handle? They are for most people. But ironically these and other expenses often mean that you can't afford the life insurance protection you need to assure that they'll be paid, whether or not you're there to do it.

That's why Sun Life has created the Family Security Benefit Plan. What does it feature? Its basis is good permanent life insurance coverage with savings and retirement benefits. But the real logical and economical advantage is that you may also include renewable term insurance to cover your years of heavy financial responsibilities at a special low, low rate. Up to twice the amount of your permanent coverage. And if your needs change, you also have the right to convert the term insurance to permanent life insurance at any time until you are 57, regardless of your health.

A small car should be seen and not heard.

We make them small. Small outside. And we make them quiet. Quiet inside. The Renault 10 Major has more soundproofing material in it than the average domestic makes. The 4½ cubic feet of foam rubber we use in the seats also keeps the noise level down. And because the Renault has a sealed liquid cooling system (with anti-freeze guaranteed to — 40°F.) you don't have to listen to a big noisy fan. If you want to have a car that doesn't skimp on your personal comfort, we'd like you to consider a Renault. It's made in Canada. It has 5 coats of Canadian primer and paint and 6 rust-proofings. It's quiet to drive. Inexpensive to operate. And it deserves a test-drive. Renault prices start under $1,900.

Oak Bay Nips Nanaimo For Prep Track Honors

CAROL KITCHEN
. . . brilliant 220

PORT ALBERNI—Oak Bay High captured the team championship here Saturday in the second annual Vancouver Island high school track and field meet but a swift miss from Esquimalt grabbed the biggest portion of glory.

Sprint whiz Carol Kitchen, 17, posted some spectacular times on her way to winning the Colonist Trophy as the meet's outstanding girl athlete for the second successive year.

Another sprinter, 18-year-old Dan Thatchuk of Nanaimo, captured the boys' aggregate award.

Oak Bay finished with a team total of 59 points and Nanaimo was next in line with 44½. Three Victoria-area schools waged a close battle for the next three places with Claremont finishing ahead of Esquimalt and Victoria High.

It was no surprise that with the meet in only its second year new records were set in 15 of the 23 events. However, there were several sparkling performers who set marks that could prove tough to topple in future years.

CLOSE BATTLE

Perhaps the brightest effort of all was turned in by Miss Kitchen as she won the 220-yard dash by three strides in 25.8 seconds. Last week's winner in the Vancouver prep championships was clocked in 26.1 — a mainland record.

Carol also trimmed a tenth of a second off the 60-yard dash mark with a time of 7.2 seconds. She also won the 100, but her time of 11.7 was above the record.

Miss Kitchen still needed points for anchoring her relay team to victory in order to beat out Campbell River's Wendy Grant for the aggregate crown, 17 points to 15.

Miss Grant won the long jump and the shot put, was second in the high jump and third in the discus.

HUME SETS MARKS

Thatchuck didn't set a record while winning his sprint finals, taking the 100 in 10.1 and the 220 in 23.1, but he nipped a tenth of a second off the former mark of 23 seconds in a 220 heat.

Thatchuk picked up two more points in the triple jump to edge Cliff Ridley of Victoria by half a point in the aggregate race. Thatchuk, third in the triple jump, earned 14 points.

Ridley won the event with a distance of 41 feet, 10 inches.

Steve Hume of Mount Douglas was another standout performer. Hume set new records in winning both the mile and half mile. Steve's Island records were 1:59 for the half and 4:44.2 for the mile.

Mount View's Carol Baker gave future students something to shoot at when she boosted the girls' discus mark by almost 14 feet, to 102 feet.

Al Frumento, of Campbell River, winner of the event last year, raised his pole vault record by more than a foot as he cleared 11' 9".

Oak Bay's team triumph in the colorful meet was gained largely on picking up a number of unexpected points in field events.

McCall Captures Junior Tee Crown

Dave McCall picked the right day to shoot his best-ever golf score.

The 15-year-old swinger from Uplands ignored pressure to fire a three-over-par 73 on the second round Sunday at Victoria Golf Club to win the city junior championship by four strokes.

McCall, who has three years of junior eligibility remaining, was a consistent performer on his two trips around the Oak Bay layout. Dave fashioned a 76 on his morning round and was a deadly short putter in the afternoon as he finished the 36-hole tourney with 149.

Deadlocked at 153 were Colwood's John Morgan and Cec Ferguson of Gorge Vale. Morgan earned second place as he defeated Ferguson on the first hole of a playoff.

VANCOUVER TRIP

Fourth place was also decided by playoff after defending champion Don Billsborough and Uplands clubmate Albert Cliff tied at 154. Cliff won that one, also on the first extra hole.

All five top finishers will be sent to Vancouver in July to compete in the B.C. junior tournament. Expenses of the first two will be paid by the B.C. Golf Association and the Victoria District Golf Association will pay expenses of the other three.

Sunday's tourney didn't produce a prize for Brian Carberry but it was still an exciting day for the Oak Bay youngster. Brian dropped his tee shot for a hole-in-one on the 120-yard eighth hole.

Fireball Saturday Sizzler

For Bill "Fireball" Powell, Saturday night is the happiest night in the week.

Powell wore his usual Saturday night smile at Western Speedway after wheeling to victory in the "A" main event of jalopy racing meet.

The previous Saturday, the Fireball powered his machine to a triumph in the "A" main, but on last Monday's holiday program he unplaced in the main event.

Powell, who also won the third heat before 2,400 fans, was followed to the wire in Saturday's 25-lap feature by Larry Gilbert and Pete Poderenko.

Saturday's results:

Trophy Dash—Rick O'Dell.
First heat—1. Colin de Macedo; 2. Rick O'Dell; 3. Pete Poderenko.
Second heat—1. Bill Williams; 2. Earl Pollard; 3. Barry Cook.
Third heat—1. Fireball Powell; 2. Fred Anderson; 3. Wally Allison.
Fourth heat—1. Larry Gilbert; 2. Ivan Gowdy; 3. Alec Praisly.
Shoe Race — 1. Colin de Macedo; 2. Rick O'Dell; 3. Barry Cook.
"B" main event—1. Wally Allison; 2. Pete Poderenko; 3. Barry Cook.
"A" main event—1. Fireball Powell; 2. Larry Gilbert; 3. Pete Poderenko.

Swim Mark Topped As Olympians Win

Victoria Olympians collected a Canadian record and scored a 152 116 victory over Burnaby Tyees in a swimming meet Saturday night at the Crystal Garden.

Cracking the Canadian mark was the 15-16-year-old boys' relay team of Dave Owen, Ken Munn, Dave Cruise and Grant Treloar.

Among other Victoria winners were:

Laurie Cosby, winner of 13-14-year-old girls' butterfly, backstroke and freestyle.

Brenda Meredith, who scored victories in freestyle, backstroke and butterfly races.

Jim Gollmer, with victories in boys' 11-12 butterfly, breaststroke and freestyle.

Arlene Henderson, winner of freestyle, butterfly and breaststroke for girls of 15 and 16.

AT GAME CLUB

Rifle Squad Wins Trophy

It was riflemen against shotgunners Sunday at Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association.

Honors went to the rifle gang in the annual club duel for the "Well Shot Up" Trophy. They chalked up an aggregate score of 190 out of a possible 300 while the scattergun boys managed only 159.

Rifleman Jim Hatter took top individual honors in the match, which combined rifle and trap events. Hatter was high man in rifle and in trap.

Also on winning team were Ernie Foulser, Gordie Johnson, Bob Kirk, Garry Williams and David Hatter.

Western Loop Is Too Rich For Terriers

SASKATOON (CP) — The Western Canada Senior Hockey League may operate with five instead of six teams in the 1966-67 season, it was announced at a league meeting in Saskatoon.

Yorkton Terriers were not represented at the meeting and informed league secretary Harvey Dryden that the team was not interested in operating in the WCSHL under the same setup as last season.

Dryden said a Yorkton spokesman hold him: "The WCSHL is too rich for our blood."

The 1965-66 league consisted of Yorkton, Saskatoon Quakers, Regina Caps and Moose Jaw Pla-Mors from Saskatchewan, and Calgary Spurs and Edmonton Nuggets from Alberta.

AT CEDAR HILL

Petch, Fulton Collect Titles

Sid Petch and Alastair Fulton grabbed the titles Sunday in the third annual John Merriman Memorial and Cedar Hill Open tournament at Cedar Hill Golf Club.

Weilding a hot putter on the well-groomed greens of his home course, Petch, a 14-handicapper, topped the record field of 187 entrants in the handicap division as he posted a six-over-par tally of 71.

His net score of 57 earned Petch the John Merriman Memorial Trophy and a set of golf irons valued at $175.

One stroke behind with net 58s and sharing second place were two Colwood swingers — Theo Grier and Roger Emery.

Sharing fourth place at 59 were Ash Valdal and Lou Heming.

THIRD EXTRA HOLE

Fulton had to work overtime to become the third winner of the Open crown.

The lean, long-hitting Scotsman fired a birdie three on the third hole of a three-way playoff to win the Cedar Hill Golf Club Trophy and a merchandise prize of $75.

Fulton and two Gorge Vale clubmates — Bill Wightman and Brian Lindsay — finished the regulation 18 holes in a deadlock with three-over 68s.

In the playoff, all three parred the first two holes and Fulton picked up the marbles after dropping his second shot beside the flag on the 280-yard third hole.

ONE STROKE BACK

One stroke behind and tied for fourth place were Roger Bishop and Doug Peden.

Five other players — Bill Court, Hal Jacobsen, Gordie Jones, R. Bartlett and Rick Bath — also had 69s but Bishop and Peden broke into the prizes on the strength of better scores (33) on the back nine.

Ricky Kent won the long-driving contest.

CHESS WINNERS

Winners of games in the Victoria City Chess Club's ladder competition were Aug Strodyk, Reg Bennett, Al Sheard, Jim Hobson, Charles Birch, B. Stephenson, Frank Hasse and Ed Seedhouse.

LEAPING FROM WAVE TO WAVE, the 40-foot sloop Diosa drives her way through the seas that whipped up in Juan de Fuca Strait when 40-mile winds struck on Saturday. The storm conditions justified the tightening safety regulations that had been imposed on yachts and crews for this year's contest. Deck crews gave belt harnesses and life-lines a good workout as they fought to keep sails driving.

TANDEM, the Spencer 35, owned and skippered by Theo De La Mare, was first to cross the line in this year's Juan de Fuca race. The 62-year-old skipper has only been sailing 4½ years and attributes his success in his first try at the Juan de Fuca to the calibre of his crew. They were Lt.-Cmdr. Bill Walker, former skipper of HMCS Oriole; Gordie Nickells, Dr. Bob Grunderson and "Rocky" Rochfort.—(James McVie Photo)

Pat's Galenaia Stood the Test Like a Giant

By PAT DUFOUR
Times Women's Editor

Our little sloop Galenaia won a victory Sunday. She didn't win the Juan de Fuca race. But she won a contest against the sea in a 75-mile ordeal that saw us take every condition in a deep-water yachtsman's book. And she was the smallest in the race.

Our crew of three was George, my husband and Galenaia's skipper, myself and Mack Lewis.

As we jockeyed for position near the start line at Brotchie Ledge on Saturday morning we felt as David felt when he decided to take a shot at Goliath.

In light winds we jockeyed around, avoiding the risk of fouling the larger yachts that set off on the Swiftsure's 136-mile sailout 15 minutes before us.

It was as if a mountain had blanketed us when the 66-foot sloop Spirit bore down on us, the windward side of her huge Genoa sail towering high above and stealing every puff of air from our sails.

●

On our first leg over to the Canadian side there was no indication that this would turn out to be the most gruelling Juan de Fuca race on record.

The winds were light and had to be wooed and our purpose in choosing this course, rather than setting out for Race Rocks and the American side of the strait, was to be able to play the back eddies of the Canadian side, benefiting from the lift of the favorable tide.

When we reached the shoreline we made the mistake of going in too close, thus losing what little wind force there was. So, trying to retrieve as quickly as possible, we tacked out for the American shores.

When the wind whipped up to 40 and the waves looked as if they'd swallow us we were working our way over on the other side of Race Rocks.

How glad I was at this point that Bill Lapworth had such conditions in mind when he designed our midget ocean racer.

Gunwales under part of the time, we carried on until offshore at Angeles Point. There, we decided to reef down so as to be able to ride out the storm in greater safety and comfort and avoid being slowed by heeling over and spilling wind from our sails.

As if by a miracle, a quiet sheltered bay stood right in front of us. Estimating that a quick mainsail adjustment there would save us time we headed in, dropped anchor. In five minutes we were out in the boiling Strait again.

Then the battle began. Short tacking all the way along the shore, we fought our way up and it seemed hours before we could spot Pilar Pont, which we knew lay not too far from Slip Point. There we'd turn in for Clallam Bay and the rounding of the coast guard vessel that was to be our mark.

Hard as we tried, we found that we couldn't make Slip Point before the hour when the wind dropped to a whisper.

From 2 a.m. to 11 a.m. we crabbed our way across the Strait, with no wind and the tide against us, a heavy swell stealing what progress our flapping sails made.

●

Finally the wind began to rise. An hour later we were able to set our spinnaker and see her golden fleur-de-lis filled above our bow. Two hours later, we were off on a gallop, the spinnaker flying us along so that at times we surfed.

Right through the Strait, through the angry rip tides off Race Rocks, Galenaia rode like a champion.

We felt proud of our midget, knowing that six of our 20 competitors had been forced to quit because of conditions and faulty gear.

We were thrilled to know that another of Lapworth's boats had come through with flying colors, Doxy 11, the Cal 28 owned and skippered by Peter Coombs, also of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, had won the race, coming over the line in the early hours of the morning.

The larger Tandem, a Spencer 35 owned by RVYC's Theo De La Mare, had crossed the line before her but Doxy II managed to wrestle the trophy from her, beating her time by two minutes on corrected time set by the ratings of the two yachts.

●

Lapworth was also represented with one of his Cal 25s. Saga, owned by Jeremy Hewett and skippered by Ned Ashe, last year's winner, finished in seventh position.

This year's race was also a triumph for local designer Ray Richards.

His 26-foot sloop Haida design proved herself to be a top contender when Don McCowan's Haida, with Denny Coverdale as skipper, came through in third position.

The rest of the yachts who completed the race came in this order: Scutum, G. Mervyn, West Vancouver Yacht Club, fourth; Kalara, L. Walters, Royal Vancouver Yacht Club, fifth; Whistler, Sid Halls, RVYC, sixth; Surfer, T. Repard, Royal Van., eighth; Mutineer II, S. Toy, WVYC, ninth; Antares, J. Allan, WVYC, tenth; Galenaia, 11th; Traveda, L. Murrell, Royal Van., 12th, and Sea Urchin, H. White, Nanaimo Yacht Club, 13th.

Minister Cool Toward Compulsory Arbitration

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said today he isn't convinced the Australian system of compulsory arbitration is the best for B.C.

He was commenting on suggestions Friday by federal Labor Minister Jack Nicholson that adoption in Canada of compulsory arbitration courts merited serious consideration.

The federal minister also said his department has given "serious consideration" to compulsory arbitration in recent years.

Mr. Peterson said his department is interested in the practices in other countries of resolving labor disputes.

"I'm sure that those who advocate the Australian system of compulsory arbitration are sincere in their desire to improve labor relations by adopting this practise.

"But I am not convinced the Australian system is the best for B.C."

The minister said his department has looked at the Australian system and his officials have discussed it with responsible officials from Australia.

But with roughly half the population of Canada, Australia lost about 10 times the number of working days through strike action.

CHARGE BY IWA MAN CALLED 'RIDICULOUS'

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said today there is nothing to allegations made Friday by the local president of the International Woodworkers of America.

"He is so far off base it's ridiculous on the face of it," he said.

Murray Drew, IWA president in Victoria, said it appeared to him the wood industry and Forest Industrial Relations "had the ear of the government" and knew beforehand that Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz would be appointed an industrial inquiry commissioner in the current contract dispute.

Mr. Peterson said "our whole desire" is to avert a strike or lockout in the dispute between the 26,000-member IWA and the 120-company FIR.

The dispute involved the province's major industry and "I gave a lot of consideration before taking this important step."

Campbell Sets Fall Hearings

Municipal Act Report Ready Next Session

By JIM HUME
City Hall Reporter

A report of an investigation of the Municipal Act will be presented to the legislature in time for the 1967 sitting.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell said this morning public hearings will start in October and should take two months to complete.

Mr. Campbell made the statement following an address to the 27th annual conference of the Municipal Officers' Association of British Columbia meeting in the Empress Hotel.

"A preliminary meeting has already been held with the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities," Mr. Campbell said.

"Further meetings will take place between now and September when the UBCM holds its annual convention in Penticton. By that time we hope to have a list of recommendations drawn up for workshop study.

ACROSS PROVINCE

"Following the UBCM study session and with the co-operative approval of that organization we shall set up a series of public hearings throughout the province."

This morning's promise of a complete revamping of the Municipal Act marked the second time in almost as many days the minister had assured municipal government that major revisions of the 1957 act are on the way.

Last Friday in Campbell River he assured delegates to the annual meeting of Vancouver Island Municipalities that the long overdue overhaul is a matter of serious concern.

One of the major recommendations will be a change in the percentage vote to pass a referendum from 60 per cent to 51 per cent.

This morning he promised municipal officers his department will lean heavily on their organization for advice during the preliminary discussions.

E. E. Chace, president of the association, said he is happy the minister will seek advice from salaried civic officials.

"We were concerned about the revising of the act," he said. "And we were going to suggest to the minister that he call on the experience of the association and tell him that we would be available at any time with any assistance we could give. We are pleased that he has beaten us to the punch."

The three-day conference will study various problems during its Victoria sessions.

This afternoon W. B. Bolton, chief of the federal government finance section of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, was scheduled to speak on "Municipal Finance Statistics Today."

Also scheduled for this afternoon was a panel on the problems of municipalities, small and large.

CHAIRMEN NAMED

J. E. Hiebert, Qualicum Beach, was to chair the panel discussing the problems of smaller municipalities while James Bramley, city comptroller for Victoria, was to chair the panel on the problems of larger municipalities in accounting and financing.

EX-SEAMAN GAS VICTIM AT ENDAKO

A former able seaman at the Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt, was found dead Sunday in a cabin at Endako, 100 miles west of Prince George.

David Mitchell Erskine, 23, apparently asphyxiated when he fell asleep without realizing a propane gas stove was turned on, said RCMP.

Erskine was discharged from the navy in April last year and recently applied for a job at the Endako Molybdenum Mine.

While in the navy he lived at Suite 1, 951 Bay Street. He gave his home address as Hagensburg, B.C.

STUPICH PANS MICA

300% Increase In Dam Costs?

B.C. Hydro will have to pay $150 million more than the $50 million predicted by Premier Bennett for completing the Mica Dam project on the Columbia River, David Stupich (NDP—Nanaimo and the Islands), said here Sunday.

Mr. Stupich, an accountant, addressed the annual meeting of Esquimalt New Democratic Party Association which re-elected L. J. Stephenson as president. J. H. Fowler was elected vice-president, Mrs. May Cousins secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Isabelle Reader delegate to the provincial council.

Mr. Stupich said the $273 million advance payment which was to finance all but $50 million of the three-dam Columbia project will have been used up along with its interest earnings by the end of 1967 when six years of construction will still remain.

He said all interest earnings of the payment from 1968 will be balanced by interest charges Hydro will have to pay on its progressive construction borrowings.

Only new money coming in from outside of B.C. will be the $71 million to be paid by the U.S. for flood control benefits and this will be insufficient to complete the contemplated work.

GAP FILLING

So, instead of paying $50 million for half of the generating facilities at Mica Dam with B.C. funds, the authority will be faced with filling a gap totalling $200 million, Mr. Stupich claimed.

He also accused Premier Bennett of vetoing the Gen. A. G. L. MacNaughton plan for diverting the Kootenay into the Columbia because it would have produced more power than the plan finally adopted.

Mr. Stupich said this was done because Premier Bennett was afraid of being embarrassed by too much power at a time when he was having difficulty justifying the huge Peace River project.

But now the province is being told that more power will be needed in the near future.

Ask The Times

Q. What is the scientific explanation for:

"Red sky at night
Shepherd's delight;
Red sky in the morning,
Shepherd's warning."

Asks M.M.C.

A. Victoria Weather Office says that though this verse weather forecast does not always hold true, it is a valuable guideline. Here is why:

To see a red sunset, the sinking sun must be reflecting on clouds to the west of the viewer, or figuratively "above" the sinking sun. Now since the predominant flow of air is westerly, those same clouds will have blown away to the west by morning.

Conversely, if the sky is red at sunrise, the clouds the sun is turning red will, later on in the day be over the viewer who is west of the rising sun.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Conciliation Branch Gets New Chief

R. A. MacDonald was appointed chief conciliation officer for the province today.

He moves up from supervisor of the labor standards branch in Vancouver to succeed R. G. Clements who retires after almost 30 years in the department, Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said.

Mr. MacDonald was born in Victoria. He was educated here and in Ladysmith.

He worked as a locomotive fireman for the E & N Railway and also was employed by the Empress Hotel before serving with the Royal Canadian Navy during the war.

He joined the labor department in 1951 as an industrial relations officer in Nanaimo, transferring to Vancouver in 1959 where he became senior industrial relations officer two years later.

Esquimalt NDP To Name Candidate

The New Democratic Party in Esquimalt provincial constituency will hold a nomination convention Saturday, June 25th, at 8 p.m.

Spokesman Geoff Mitchell said place of the meeting hasn't yet been decided.

VANCOUVER GARBAGE SENT HERE

At least one Vancouver drugstore has solved its garbage problem with a mail-order service to Victoria.

Salesman Karel de Roo recently ordered a small package of prescription drugs from the drugstore.

It arrived here today in a large package stuffed with discarded cigarette cartons and other garbage which Vancouverites have been hard-pressed to get rid of since the outside workers' strike which stopped garage pickups.

Mr. de Roo wonders if there might be some problems with postal workers' handling "hot" merchandise.

Car Kills Pedestrian

An elderly Alberni woman died in hospital early today after an accident with a car late Sunday night on Beaver Creek Road in Alberni.

RCMP said Mrs. Margaret Frances Carnduff, 78, was crossing the road to her home at 11:45 p.m. when she was struck by a car driven by Walter Leroy Barber, of Port Alberni.

She died in West Coast General Hospital three hours later.

Mr. Barber told police the woman crossed the road immediately behind an oncoming car and he could not see her.

An inquest will begin tonight.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Inferior Sunglasses May Lead to Headaches, Nausea

Lowman

Sunglasses have become a fashion accessory. They are eye-catchers and are as gay and uninhibited as the sports and outdoor life for which they are designed Selecting sunglasses today is such fun that we are likely to forget that they should be chosen for the job they are to do as well as for the way they look. It is most important to have good lenses as well as attractive frames. The purpose of sunglasses is to reduce the amount of light entering the eyes, and good lenses filter out much of the infrared and ultra-violet rays.

Dr. Ashley King, administrative director of the New York State Optometric Association, told me that all colors in good glasses can do this but that some colors, like green, brown and grey, are better because they do not change the tonal value of the colors you see. He cautioned that many people think that any kind of dark glass will protect the eyes. However, a bright glare such as you get from snow or water can give a serious retina burn on long exposure if the lenses do not adequately filter out the harmful invisible rays.

The lens should be your first consideration. It is difficult for the layman to know how to select glasses with good lenses Concerning this, Dr. King said. "There is a problem in recognizing good quality, protective glass, because sometimes price is no indication. It may just reflect expensive frames. The best bet is to buy glasses with lenses made by leading ophthalmic manufacturers or seek professional advice. Many dealers carry good glasses but often poor ones are mixed in with the good ones at the same price, without the dealer knowing it."

According to Dr. King, good sunglasses cost form $6 or $7 up, with most of the increase after that due to the cost of the frames. He warns that cheap sunglasses are not only plain window glass, but many have distortions which can cause headaches, eye strain or nausea.

If you wear prescription eye glasses you would be wise to invest in a pair of prescription sunglasses. This simply means that your own prescription is ground into the sunglasses. This usually costs no more than about five dollars above ordinary prescription lenses. Dr. King gives you a thrifty tip. He suggests that you save your old frames to use for prescription sunglasses. Then you will have two pairs of glasses at nominal cost, and the sunglasses are good emergency backups in case you break your usual glasses.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Pop Giving Kids Bad Example

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I own a boat. We both love fishing and sometimes we stay on the river all night. Here's the problem: My husband can't swim a stroke and he refuses to wear a life preserver. He says he has to die sometime and he doesn't care how he goes.

We have five children, Abby. They range from 13 years old down to three. I get frightened half to death when we are in the boat with him and the waters get rough or a storm comes up. I am becoming a nervous wreck over this. Can you suggest something?

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Tell your "hero" that even if HE doesn't care how he goes, YOU do. And you also care WHEN! Remind him that you didn't have those five children without his help, and you don't intend to raise them alone either. That ought to buoy the old boy up.

DEAR ABBY: About three weeks ago all of our relatives and several of our friends received wedding invitations to a mutual relative's wedding. We received no invitation and felt put out, but said nothing. You don't just call up people and ask them how come you weren't invited, do you? Three days before the wedding, I got this tearful phone call from the bride herself, apologizing all over the place because she'd heard we didn't get an invitation.

She said we were on her guest list and the invitation must have gotten "lost" in the mail. She begged us to come, but I hadn't shopped for a gift, and I had nothing to wear, so I declined. Many of our relatives said they thought we should have gone. I would like your opinion.

OVERLOOKED

DEAR OVERLOOKED: I think you should have attended. If you had not been wanted, the bride would not have telephoned you personally. Your gift could have come later, and your attire would have been of little importance.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about a high school that makes rules about how short a girl can wear her skirt? Also, they have rules about how the boys can wear their hair, and they won't let him raise a beard or mustache. Isn't that denying a person his individual freedom?

Don't you think if the kids' parents don't care, the teachers and principal should stay out of it? Please don't duck this question, Abby. We kids at Lincoln High want to know where you stand.

THE KIDS AT LINC.

DEAR KIDS: I think it should be up to the parents, not the school, to determine how students should dress and wear their hair. But more important than fashions and hair styles is RESPECT FOR THE RULES.

If those who think the rules are unfair would invest as much time and energy in attempting to change them, as they do in defying them, the rules COULD be changed. And that, in my opinion, is the best way to strike a blow for individual freedom.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STUNNED BUT SILENT IN ELIZABETH, N.J.: Tell your hostess. If a very good friend of yours had had money taken from her purse while a guest in your home, wouldn't you want to be told about it?

SHOPPING GUIDE

All Bargain-Hunters Need This 'Weapon'

By Penny Saver

I finally had a chance to see a performance that I shall never forget. I was standing in the sidelines, watching a woman in one of her natural habitats — the supermarket. My "victim" was a college student, working for the summer and sharing an apartment with one of her friends. She was doing the weekly grocery shopping on a very tight budget. The first thing she did was stand in one of the aisles, looking very lost and bewildered, and very disgusted with herself. She had left her shopping list at home.

She was progressing at a good clip, however, until she came to a special on canned goods. Six 10-ounce cans of product "A" were an advertised bargain for $1. Product "B" was offering three 15-ounce cans for 90 cents. Our college friend was determined to get the most for her money and decided that product "A" offered one ounce of the goods for approximately 1.66 cents, and the product "B", one ounce for 2 cents. Naturally she chose product "A".

The whole trip took a comparatively long time, considering the items that passed her rugged test and landed in her basket. I have found an item that will aid our college friend, and every other shopper who has the same problem of how to get the most for her money.

This device is a calculator that takes all mental calisthenics and guess-work out of comparing bargains. It is a turn-table with the shelf prices ranging from five cents to $5 around the outside. The inside wheel, which is the moveable section, is marked with figures from one to 100, which denote the number of ounces, pounds, or fluid ounces of the items you are querying.

To use this calculator, simply locate the shelf price, and place the weight of the product opposite the price. There is a window with an indicator to show exactly what one weight-unit of the product sells for. This way, it is simple to compare different items. First of all, you must convert the weight to one unit—for example, if one product is one pound four ounces, convert it to 20 ounces. There is no guess-work to that either, as there is a table on the back of the calculator.

These boons to the shopper sell for 50 cents each, and will save money for you.

If you want to know where to order one of these, give Penny a call at 382-3131. The price, 50 cents, includes postage and tax.

TOPS GOWN OF CHIFFON OVER TAFFETA

Dainty Coat of Crystal Chiffon

A floor-length sleeveless coat of crystal chiffon topped the gown of similar fabric over taffeta worn by Beverlee Bernice Clark, recently, when she exchanged marriage vows and rings with Daniel Jack McLeod.

The coat, which gathered to a slight train at the back, was banded with lace at the neckline, front closing and around the hemline. The gown was styled on empire-lines, featuring a high neckline and sleeves ending in lily points. Her bouffant veil misted to shoulder-length from a satin pillbox headpiece, trimmed with sequin appliques, and she carried a single white orchid.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated Esquimalt United Church when Rev. Hartwell B. Illsey heard the marriage vows exchanged between the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Clark, 4042 Fred Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Les McLeod of Edson, Alta. Mr. Clark gave his daughter in marriage and Mrs. R. Wauless was organist.

Empire-line gowns of yellow crystal chiffon over taffeta, trimmed with bands of lace, were worn by the bride's attendants, the Misses Diane McMillan, Vancouver and Irma Kowalski, Kamloops. Their headpieces were yellow pillboxes, starred with sequins and edged with a short veil, and they carried bouquets of yellow and white rosebuds and white gladioli.

James Dyer, Prince George, was best man for his brother. Ushering the guests to their pews, marked with white ribbon bows, were the bride's brothers, John and David Clark, and Bob McLeod, brother of the groom.

Jack Lowrence proposed the toast to the bride at the reception following in the Red Lion Motor Inn. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake and a dinner was followed by dancing.

The newlyweds are now making their home at 1262 Oxford Street, following a honeymoon trip touring the provincial interior. For travelling, the new Mrs. McLeod donned a two-piece cocktail suit of pale pink, accented with white and pink accessories. She completed the outfit with the groom's gift of white fox stole.

WED 50 YEARS

Wednesday will be a "red-letter day" to mark a golden occasion for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Lindsey, 2210 Lydia Street. The couple is celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Lindsey was born in Stamford, England, and worked as a lithographer in Melton Mowbray, England, for 20 years before coming to Victoria in 1912. Here he was employed on the staff of New Method Laundries for 18 years.

His wife, Jane, was born near Preston, England, and came to Victoria in 1913.

They were married on June 1, 1916, in Belmont Avenue United Church, and have been closely associated with the church for the past 50 years. The two can recall playing violins for the Sunday school orchestra, when Belmont United was still an affiliate of Metropolitan United Church. At one time, Mr. Lindsey served as a steward of the church.

Now, both are members of Old Age Pensioners Group No. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey have two children, Horace Lindsey and Mrs. E. (Joan) Ord, both of Victoria; five grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

To celebrate their anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lindsey will entertain the honor couple at a quiet family dinner in their Richmond Avenue home.

Ehrlich-Israel Vows Exchanged In Double-Ring Seattle Service

A wedding of wide interest to many Victorians took place in Seattle, Wash., recently when Lila Geta Israel became the bride of Dr. Fred Ehrlich, Tacoma, Wash. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Israel, 152 Joseph Street, Victoria, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Ehrlich of Butte, Mont.

The couple stood under a traditional chupa or canopy of greenery and white chrysanthemums for the double-ring service in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel at which Rabbi Raphael Levine officiated.

During the ceremony, the bride's uncle, pianist Mort Raels, Victoria, accompanied her aunt, Mrs. H. Fields, Seattle, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "My Best to You."

The bride's floor-length sheath gown was of white linen, styled with a conical train extending from the waistline. The bodice of Chantilly lace featured elbow-length sleeves. Her veil misted softly to her shoulders from a lace and pearl tiara and she carried a white Bible topped with white orchids. Jewelry accent was the groom's gift of culture pearls.

The bride's only attendant was her sister Miss Corinne Israel, who wore a street-length sheath dress of pink, accented with pink floral headpiece and nosegay of pink chrysanthemums. Robert Aaronson was best man for his cousin and ushering the guests to their pews were Dr. Murray Abromovitch, another cousin, and Marvin Kempner, Vancouver, the bride's cousin.

A smorgasbord reception followed in the hotel with Mr. Raels providing music for dancing.

For travelling on honeymoon, the new Mrs. Ehrlich chose a silk linen suit of brilliant green, accented with a stand-away collar of green and white print. She complemented the outfit with accessories of white. The couple will make their home in Tacoma.

PLOTTERS ARRESTED

Gov't Overthrow In Congo Foiled

KIMBA
. . . to face trial

By ARNOLD AMBER

LEOPOLDVILLE (Reuters)—The Congolese government today claimed to have foiled a plot by a former premier and three other ex-ministers to assassinate President Joseph Mobutu and overthrow the government.

An announcement over Radio Leopoldville said a number of foreign embassies were involved in the coup attempt and that relations with the countries concerned would be broken as soon as a full investigation was complete.

A government spokesman told a press conference the alleged plotters asked for aid from four unidentified embassies in Leopoldville.

"Two of these said no. The two others agreed to go along, one giving 1,300,000 Congolese francs to the plotters to buy the allegiance of army officers."

The spokesman said the four arrested men would be tried for high treason before a military tribunal.

"If they are found guilty it is most probable they will be executed in a public hanging in the city's main square."

The radio broadcast said former premier Evariste Kimba and his three confederates tried to persuade a number of high-ranking army officers to join them in an attempt to return The Congo to what they called "legal government."

REPORTED THE PLOT

The plot was foiled when the officers reported the attempt to their superiors, the radio said.

It added the plotters intended to kill both Mobutu and army chief Gen. Louis Bobozo.

It was Mobutu, who then held the post of army chief, who led a coup Nov. 25 that overthrew the government of Premier Kimba.

Radio Leopoldville identified the three others as former defence minister Jeromy Annay, Alexandre Mahambra, who held a number of posts under various governments, and Senator Emmanuel Bamba, a former finance minister.

The radio said the arrested men prepared a "coup proclamation" relieving Mobutu and the army commander of their posts and appointing Annay as head of a committee instructed to return the country to legality.

To achieve this task Annay was to be appointed temporary premier, with Kimba as foreign minister. Mahamba was to become interior minister and Bamba finance minister.

Mobutu, 35, was installed as president last November in place of Joseph Kasavubu in a bloodless coup. Mobutu appointed Gen. Leonard Mulamaba premier but himself ruled by decree.

Thousands Protest Visit of Sub

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — Yokosuka had its first visit today from a U.S. nuclear-powered submarine, and left-wing leaders brought thousands from Tokyo to demonstrate outside the U.S. Navy base.

The visiting sub is the Snook, which is scheduled to remain until June 3.

About 300 students from the radical Zengakuren Student Association stole a march on the police by appearing at navy base earlier than scheduled. The main gate at the time was guarded only by three U.S. marines and two sailors, and about 80 of the students forced their way inside.

Several hundred Japanese police finally threw them out and 13 students were arrested for trespassing.

American nuclear - powered submarines have made eight visits to Sasebo, in southern Japan, and with each visit the number of demonstrators has dwindled.

Because the Snook is the first to visit Yokosuka, and because of the city's proximity to heavily - populated Tokyo, leftist groups stepped up their protests. Authorities mobilized 5,000 policemen to prevent demonstrators from getting out of hand.

The 315,000 citizens of Yokosuka went about business as usual and helium balloons put up by the local shopkeepers association trailed a banner reading "U.S. Navy Welcome" American sailors spend an estimated $10,000,000 a year in Yokosuka's shops.

Pair Retained Grip On Funds: Ex-Leader

MONTREAL (CP) — A former premier of Quebec, Antonio Barrette, says he stepped down as leader of the Union Nationale party in September, 1960, because of differences with other top party men over control of the Union Nationale treasury.

Mr. Barrett was premier from January to June, 1960. The party, which formed the government of Quebec since 1944, lost the general election of June, 1960, to the Liberals.

The 450-page book by Mr. Barrette, called Memoires, was officially published last week.

The book says Gerald Martineau, who was treasurer of the Union Nationale in 1960, declared he was ready to turn over full control of party funds to Mr. Barrette as leader.

But, the election over, Mr. Martineau did not do so, writes Mr. Barrette, and the treasurer formed a common front against the leader with Joseph Begin, former agriculture minister and chief organizer of the Union Nationale.

DIDN'T SUPPORT BARRETTE

The former premier says ex-roads minister Antonio Talbot, although an influential party member, never gave Mr. Barrette support in his dealings with Mr. Martineau and Mr. Begin.

The man who succeeded Mr. Barrette as Union Nationale chief, Daniel Johnson, kept silent during the controversy, the book says, and awaited the outcome.

Quebec is preparing for a provincial general election June 5 and publication of his book at this time was regarded by some in the province as having political significance. Mr. Barrette celebrated his 67th birthday Thursday.

Of the late premier Maurice Duplessis, in whose Union Nationale cabinet Mr. Barrette served as labor minister, the new book says:

"He understood the destiny of Quebec, situated at the crossroads of French humanism, the English parliamentary system and American pragmatism."

Greater Member Control Of Party Gets Support

TORONTO (CP) — Maurice Lamontagne, former secretary of state, says members of the Quebec Liberal party will support an Ontario Liberal resolution calling for greater membership control of the parliamentary wing of the party.

The resolution, approved at a recent policy conference of provincial Liberals, asks the parliamentary section of the party to follow policy decisions made at membership meetings.

Mr. Lamontagne told the Toronto and District Liberal Association Saturday that "leadership can degenerate into absentee democracy."

He said the party needs active participation of its embers because "work at the intellectual grass roots is essential to the vitality of the party."

In an interview, Mr. Lamontagne said he was certain the newly-formed Quebec wing of the federal party would support Ontario resolutions at the national convention in Ottawa next October.

With Ontario and Quebec unified, he said it is almost certain the resolution will become national party policy.

Walter Gordon, former finance minister, said Ontario and Quebec Liberals have reached much the same philosophical position.

He told delegates the control resolution approved in Ontario did not bind the parliamentary section of the party but instead forced it to explain detail any policy changes.

During an evening session, Mr Lamontagne told delegates that current economic affluence in Canada has brought its share of labor-management problems.

"If we go on as we now are, the battles will continue," he said. 'There is a definite need for more research in the field of labor."

A permanent scientific revolution in Canada has made planning more than a socialistic dogma. Mr. Lamontagne said labor must be given a stake with management in Canadian enterprise if current disputes are to be resolved.

"There must be a major overhaul. Much more than has been done in the last few months. There must be changes in the organization of the cabinet and the economy itself needs a major overhaul."

SMUGGLERS SELLING AUSTRALIAN COINS

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Smuggling rings exporting thousands of dollars' worth of small Australian coins are believed to be operating here.

The coins are thought to be destined for the lucrative markets of North America and China, where they fetch twice their Australian face value because of their high silver and copper content.

To get them out of the country, the smugglers use conventional freight services and surface mails, which makes it difficult to detect them.

FISHING HIKE

No Salmon, Says Soviet Commander

WESTPORT, Wash. (AP) — The commander of a Russian fishing fleet operating off the Washington coast says his flotilla is not netting salmon.

Alexander Chepur made the statement in an interview aboard the Soviet flagship Churkin.

Two Seattle reporters and a representative of a fisheries industry group got permission to board the Churkin after U.S. commercial fishermen reported seeing salmon air drying on a Russian dragger near Westport.

Chepur, speaking in English, said the fleet totals 33 vessels and is catching mostly hake. Asked if his fishermen were taking salmon, Chepur replied:

"No, only incidental salmon caught in the trawl gear."

He said the fleet probably will remain at least until mid-September "subject to the confirmation of our government."

The fleet is operating about 30 miles southwest of Wesport, a sports-fishing centre on the southern Washington coast.

'Ship Engaged In Research, Not Fishing'

VANCOUVER (CP) — The captain of a Russian ship barred from coming back to any British Columbia port said Saturday the whole thing is a misunderstanding and that no fishing gear was ever found in the hold of his ship.

Captain Nikolay Shihanov of the Adler, described by him as a Soviet research ship, was commenting on an order issued by the federal government Firday following discovery of fishing gear in the Adler's hold.

The government ordered that any Russian ship carrying fishing gear may not come into port for supplies or water. The Adler has been in Vancouver for provisions four times this year.

FOUND GEAR

Friday, Canadian inspectors said they found fishing gear on the Soviet boat, which the Russians say is purely a research vessel.

In an interview on board his ship in Vancouver harbor before the Adler sailed Saturday the Russian captain said: "They found nothing but navigation equipment."

He added: "Our fishing fleet has the right to fish off the British Columbia coast."

He said he would make a full report through diplomatic channels to clear up what he called a misunderstanding.

W. R. Hourston, Pacific area director of fisheries, said it is the privilege of the Russian captain if he wants to take it up at the diplomatic level. But he added: "Russian ships will not be allowed in if they have any sort of fishing gear on board."

Mr. Hourston said some of the so-called Russian research ships could be scouts for the big Russian fishing fleet off the North American coast.

ANTI-CHURCH SIGNS WRECKED

Polish Police Disperse RC Rioters

GDANSK, Poland (AP)—Government workers during the night removed all traces of a burned and twisted government signboard after it was wrecked Sunday by hundreds of Polish Roman Catholics.

Riot police dispersed the crowd of some 350 persons, who had just come from a rally cheering the visit to Gdansk of Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski. No one appeared to be hurt, but more than 20 persons who helped storm the huge signboard were believed under arrest.

In Warsaw, the U.S. embassy complained to the Polish foreign ministry about the five-hour detention of Associated Press correspondent Gene Kramer. He was released but officials confiscated his film of the incident. Two other Western reporters were held for two hours.

The incident began shortly after a sermon by Cardinal Wyszynski to a congregation of 22,000 inside the Basilica of St. Mary. Loudspeakers relayed the sermon to a cheering crowd of 100,000 in the streets.

Fresh from the flower-throwing ovation for the Polish Catholic primate, a crowd of home-bound worshippers stopped and attacked a signboard in a square opposite the main railway stations. They ripped its two wooden signs from the steel frame and burned them, then toppled the 15-foot scaffolding into the flames.

The two posters displayed Communist slogans against the Catholic hierarchy's campaign of forgiveness for the Germans. The government has conducted a determined campaign against a letter the Polish bishops wrote to the German Catholic bishops last November proposing Polish-German reconciliation.

One of the two posters showed a broken statue of Christ, said to have been left in the gutter by the Germans. Printed across it was the information that more than 6,000,000 Poles were killed in the war and the words "we do not forgive."

The second poster condemned as a Nazi collaborator Karl Maria Splett, the last German bishop of this historic seaport when it was the city of Danzig. After the war Poland sentenced Splett to eight years in prison. He disputed the charge of collaboration, claiming that he had intervened against Nazi terrorism many times.

The Vatican continued to recognize Splett as the bishop of Danzig until his death in West Germany in 1964. He had been freed from prison in 1953 but was not allowed to leave Poland for three years.

Cardinal Wyszynski is visiting a different diocese each weekend to celebrate Poland's Christian millenium.

BRIDGE LESSON

By JACOBY AND SON

The columns this week will take up declarer's problems at trick one. The East and West hands won't be shown most of the time because declarer does not get to see them.

♣ 8 7 4

WEST (Not Shown) EAST (Not Shown)

SOUTH (D)

♣ A K 6

Both vulnerable

West	North	East	South
			1 ♠
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♦ Q.

You start with the code word "ARCH." Analyze the lead and note that West has probably led from a queen-jack combination. You hope that it wasn't a five-card or six-card suit. You Review the bidding and note that your opponents were unable to contest. You Count your winners and losers and see nine potential winners and four potential losers. Then you ask, "How can I make this hand?"

Three of your four potential losers are in hearts and you note that you have a chance to ruff your third heart in dummy. You also note that you have time to do this because West has failed to open a trump but that you cannot afford to play the trump suit yourself if you want to ruff the third heart. You note there is some danger attached to this play. If West has led a five-card diamond suit his partner will be able to trump a second diamond lead, but you can't help that. If diamonds are going to break 5-1 you just aren't going to make this hand with any line of play.

Therefore you decide to go after that heart ruff and lead a heart at trick two. You plan to win anything that your opponents lead back and to play a second heart. This will give you time to ruff your third heart in dummy irrespective of how the defence goes since you have been able to get to work on hearts before any trumps have been played.

12 ROOMS ENGLISH TUDOR MANSION ! ! !

(Shades of OUR GLORIOUS PAST ! !)

LOCATION?— A MIRACLE . . . (CORNER OF ROCKLAND and TERRACE) ALMOST ½ ACRE

SECLUSION . . . MOST ADEQUATE

VIEW? MAGNIFICENT ! ! !

Lovely Old Trees and a Lovely Old Garden, (admittedly needing attention.)

Standing in the garden, one can almost hear the "Clippity Clop" of a well matched and groomed team of Buggy horses, the pride of the early Victorian family, who chose this lovely site, and built this family home. The Charm and loveliness is still there, our ancestors, and the gentle team belong to the ages . . .

This home, in our estimation, is structurally sound. It certainly needs decorating, as most older properties do. The location is absolutely one of the finest in our city, and the surrounding properties are the pride of our tourist bureau, as they depict the Beautiful Victoria of which we "old timers" are so justly proud.

One could feel quite secure in doing the renovations and decorating, if it were felt necessary, and still be secure in the investment.

The rooms are all spacious, living room, dining room and drawing room, all "in line" providing a marvellous entertaining area. Two bathrooms, one up and one down, large den, FIVE BEDROOMS or so, a most impressive entrance hall, two staircases, and sundry cubby holes for skylarking children. Kitchen is Country style. Furnace room with hot water heating, wiring appears to be adequate.

Outside impression is definitely English Tudor. The stucco needs painting, and the HAND HEWN BEAMS are in utter misery . . . bathed in C.P.R. hued, maroony red . . . sacrilegious . . . a pity.

This home is going to be sold, and the purchaser will be a very lucky individual indeed. The owner is a very reasonable man, and we will consider a variety of propositions.

NOW . . . I must ask you not to disturb the owner this weekend if you drive by, and also ask you not to enter the property. (There is a driveway both on Rockland and Terrace Ave.) You will not be able to contact me until after 6 p.m. on Sunday evening. You could try Sat. evening later on. The owner will be most annoyed if you ignore this reasonable request, and I'm afraid that I will be too . . . so be patient and call me to view the interior, and get further details.

ASKING PRICE IS $27,950.00
All propositions will be given courteous consideration.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

Stephen

Believe it or not, CBS-TV, the powerful and wealthy American network, got its wrists slapped by the fledgling CTV network the other day.

The showbiz trade paper Variety carried a front page story stating that CBS was paying to have a news bureau established in Red China.

Not so, said the CTV head office in Toronto. It is the Canadian network setting up the news bureau at Peking with the U.S. network offering to subscribe to a service.

CTV National News plans to have the first news bureau operated exclusively in Red China by a Canadian network or station.

CTV Television Network Ltd. hopes to defray some of the costs of its Chinese bureau by syndicating news from this source to other television news agencies and networks. Besides CBS-TV, markets are also being sought in the United Kingdom by news chief Joe Gibson.

The young network should have final confirmation from the Chinese government soon.

The life and times of Lord Thomson, Canadian-born publisher, will be recorded in an hour-long National Film Board feature to be shown on CBC-TV next winter.

Writer Arthur Hammond and a film team have followed Thomson throughout the U.K. and the Continent picking up material. They've already done some shooting in Canada with the full co-operation of the wealthy newspaper publisher.

Sheldon Leonard will always live long in this memory as the tough guy in black shirt and white tie of early movie days and the race track tout on the old Jack Benny radio show.

Most youngsters today don't know it but he's the voice of the cartoon character, Linus the Lion-Hearted, too.

He is also a most successful producer of television shows. His most recent success is I Spy, the drama-comedy hit of this season. Among Leonard's other former successes are the comedy hits, The Andy Griffith Show, The Dick Van Dyke Show and Gomer Pyle.

NBC-TV hit the jackpot last week when it signed Leonard to a large production, long-term exclusive contract.

Leonard will work as executive producer on all new projects and for all new program series produced for the network beginning with the 1967-68 season.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Paul Blayney, age 12, of Toronto, Ont., Canada, for his question:

How did scientists discover the speed of light?

Sometimes the best brains make a mistake. Early astronomers thought that light whisked across space in no time at all, but the great Galileo decided to check this theory. He tried to time the speed of lantern signals between two hilltops and concluded that light does indeed travel instantaneously.

Most of Galileo's astounding observations were accurate. But he was wrong when he decided that light whisked across space in no time at all. One of his accurate observations about the speed of light later was proved wrong. He spotted the four largest moons of Jupiter, and later observers studied the time it took them to circle the big planet. The figures varied because Jupiter's distance from us varies.

Olaus Romer, a Danish scientist working in Paris, used these variations to figure the time it takes light to reach us from the sun. His answer was 600 seconds which was about 90 seconds too slow. The job of figuring the speed of light perhaps never can be done with perfect accuracy. But after the proof that light is not instantaneous, refined instruments were used to time it as accurately as possible. In 1849 the French scientist Fizeau used a strong lamp, a distant mirror and a revolving wheel. A beam escaped through a space in the wheel to the mirror and reflected back through another space in the wheel. He measured the travelling time from the lamp to the mirror and back.

Spent 50 Years on Problem

A year later the French scientist Foucault improved upon Fizeau's instrument. His mirror revolved to reflect the beam back at a certain angle. But scientists were not satisfied and Foucault's light timer was refined to give still greater accuracy. A. A. Michelson of United States gave 50 years of his life to find our most exact figures on the speed of light — but all the painstaking details of his work were not completed until after his death.

Michelson timed light signals between Mt. Wilson and Mt. San Antonio in California, a distance of 45 miles, for five years. But he thought that air and dust particles might be upsetting the speed of his beam so he worked out a better system.

He built a tunnel a mile long and from it removed the dust and most of the air. At one end he set up his powerful lamp and at the other end a mirror. The light beam was clocked as it flashed and reflected 10 times up and down the tunnel. The results were announced in 1933. According to our most accurate figures, light travels at approximately 299,774 kilometres a second.

In round numbers we can figure the speed of light as approximately 186,000 miles a second. It fans out from a centre in straight lines. If it could circle around the globe, which it cannot, it could whiz around the equator about 20 times while you count to three. Light leaving the sun takes about 8.5 minutes to reach the earth and sunlight reflected from the face of the moon reaches us in about 1.5 seconds.

Andy sends a 15-inch World Book Globe to David Vehonsky, age 10, of Cleveland, Ohio, for his question:

Why are there droughts when the earth has much rainfall?

It is true that enough rain falls upon the earth to provide everything with plenty of water. But the rainfall is uneven and most of the world supply drops into the ocean. The global weather is restless and turbulent and we cannot depend upon it to be orderly. A stormy season may douse a certain area with deluges. This may steal the water that normally falls on some place far away.

Sometimes an area gets many seasons of extra rainfall. This often means that other places must go short of water for many seasons. Such a drought may last for one season or for several years.

Reservation By Button

MONTREAL (CP) — Passengers on Canadian National Railways will be able to make reservations through an electronic push-button system as of January 1, 1967.

CNR spokesman Jean H. Richer said this week the system, centred in Toronto, will be able to answer reservation requests from 37 Canadian cities and Chicago in less than 10 seconds.

The service, unique in North America, will at first only accommodate coach reservations but will be extended early in 1968 to include parlor and sleeping car reservations.

The computer can make train reservations up to six months in advance and add and subtract train space to and from its inventory memory so that last minute cancellations are possible while avoiding double selling of the same space.

Mrs. Guthrey, of Chicago, received a kidney from her mother in an operation Feb. 24, 1965, in a Richmond, Va., hospital. A spokesman at the hospital said Mrs. Guthrey is the first non-identical twin transplant patient to give birth.

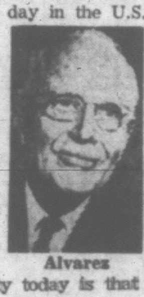
Rise in Teen-Age Venereal Disease

By WALTER C. ALVAREZ

A prominent doctor says that adolescents — some 1300 or more every day in the U.S. — are catching venereal disease — both syphilis and gonorrhea. Youngsters are getting 56 per cent of the number of the new infections that are reported.



Alvarez

One difficulty today is that there is so much ignorance about venereal disease — even among grown men. Even an occasional middle-aged man will think that syphilis is an advanced stage of gonorrhea; he will not know that the two diseases are entirely separate and different, with different causes and different end results. Gonorrhea is due to a germ, while syphilis is due to a spirochete — a microscopic spiral organism.

Gonorrhea in men is a more or less local disease of the urethra (the tube that carried urine out of the bladder); in women the infection is mainly in the vagina. In men, the germs can go into the prostate gland, where they can cause distress. In women, the infection can go up into the womb, and out through the fallopian tubes to produce a peritonitis (inflammation of the inner lining of the abdominal cavity). As the disease goes through the tubes, it often leaves them plugged up, and then the woman is sterile and unable ever to have a child. If the germ gets into the eyes, the sight can be lost.

The terrible thing about syphilis is that the person can get it without knowing it, and then 30 years or so later, he may find that the disease has attacked either his arteries (to later produce serious blowouts in them).

A terrible feature about venereal disease is that a person who does not know he or she has caught the infection can keep passing it along to his or her sexual partners. A girl of 11 who was promiscuous got syphilis, and soon was spreading it around to all her boy-friends — most of whom were between the ages of 16 and 18. When the doctors found she had syphilis, she told of 35 boys to whom she might recently have given the disease.

People should not worry about getting syphilis from a toilet seat, because when the organism dries, it dies. Dr. Eugene Scheimann, of Chicago, wrote to the American Medical Association that when people beg him for imformation as to how they can prevent venereal disease after exposure, he suggests that they quickly urinate so as to wash out of the urethra any germs of gonorrhea or spirochetes of syphilis.

Then the genitalia should be washed well with soap; calomel ointment should be rubbed on, and within an hour after exposure the person should take two tablets of 500 mg. each of penicillin. This treatment, the doctor says will give about a 95 per cent chance of protection.

Ganges Opens Novel School With Ceremony

GANGES—"Schools are generally built to a standard of dullness, but the Gulf Islands has had the courage to carry out wonderful educational experiments," Professor Henry Elder, director of the UBC school of architecture, said Saturday.

He was speaking at the opening of the radically-designed Gulf Islands Secondary School which was designed by architect R. W. Siddall.

"We still teach subjects in isolation when the need is for relation," said Prof. Elder.

"We need courage for the future, but we seem to want to escape. Education makes people tolerant and we must accept tolerance as a challenge for the future."

Lieut.-Gov. Pearkes, who officially opened the school, described it as a "mini university."

Donald Greenside of Port Renfrew pleaded guilty.

Gallagher was thrown from the car which then rolled on him. The driver and other passengers received only minor injuries.

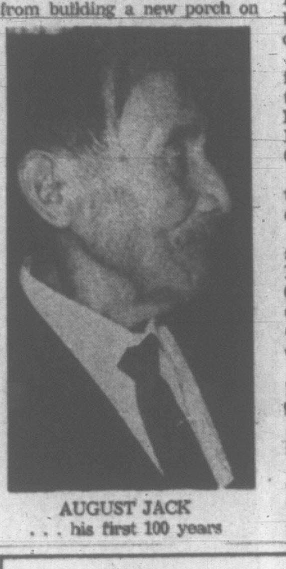
Mr. McGraw's wife, Mary, suffered minor whiplash injuries in the mishap.

August Jack Starts His Second Century

CHEMAINUS—Its the first 100 years that gets you down, says 101-year-old August Jack, "but now I really think I'm growing up again and making new friends."

He took time out Saturday from building a new porch on his house on the Westholme Indian Reserve to attend a banquet to celebrate his birthday.



AUGUST JACK
. . . his first 100 years

He received congratulations from the Queen, Prime Minister Pearson, Premier Bennett, Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes, Robert Strachan and North Cowichan council.

Mr. Jack was the guest of the Chemainus Valley Historical Society.

The ancient Indian wasn't sure of his exact age until Mollie Robinson, a former Chemainus newspaperwoman, discovered an Oregon certification of Mr. Jack's baptism on June 7, 1866.

Mr. Jack still lives by himself, walks a mile and a half each day for his mail and about two miles each week for his groceries.

Also honored at the dinner was William Thomas, 92, who was the first white male child born in the Chemainus Valley.

LUMBER BURNED

NANAIMO—Lumber stocks and equipment were lightly damaged here Sunday in a two-alarm fire at a lumber yard that took firemen two hours to bring under control. Manager Fred Dorman said an employee saw children playing in the area shortly after the fire started.

TWIN CITIES SAY YES

Rec Centre Wins Approval

PORT ALBERNI — The tightest referendum vote in Alberni Valley history gave the twin city councils permission to proceed with a multi-activity centre as a Centennial project Saturday.

Needing 60 per cent of the votes cast to pass the project fell a meagre 20 votes short on the first count.

But with 60 ballots spoiled by the 2,554 people voting a final adjustment (the spoiled ballots are deducted from the eligible total) the final count gave the affirmative vote a 60.8 victory.

Mayor Les Hammer had one terse comment when it was all over: "Boy, does that feel good."

The victory will see a $667,000 community centre built for centennial year. The centre will include an indoor swimming pool and a senior citizens activity centre.

"It is a progressive by-law and I'm disappointed that the percentage was not higher," said Mayor Hammer. "But at least we've got approval and that's the main thing. We want to get on the job right away."

Alberni Mayor Fred Bishop said he was gratified with the result. "It's been a hard fought affair, but at last it's through," he said. "We shall look back on this day with pride."

LANDING SPIES?

Cubans Blast Pirate Boat On Mission

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban Navy said today it fought and destroyed an armed boat "from the United States" Sunday night.

The communique from Fidel Castro's navy department was heard in Miami on a broadcast by Havana radio.

It said the "pirate" craft was caught in the act of landing two spies near Havana. Then, said the communique, both infiltrators were killed and the fleeing speedboat was pursued with the aid of flares by air and surface craft.

"About 10 miles offshore units of the navy engaged it and destroyed it with a direct hit," the communique said. "Two wounded survivors were rescued from the sea. The others presumably perished in the explosion.

"According to statements of the prisoners, the boat had an armed crew of six."

The communique said two Cuban torpedo boat crew members were wounded in the action.

Anti-Castro Cuban organizations reached in Miami denied knowledge of the incident.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, said the announcement was in a special communique of Fidel Castro's navy department.

The communique reported the exile vessel fired on the government boat, wounding three crew members. In combat that followed, said the communique, the navy craft captured two of the six anti-Castro "pirates" and listed the others as missing.

The broadcast did not identify the exile craft or any of its crew.

Exile "action groups," most of them with headquarters in Miami, have mounted many raids on Cuba in speedboats which they say they operate from secret bases outside the United States.

Children Blamed In Two Fires

Children playing with candles set a cedar bush afire Sunday at 2668 Cavendish.

Oak Bay firemen said the resulting blaze caused an estimated $500 damage to a roof.

Children smoking were blamed for a fire which burned a garage at 555 Niagara to the ground Saturday evening and damaged an adjacent garage. Damage has been estimated at about $600.

An estimated $1,500 damage to the kitchen of Aggie and Bill's Fish and Chips at Cedar and Gosworth resulted when overheated fat caught fire Saturday.

Fire burned about a two-acre logged-off area alongside a B.C. Hydro right-of-way near Munns Road Sunday before firefighters brought it under control.

A B.C. Hydro spokesman said today a clearing contractor was burning in the area and apparently one of the fires spread to the slash.

FOSTER, 13 OTHERS OUT

Fiery Pileup at Indy

Times' News Services)

INDIANAPOLIS—A blazing pileup of 16 cars, including one driven by Billy Foster of Victoria, stopped the 50th annual 500-mile race today moments after it started. Only one driver and 14 spectators were hurt, none seriously.

The cars left of the original 33 restarted the race in single file after flames in burning cars were extinguished and the debris cleared from the 2½-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway track. The race was resumed after a delay of one hour and 22 minutes.

The 16 cars were the most ever involved in one smashup at the famous racing grounds.

Dr. Tom Hanna, medical director, said about eight spectators were treated at the hospital and six others at first aid stations. He said they were "hurt primarily by panic rather than flying debris—all injuries are minor."

After repair of minor damage, three cars joined the re-starters, increasing the field to 20.

On the first lap of the restart, Johnny Boyd's BRP rear-engined Ford spun against the first-corner retaining wall. He walked away from the crackup.

Front-running Lloyd Ruby was sent to the pits with his car smoking and rookie Jack Stewart of Scotland inherited the lead with only 50 laps to go.

Defending champion Jim Clark, also of Scotland, was running second but encountered trouble with his suspension. Clark twice spun out earlier in the race but managed to stay in the race Favorite Mario Andretti was knocked out earlier.

See Pictures on Page 18

It was the second time in two years a mishap marred the race and it had to be halted. Two years ago, at the other end of the main stretch on the second lap, Dave MacDonald and Eddie Sachs were killed in a multiple smashup.

Track officials blamed the crackup on a fight for position among the racers.

The officials said Foster's car made contact with Gordon Johncock's. The chain reaction pileup continued as drivers tried frantically to avoid the first two cars.

At least one wheel came off one of the cars bolting past the starting line. One of the racers smashed against the outside retaining wall at the southwest turn and caught fire. The blaze was less than 15 yards from fans in the grandstand.

Eleven cars, including that driven by two-time winner A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., were eliminated from the race. Foyt, who had also cracked up in time trials for this year's race, escaped with a scratch on his knee.

Out of the race with Foyt were Foster, Don Branson, Gary Congdon, Dan Gurney, Gale Yarborough, Arnie Knepper, Al Miller, Bobby Grim, Larry Dickson and Ronnie Duman.

Foster, 28-year-old car dealer who last year became the first Canadian to qualify for the event, started in the fourth row in a Vollstedt Ford. He had qualified this year with an average speed of 159.490 miles an hour.

A Last-Second Victory

Mary Bower Wins City Trophy

It was an inch-by-inch finish.

The massive yawls Diamond Head and Mary Bower fought for every inch for the finish line at the weekend's racing classic, the Swiftsure.

And it was a second's delay in setting a spinnaker that gave the Mary Bower that extra inch to flash across the finish line and the City of Victoria trophy for the first boat home.

Thousands of spectators lining the breakwater at Ogden Point were treated to one of the most dazzling finishes in the 35-year history of the race.

In the last precious seconds, the people were within 20 feet of the Mary Bower's rigging as the yacht screamed by Diamond Head on the inside.

136-MILE RACE

All through the 136-mile race that had thrown every condition in the book at the contestants, Mary Bower's skipper, John Long, had worked his boat and crew to the limit.

Then came the second that

A fledgling trimmed the feathers of the biggest eagles in the Swiftsure classic over the weekend.

Terna, the smallest yacht in the race, came through in grand style to capture the coveted Swiftsure Trophy for over-all winner.

This was the maiden race for the 32-foot sloop owned and skippered by Per Christoffersen of the West Vancouver Yacht Club. It beat out such champions as John Graham's yawl Maruffa and Ches Rickard's L36 Winsome III which is the only yacht to win the title of overall winner three years in a row, 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Christofferson admits he had "tears in my eyes" when he crossed the line and realized that, on corrected time, he was a hot contender for top spot.

Co-skipper with Chritofferson was Phil Miller of the Vancouver sailmaking firm of that name. An able skipper of six-metres he was given the helm by Terna's owner for the all-important start at Brotchie Ledge.

More Suicides Threatened By Buddhists

Four Die By Fire In 2 Days

(Times News Services)

SAIGON — Two more Buddhists burned themselves to death today in the struggle to force South Viet Nam's military regime from power. A Buddhist leader warned of more suicides unless Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government steps down.

A 17-year-old monk burned himself to death at the Buddhist Institute here and another monk took his life by fire at Dalat, a resort 115 miles from this South Vietnamese capital.

A Buddhist girl was reported to have cut her wrists in Dalat. A later report said the girl survived.

Two Buddhist women burned themselves to death Sunday.

The young mink's body was inside the institute's compound when correspondents arrived. Other monks said he had set himself ablaze near the main gate to the grounds.

Thich (venerable) Tam Chau, the Buddhist Institute's moderate chairman, appealed to monks and nuns for an immediate halt to such "self-sacrifice." But later the 86-pound monk told correspondents self-immolation is not a contradiction of Buddhist principles of non-violence. He added:

"We hope the general Ky realize the situation. Today is only the beginning. I will try to do my best to use diplomatic means. If not, there is no other way but to struggle with suicide and blood."

PLACES NO DEADLINE

Tam Chau gave no deadline for Ky's resignation, but his talk of more suicides as a means of forcing the United States to withdraw support from Ky indicated the monk was under pressure from extremist members of the Buddhist hierarchy.

The new wave of Buddhist protest suicides were the first immolations since seven monks and nuns burned themselves to death in the months before the overthrow of the late president Ngo Dinh Diem in November, 1963. The new suicides are believed to reflect despair among Buddhist extremists of rallying enough support in the streets to bring down the junta.

While the Buddhists gave their lives in the struggle against their government, the U.S. infantry fought regular North Vietnamese troops near the Cambodian border Sunday, crippling the equivalent of a full battalion.

A U.S. spokesman said 227 North Vietnamese were killed, most of them in fighting that continued until Sunday night in the hills west of Pleiku, 240 miles northeast of Saigon. The Americans took moderate casualties, the spokesman said.

P.E.I. VOTERS DECIDE PENSION BATTLE TODAY

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Following a month-long campaign that developed into a battle of pensions, Prince Edward Island voters today will name the winner.

The voters will choose between Progressive Conservative and Liberal candidates in 15 two-member ridings. Death of a Liberal candidate postponed the election in one constituency until July 11.

The two-party campaign, during which both sides promised to increase old age pension to $100 a month from the present $75, ended Saturday night with Conservative Premier Walter B. Shaw and Liberal Leader Alex B. Campbell speaking at separate rallies in Summerside and both have predicted victories.

The Liberals were reduced to eight seats in the 1959 election when the PCs won 22. They cut the margin to 19-11 in 1962 and to 17-13 with two byelection victories in 1965.

SOFT LANDING OUT

Antenna Fails On Moon Probe

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) A camera-carrying Surveyor spacecraft rocketed toward the moon today, but the possible failure of an antenna to deploy could prevent it from achieving the first U.S. soft landing on the lunar surface.

Surveyor darted into space on schedule at 10:41 a.m. EDT under the thrust of a powerful Atlas-Centaur rocket.

The control centre reported nearly an hour after liftoff that the flight was progressing smoothly but one of two omni-directional antennas had apparently not extended as planned. The two antennas, located on the end of five-foot extendable booms, are used to receive commands from the ground and to transmit information back.

Robert J. Parks, Surveyor project manager, said the folded antenna could possibly upset the balance of the spacecraft as it attempts to land on the lunar surface, causing it to land improperly.

However, he said, "This does not preclude a possibility of getting a full success out of this mission."

Parks predicted that a delicate mid-course correction could still be achieved.

NEED BOTH ANTENNAS

Both of the antennas are needed to receive signals from the ground, because the spacecraft is spinning. Only one is required to transmit signals.

The unlocking is normally started by the firing of an explosive device when it is about 12 minutes in flight. The spacecraft was speeding along apparently on a proper course.

The use of the two omni-directional antennas is important for a mid-course correction manoeuvre which the spacecraft must make early Tuesday morning to put it on course to its target on the moon—the crater-pitted Ocean of Storms, where American astronauts may explore.

If the complex moonship survives its 63-hour journey, it is to touch down gently on the moon's Ocean of Storms about 1:38 a.m. Thursday.

Surveyor could transmit hundreds of clear closeup pictures and scientific data which could determine whether that area of the moon is safe for manned expeditions. History's first lunar soft-lander, Russia's Luna IX, showed last February that at lease one area is firm enough for landing.

Diamond Head was leading but had trouble setting her spinnaker and the readjustment gave Long the edge he had been waiting for.

The close finish posed its problem for finisher Neville Life of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. It was so close that he didn't have time to reload his gun and signal Diamond Head's finish before most of the length of her hull was speeding down the Inner Harbor.

In the early hours of the morning, the two first yachts home in the Juan de Fuca race had also fought a close-hauled duel.

FIRST CONTEST

Theo De La Mare, skippering in his first contest, brought his Spencer 35 Tandem home in first place. Shortly after, Doxy II, skippered by Peter Coombs, had gone over the line and captured the trophy for overall handicap winner, wrestling it away from Tandem by two minutes, the time gained through the rating handicap of the two boats.

Challenging weather and sea conditions made both races one that yachtsmen will record in their log books for posterity.

Twenty-nine yachts in the Swiftsure were forced to give up and head for home as masts and rigging crumbled under the force of gale-sized winds. Two RVYC yachts that were among the 'casualties' were Don Lawson's Te-Pah and Roy Denny's T'Solo.

Another of the local entries that came limping home was the Royal Canadian Navy's ketch HMCS Oriole.

MAST SPLIT

The strain and punishment split one of her masts and she was forced to turn her back on the storm that had promised her a fair bid at the chance to be first boat home.

At the start, her master, Lt.-Cmdr. Jim Butterfield, had had to make a quick tack right on the start line which had resulted in her almost being disqualified by fouling a boat. With skill, Butterfield managed to position Oriole and avoid a possible mishap.

The sloop Aphrodite was another to become dismasted and Jolly Peasant, skippered by G. Stewart of the Nanaimo Yacht Club, after doing well, was also stormed out of the race.

Fair winds at the start gave no indication of what was to come as the pack split in two and headed for Canadian and American sides of the strait. When the gale struck, yachts reefed down and pounded through waves that built up to eight and 10 feet.

Just as severly tested were the escort vessels that rolled and reeled as they worked up and down the strait, checking and listing positions and recording each casualty.

Switsure officials had tightened safety regulations othis year and their decision was justified by the severe testing that made this Switsure the toughest in 35 years. The damage which criplped the 29 drop-outs was minor and at no time was there a risk to either yachts or their crews.

BIGGEST SURPRISE

The biggest surprise of the race was the feat of Terna, the 32-foot Discovery sloop of West Vancouver Yacht Club's Per Christoffersen that romped home in grand style and captured the positions of overall winner and first in division one. Launched only six weeks ago, Terna was the smallest yacht in the race.

Other yachts in the Swiftsure finished in this order: Mistral, J. C. Baillargeon, Seattle Yacht Club; Nantuk, W. M. Young, Royal Vancouver Yacht Club; Vrolijk, E. H. Wall, SYC; Jolly Olly, V. Ruskin, Royal Van.; Lancer, N. Larabee, Corinthian Yacht Club.

Tricia, P. Leslie, Royal Van., 7; Ariel V, K. Lochhead, Royal Van. 8; Cirrus, J. H. Galbraith, Tacoma Yacht Club, 9; Winsome II, Ches Rickard, Royal Van; Haida, G. Horder, SYC; Sanderling, A. Skinner, SYC; Sea Fever, R. Coe, SYC; Courageous, J. Helsell, CYC; Allegro, R. A. Spencer, TYC.

Out of a total of 67 yachts that competed in this year's Swiftsure only 36 managed to finish the all-conditions test.

Ontario To Build Rest Homes

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario government plans to establish a series of small public rest homes to fill the gap between homes for the aged and hospitals.

Welfare Minister Louis Cecile first outlined the proposals before the legislature's select committee on aging last year, when he said the idea was to give special care to persons who no longer require active hospital care.

The capacity of the homes would be limited to 30. They would be built mainly in smaller Ontario centres "in reasonably close proximity to a resident's lifelong place of residence."

While the homes would be mainly for elderly persons, the province doesn't propose to establish an age limit.

Residents would be admitted on a statement by two physicians that they could no longer benefit from active hospital treatment but needed continuous maintenance and support 24 hours a day.

Knepper said:

"The start was all right but some driver made a mistake. It looked like worms crawling through spaghetti."

Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., one of the drivers forced out of the race by the crackup, was unhurt but angry.

"I was right in the middle of all of it," he said. "They were around and in front of me and I think one or two of the fellows used very poor judgment.

"There was nothing I could do. I tried to avoid it at all costs. I could see it coming for weeks. I expected it."

AUTO MECHANIC IGNORES 'TREND' AND HELPS

Crowd of 50 Watch as Crying Boy Burns

NEW YORK (UPI) — An 11-year-old boy grovelled helplessly on the railroad tracks Sunday, vainly trying to extinguish his burning clothes. High above the railroad cut about 50 people stood gaping at him, listening to his screams for help.

No one in the crowd offered to go to the boy's aid.

But for the "uncommon" decency of a young auto mechanic, who ignored the "don't get involved" psychology of the crowd to rescue young Ronnie Perez, the incident might have ended in tragedy.

Ronnie had been playing with some friends on a concrete embankment over the tracks of a Long Island railroad freight yard in Brooklyn. The boy suddenly missed his footing and fell 40 feet to the tracks below. On the way down, Ronnie struck at least one of the 12,000-volt, high-tension lines strung over the yards, setting his clothing ablaze.

Curious passers-by, hearing the crackle of the struck power line, gathered to watch the injured, but still conscious boy on the tracks, flailing his clothing and crying pitifully.

John Dennis, 28, who began work as an auto mechanic last week at the nearby Blake auto clinic, noticed the crowd and went over to see the cause of the disturbance.

"I don't know why nobody else went to help that kid," Dennis said later. "But when I saw him there, his clothing burning, I knew I had to do something and to do it fast."

Dennis vaulted the fence and ran down a ramp to the track below. Picking up the boy, he began to smother the flames as he carried him up to the street.

"This motorist stopped. We ripped off the burning clothes and wrapped the boy in a garment that was in the car," said Dennis.

The two men then drove Ronnie to Brookdale Hospital, where he was treated for third-degree burns and placed on the critical list.

Mainland Yacht Object of Search

Air-Sea Rescue craft were alerted today to look for the sailboat Yehda, overdue on a weekend trip to the Gulf Islands.

Owner of the 30-foot craft, H. J. Mapzkuhn, of Vancouver, apparently told a neighbor he would be returning Sunday night.

When he failed to return to the Thunderbird Marina, North Vancouver, she alerted the rescue co-ordination centre.

Minor Fined $35 For Having Beer

Joseph Lima, 19, of 2320 Howard, was fined $35 in central court today when convicted of being a minor in possession of liquor.

Police testified they found a case of beer in the accused's car when they stopped it on Broughton Street, May 16.

Two Sides Of Woods Dispute

By ROGER STONEBANKS
Times Labor Reporter

In less than three weeks, the two-year agreement between companies and union in the B.C. lumbering industry will expire.

The 26,000-member International Woodworkers of America, the province's biggest union, has voted 94.18 per cent for strike action if necessary.

On the other side are 120 companies represented by Forest Industrial Relations.

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson has appointed Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz as an industrial inquiry commissioner to look into and make recommendations on the dispute.

To help Times readers follow these important developments, here is a summary of the bargaining position established by each side.

Union:

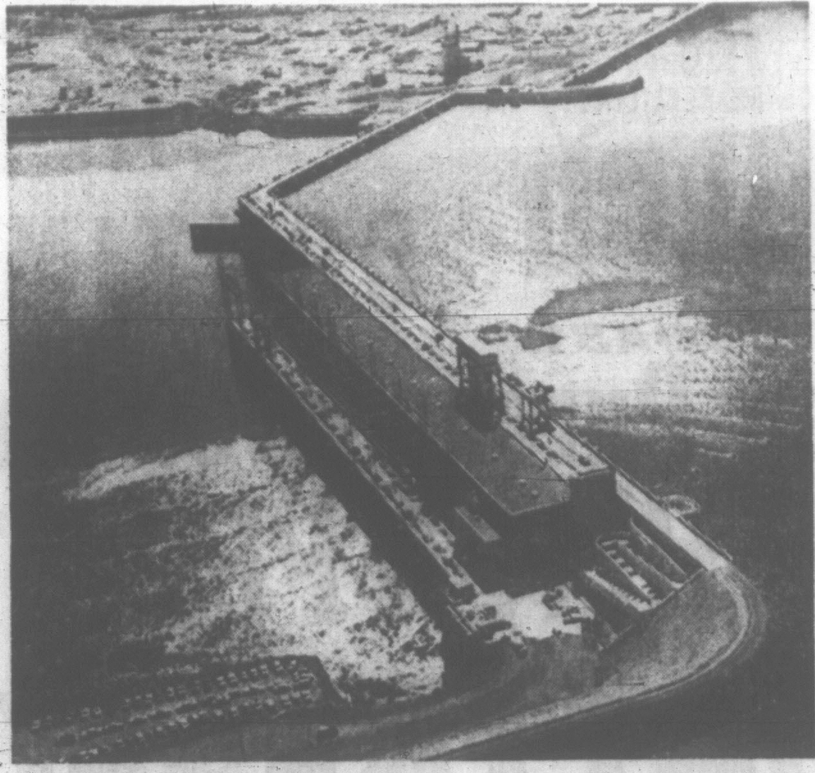
- An extra 50 cents an hour for everyone in a one-year contract;
- An 8½-hour day for loggers from marshalling point back to marshalling point;
- Fifteen cents an hour more differential for afternoon shifts and 20 cents an hour more for graveyard shifts;
- Longer vacations with more pay — three weeks after one year with 8½ per cent pay; four weeks after five years with 10½ per cent; five weeks after 10 years with 12½ per cent.
- No contracting out of work unless under conditions of the master contract;
- Union members not to be required to handle products from strikebound companies or pass through a recognized picket line;
- Double pay for overtime;
- Negotiation of provisions for adjustments to new production methods or machines;
- One extra statutory holiday — Boxing Day for loggers and at Easter for mill workers; with pay;
- Up to six months leave of absence for compassionate reasons and for employee retraining in special skills;
- Changes to modernize the 10-year job evaluation program in plywood plants;
- Vacations with pay to be timed to meet the needs of workers and families;
- Elimination of "competency" where the present agreement reads: "The company recognizes the principle of seniority, competency considered" and "the last person hired shall be the first released, subject to the competency of the person involved."

Companies:

- Arbitration machinery to fix blame for illegal work stoppages and assess compensation for the injured party;
- A five-day 40-hour work week within seven days, to keep machinery running all week instead of the present five days Monday to Friday;
- Conference on falling and bucking to seek a "viable solution" to "serious distortions in the wage scale." Average daily wages now are $55 and $95 a day isn't uncommon;
- Extension of plywood job evaluation to other branches of the industry;
- Where a statutory holiday falls on a Tuesday or Thursday, this be changed to Monday or Friday for a three-day weekend for employees;
- Payment of the minimum job rate for travel time instead of the employee's job rate;
- Increased daily board and lodging rates in camps, to $4 per man from $2.50;
- Seniority protection for foremen to allow them to accumulate seniority with the company;
- Limitation on retroactive pay "where there has been any unreasonable delay on the part of the union in initiating or processing grievance."

Japanese Eye Joint Program

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Ernest Manning of Alberta said today he has found many Japanese industrial firms are interested in joint development of natural resources in western and northwestern Canada.



DEDICATION ceremonies for the Wanapum Dam, six miles south of Vantage, Wash., on the Columbia River, will be held June 4. Construction of project, owned by Grant County Public Utilities District, began in 1959. The reservoir formed by the dam covers 23 square miles. (AP Wirephoto.)

WALL ST. LEADS WAY

Market Picture Brighter

By LARRY DWORKIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Paced by a rising New York market, Canada's stock markets last week snapped a five-week decline.

The New York market started its upswing Monday on reports that a narrower U.S. budget deficit is expected for the fiscal year beginning June 30, lessening the chances for a tax increase.

A number of analysts feel the market is levelling off and they point to the fact the market weathered a mid-week announcement by the U.S. auto industry that mid-May sales suffered a 12-per-cent decrease compared with the same period in 1965.

However, others say the sales drop had been anticipated and that investors discounted the decline last week.

At Toronto, volume continued to be on the light side totalling 13,393,092 shares compared with 16,970,865 last week. The market was closed Monday because of the Victoria Day holiday. Volume at Montreal was 4,598,346 shares compared with 5,910,284 last week.

BANKS ADVANCE

Banks led the advance on the Toronto market following reports that revisions of the Bank Act are to be made to Parliament shortly with a partial lifting of the six-per-cent interest ceiling considered likely.

The bank index was up 4.63 to 143.82. Montreal climbed 3¼ to 62, Toronto-Dominion 2⅜ to 63¼, Imperial-Commerce 2¼ to 66, Royal 1½ to 76½ and Nova Scotia 1¼ to 71.

Among other industrials, Bell Telephone gained 1⅞ to 53½ on 67,591 shares following an announcement by the company Wednesday of an eight-cent increase in its latest quarterly dividend and that it expects to pay $2.50 annually in the future instead of $2.20. It was Bell's first dividend increase in more than six years.

Massey-Ferguson moved up 1⅛ to 36⅛ after the company announced a record profit for the first six months ended April 30, of $21,200,000 or $1.37 a share from $8,100,000 or 54 cents a share a year earlier. CPR increased 2⅞ to 60, General Motors and B-A Oil 2 each to 92 and 33½, Dofasco 1 to 24 and Distillers Seagrams ⅞ to 33⅛.

Losses went to B.C. Telephone, down 3¼ to 61¾ and Atlantic Sugar ⅞ to 26⅜.

Canam Sale Supported

TORONTO (CP) — Shareholders of Canam Copper Co. Ltd. today voted to sell all the company's assets to Giant Mascot Mines Ltd. and to wind up Canam.

Giant Mascot shareholders approved buying the assets Thursday.

Canam's main asset is a copper-molybdenum-silver property in Hope on which Giant Mascot spent about $237,000 in development under an agreement with Canam.

Giant Mascot will give Canam: 1,084,994 shares; pay $217,770 owed to Lorado Uranium Mines Ltd. and Consolidated Mogul Mines Ltd. and $3,457 in unearned insurance premiums.

A spokesman for Canam said after the company is wound up, shareholders will receive one share of Giant Mascot for each eight shares of Canam.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trading was limited on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as a result of holidays in both Europe and the United States.

There was a lack of interest on all commodities, especially oilseeds. Some hedging sales appeared and were absorbed by a modest demand although prices were easier. Oats and barley trade was light with domestic demand for feed. Prices showed underlying firmness.

The rye market moved in a narrow range, reflecting firmer prices than were evidenced last week.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 2,900,000 bushels to Russia, 920,000 bushels to China, 300,000 bushels to the United Kingdom and 55,000 bushels to Belgium.

Car Fees Increased

SINGAPORE (Reuters) — The Singapore government today increased the registration fees on all imported cars, including those from Canada and announced an increase of 30 per cent in imported car duty within the next 14 months.

Finance Minister Lim Kim San said the new tax measures were framed to promote "the sound and speedy development" of the motor vehicle assembly industry here.

The registration fee for cars imported from Britain as from today will be 15 per cent, while manufacturers in other countries, including Canada and Australia, will pay 25 per cent on the value.

Until today the registration fee charged on cars imported from Britain, Canada and Australia was five per cent on the value, while other countries paid 15 per cent.

Commenting on the lower registration fees for British-manufactured cars, Lim said Singapore could not accord preferences to all Commonwealth countries unless it received reciprocal preferences.

Emerald Isle Bank Strike Tightens Cash

DUBLIN (AP) — The Emerald Isle's bank strike is going into its third week, and there is no sign of a settlement.

About 900 banks in Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic are shut down by a walkout of junior employees to back up demands for more pay.

Business north and south of the border seems to be operating normally, but the squeeze is tightening. A considerable volume of money was available at the start of the strike, but some of it now seems to have dropped out of circulation.

Businesses with large cash intakes each day are getting rid of their surplus by making deals with firms that have large weekly payrolls but take in no cash.

One large brewery has taken on the role of banker for pubs.

Saloons are favorite places for cashing cheques.

FAIRS HARD HIT

Hardest hit are the Irish cattle fairs, where street transactions are traditionally on a cash basis.

Hundreds of young bank clerks have gone to England for jobs, and many of the girls who operate accounting machines have deserted the banking business for better-paying jobs in other industries.

The 3,400 junior bank employees are demanding a seven-per-cent wage increase in the Irish Republic and 11-per-cent rise in Northern Ireland.

Larger Role Advocated For Workers

TORONTO (CP)—Maurice Lamontagne, former secretary of state, says labor must be given a stake with management in Canadian enterprise if current disputes are to be resolved.

Speaking Saturday to a Toronto and District Liberal Association policy conference, Mr. Lamontagne said current economic affluence has brought its share of labor-management problems "and these will get worse until labor shares in production.

"If we go on as we are now the battles will continue. There is a need for more research in the field."

Mr. Lamontagne said it was time to go beyond the useful work of the Economic Council of Canada and establish a department of economic planning.

He told delegates the permanent "scientific revolution" has made planning more than a socialistic dogma.

"There must be a major ovehaul, much more than has been done in the last few months, There must be changes in the organization of the cabinet and the economy itself needs a major overhaul."

DELEGATES UNIFIED

In a later speech, Mr. Lamontagne said Ontario and Quebec delegates to the national Liberal party convention in Ottawa will be unified in support of a resolution asking greater membership control over the parliamentary wing of the party.

At a recent policy conference of the Ontario Liberal party, a resolution was approved requiring the provincial leader to put himself up for re-election within two years after an election.

The resolution also asked the parliamentary wing of the party to follow policy decisions made at membership meetings and report its performance to the membership.

Mr. Lamontagne said "leadership can degenerate into absentee democracy." He said the party needs active participation of its members because "work at the intellectual grass roots is essential to the vitality of the party."

Talks Continue

HALIFAX (CP) — Premier Robert Stanfield said Sunday negotiations are continuing between the province of Nova Scotia and Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. to increase the capacity of Deuterium of Canada's heavy water plant at Glace Bay, N.S. Mr. Stanfield said in an interview he had been notified of AECL's decision to impose a June 15 deadline for the signing of a contract with the federal government by Deuterium.

Copper Price Cut Forecast

By JOSEPH BENHAM

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile, which rocked the economic world in April by raising the price of export copper 20 cents a pound, will begin cutting the price early in 1967, a majority of industry and government officials believe.

The big questions are when the price will begin to drop and how far it will fall.

There is nothing resembling unanimous agreement on either point. But the nearest thing to a consensus would seem to be along these lines:

—The world copper shortage will begin to ease early next year, although copper will remain in fairly short supply until at least 1968 and it probably will be 1970 before production catches up with demand.

—As the shortage becomes less severe, the price will begin to fall slowly . . . as slowly as the Chilean government can go and still hold its share of the market.

—The price could begin to decline as early as the last quarter of 1966 or as late as mid-1967, but most observers say they believe the first quarter of 1967 is a likely time for the drop to start.

—The decline probably will level off somewhere between 40 and 50 cents a pound. This is the area of least agreement, with some officials saying they think the price may drop to the high 30s and others talking confidently of 50-cent copper.

All predictions were heavily qualifed. Everyone interviewed said the Viet Nam war, unrest in the African countries which produce copper and the health of the U.S. and European economies will have major impacts on the copper price situation.

Major reductions in auto production in the United States would reduce the demand for copper and cause the price to drop, one observer said, while a step-up in the war in Viet Nam would aggravate the current shortage. Any African development which halted the flow of copper from Zambia or the Congo would have a major effect on the market.

Barring something unforeseen, officials say, they do not believe the Chilean government will move the price above the 62-cent level to which it was raised in April.

Any move to increase the price again would be certain to meet strong opposition from the copper producers who are known to have counselled against the 20-cent increase on grounds that it would make customers turn to substitutes such as aluminum and plastic.

Chilean officials say they believe customers who turn away from copper are likely to do so because of the difficulty in obtaining the metal rather than the price, though they consider price a factor.

HOLLYWOOD TAKES BACK SEAT

Tokyo Becomes Film Capital

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Hollywood still gives the Oscars but it is no longer the movie capital in terms of production.

The 1965 United Nations Statistical Year Book published Saturday, shows the United States ran fifth in the number of long films produced in 1963. It produced 155 compared with Italy's 241, Hong Kong's 259, India's 305 and Japan's 657.

That was a switch on the situation of 1948, when the United States led by producing 394 long films compared with India's 265 and Japan's 123. Hong Kong produced none to speak of that year, and Italy only 54.

In numbers of movie houses, the yearbook brings out, the United States takes a back seat to the Soviet Union; it had 17,500 in 1963 compared with the Russians' 113,000.

Both nationalities are shaded by the mainland Chinese in mass movie attendance. The latest available figures show that, counting repeaters, 2,178,000,000, people in the United States and 3,900,000,000 in the Soviet Union went to the movies in 1963, compared with 4,000,000,000 in China in 1960.

In radio and television the United States statistically leads the world.

U.S. HAS MOST RADIOS

By 1963-1964 statistics, the yearbook says, there were 192,000,000 radio sets in the United States compared with 68,900,000 in the Soviet Union. China was far down the list with 8,000,000.

In 1964 there were 67,100,000 TV sets in the United States compared with 16,710,000 in Japan, 13,150,000 in Britain and 12,900,000 in the Soviet Union. China again was far down the list with a mere 100.

In daily newspaper circulation per thousand inhabitants in 1964, the United States ran 12th — behind Britain, Sweden, Japan, Iceland, Luxembourg, New Zealand, Norway, Switzerland, Australia, Denmark and West Germany, in that order. The U.S. figure was 314 copies, the British 523.

Having bigger newspapers, the United States used 46 per cent of the world's newsprint in 1964 and its per capita consumption was the world's highest — 83.6 pounds compared with Australia's 68.2.

The yearbook credits the Soviet Union with publishing the most books — 78,204 titles in 1964, compared with 28,451 in the United States, 26,123 in Britain, 25,204 in West Germany, 24,049 in Japan, 15,440 in Spain and 13,479 in France.

The foot-long volume of 748 pages contains 204 tables of statistics gathered by questionnaires from more than 150 countries and territories and in published documents from others.

It estimates the world's population at 3,229,000,000 in mid-1964, compared with 2,900,000,000 in 1958. That's an 11-per-cent increase.

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian Dyno Mines Ltd. announced today it has bought 1,000,000 shares of Lorado Uranium Mines Ltd. for $1,500,000. The company says the shares, bought from Louis Chesler and E. D. Wright, gives them about 25 per cent interest in Lorado.

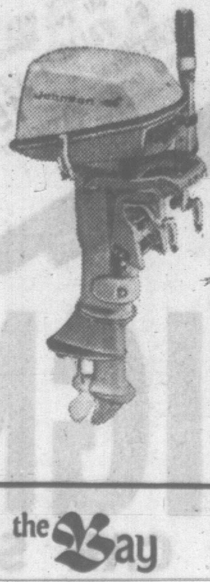
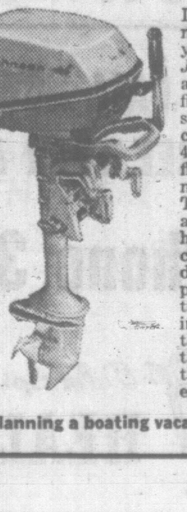
JOHNSON MOTORS A PRODUCT OF OUTBOARD MARINE CORPORATION OF CANADA LTD., PETERBOROUGH, CANADA. MANUFACTURERS OF LAWN-BOY POWER MOWERS, SNOW CRUISER SNOWMOBILES, PIONEER CHAIN SAWS.



We took on a six-horse racing team to prove a point: the Johnson 6 is an astoundingly peppy motor. This makes it handy for fishermen. They don't spend all day getting out to the big ones. Because it's a considerate motor you can cruise 11 hours on one tank of gas. Like all Johnsons, the 6 is quiet, so fish won't know where your boat is until they're inside it.
As for the race, we placed a close second. But Tom Dorchester was driving the chuckwagon. His champion-style rig speeds along at 35 miles an hour. And his horses weren't swimming.

The Johnson 9½ could easily be called the best fishing motor ever made. It idles so slowly you can almost count the propeller revolutions. Because it's a low profile engine, you can cast over it sitting down.
It's so well-balanced that moving it from your car to your boat is no trouble, and portaging it is a pleasure. Storing is easier, too. Nothing sticks out from the sides, and the steering handle folds neatly out of the way.



If you think versatility must be expensive, you've never priced a Johnson 5. It powers anything from a small fishing skiff to a medium-sized sailboat. The 5 is compact, weighs just 43 pounds, and has a flat starboard side that makes storing a snap. The operating controls are positioned for one-hand operation, so you can turn, speed up, slow down, or stop, without putting down your trolling rod. Engine improvements, such as the positive locating of the pinion gear, make the 5 even quieter than ever before.

The Johnson 3 offers a choice of two different models: Angle-Matic and High-Thrust Drive. Both are twin-cylinder motors—very smooth running. Both weigh just 35 pounds. Both will cruise up to 17 hours on a 5-gallon tank of gas. The gearcase of the Angle-Matic is designed to slide over rocks and sandbars and cut through heavy weeds. What fisherman could ask for more? The High-Thrust model is geared to swing a low-pitch propeller for greater thrust than you'd ever expect from a motor of its size.

LEAPING FROM WAVE TO WAVE, the 40-foot sloop Diosa drives her way through the seas that whipped up in Juan de Fuca Strait when 40-mile winds struck on Saturday. The storm conditions justified the tightening safety regulations that had been imposed on yachts and crews for this year's contest. CHARGE BY IWA MAN CALLED 'RIDICULOUS'

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said today there is nothing to allegations made Friday by the local president of the International Woodworkers of America.

"He is so far off base it's ridiculous on the face of it," he said.

Murray Drew, IWA president in Victoria, said it appeared to him the wood industry and Forest Industrial Relations "had the ear of the government" and knew beforehand that Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz would be appointed an industrial inquiry commissioner in the current contract dispute.

Mr. Peterson said "our whole desire" is to avert a strike or lockout in the dispute between the 26,000-member IWA and the 120-company FIR.

The dispute involved the province's major industry and "I gave a lot of consideration before taking this important step."

Campbell Sets Fall Hearings

Municipal Act Report Ready Next Session

By JIM HUME
City Hall Reporter

A report of an investigation of the Municipal Act will be presented to the legislature in time for the 1967 sitting.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell said this morning public hearings will start in October and should take two months to complete.

Mr. Campbell made the statement following an address to the 27th annual conference of the Municiapal Officers' Association of British Columbia meeting in the Empress Hotel.

"A preliminary meeting has already been held with the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities," Mr. Campbell said.

"Further meetings will take place between now and September when the UBCM holds its annual convention in Pentiction. By that time we hope to have a list of recommendations drawn up for workshop study.

ACROSS PROVINCE

"Following the UBCM study session and with the co-operative approval of that organization we shall set up a series of public hearings throughout the province."

This morning's promise of a complete revamping of the Municipal Act marked the second time in almost as many days the minister had assured municipal government that major revisions of the 1957 act are on the way.

Last Friday in Campbell River he assured delegates to the annual meeting of Vancouver Island Municipalities that the long overdue overhaul is a matter of serious concern.

One of the major recommendations will be a change in the percentage vote to pass a referendum from 60 per cent to 51 per cent.

This morning he promised municipal officers his department will lean heavily on their organization for advice during the preliminary discussions.

E. E. Chace, president of the association, said he is happy the minister will seek advice from salaried civic officials.

"We were concerned about the revising of the act," he said. "And we were going to suggest to the minister that he call on the experience of the association and tell him that we would be available at any time with any assistance we could give. We are pleased that he has beaten us to the punch."

The three-day conference will study various problems during its Victoria sessions.

This afternoon W. B. Bolton, chief of the federal government finance section of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, was scheduled to speak on "Municipal Finance Statistics Today."

Also scheduled for this afternoon was a panel on the problems of municipalities, small and large.

CHAIRMEN NAMED

J. E. Hiebert, Qualicum Beach, was to chair the panel discussing the problems of smaller municipalities while James Bramley, city comptroller for Victoria, was to chair the panel on the problems of larger municipalities in accounting and financing.

EX-SEAMAN GAS VICTIM AT ENDAKO

A former able seaman at the Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt, was found dead Sunday in a cabin at Endako, 100 miles west of Prince George.

David Mitchell Erskine, 23, apparently asphyxiated when he fell asleep without realizing a propane gas stove was turned on, said RCMP.

Erskine was discharged from the navy in April last year and recently applied for a job at the Endako Molybdenum Mine.

While in the navy he lived at Suite 1, 951 Bay Street. He gave his home address as Hagensburg, B.C.

STUPICH PANS MICA

300% Increase In Dam Costs?

B.C. Hydro will have to pay $150 million more than the $50 million predicted by Premier Bennett for completing the Mica Dam project on the Columbia River, David Stupich (NDP—Nanaimo and the Islands), said here Sunday.

Mr. Stupich, an accountant, addressed the annual meeting of Esquimalt New Democratic Party Association which re-elected L. J. Stephenson as president. J. H. Fowler was elected vice-president, Mrs. May Cousins secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Isabelle Reader delegate to the provincial council.

Mr. Stupich said the $273 million advance payment which was to finance all but $50 million of the three-dam Columbia project will have been used up along with its interest earnings by the end of 1967 when six years of construction will still remain.

He said all interest earnings of the payment from 1968 will be balanced by interest charges Hydro will have to pay on its progressive construction borrowings.

Only new money coming in from outside of B.C. will be the $71 million to be paid by the U.S. for flood control benefits and this will be insufficient to complete the contemplated work.

GAP FILLING

So, instead of paying $50 million for half of the generating facilities at Mica Dam with B.C. funds, the authority will be faced with filling a gap totalling $200 million, Mr. Stupich claimed.

He also accused Premier Bennett of vetoing the Gen. A. G. L. MacNaughton plan for diverting the Kootenay into the Columbia because it would have produced more power than the plan finally adopted.

Mr. Stupich said this was done because Premier Bennett was afraid of being embarrassed by too much power at a time when he was having difficulty justifying the huge Peace River project.

But now the province is being told that more power will be needed in the near future.

Ask The Times

Q. What is the scientific explanation for:

"Red sky at night
Shepherd's delight;
Red sky in the morning,
Shepherd's warning."

Asks M.M.C.

A. Victoria Weather Office says that though this verse weather forecast does not always hold true, it is a valuable guideline. Here is why:

To see a red sunset, the sinking sun must be reflecting on clouds to the west of the viewer, or figuratively "above" the sinking sun. Now since the predominant flow of air is westerly, those same clouds will have blown away to the west by morning.

Conversely, if the sky is red at sunrise, the clouds the sun is turning red will, later on in the day be over the viewer who is west of the rising sun.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Conciliation Branch Gets New Chief

R. A. MacDonald was appointed chief conciliation officer for the province today.

He moves up from supervisor of the labor standards branch in Vancouver to succeed R. G. Clements who retires after almost 30 years in the department, Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said.

Mr. MacDonald was born in Victoria. He was educated here and in Ladysmith.

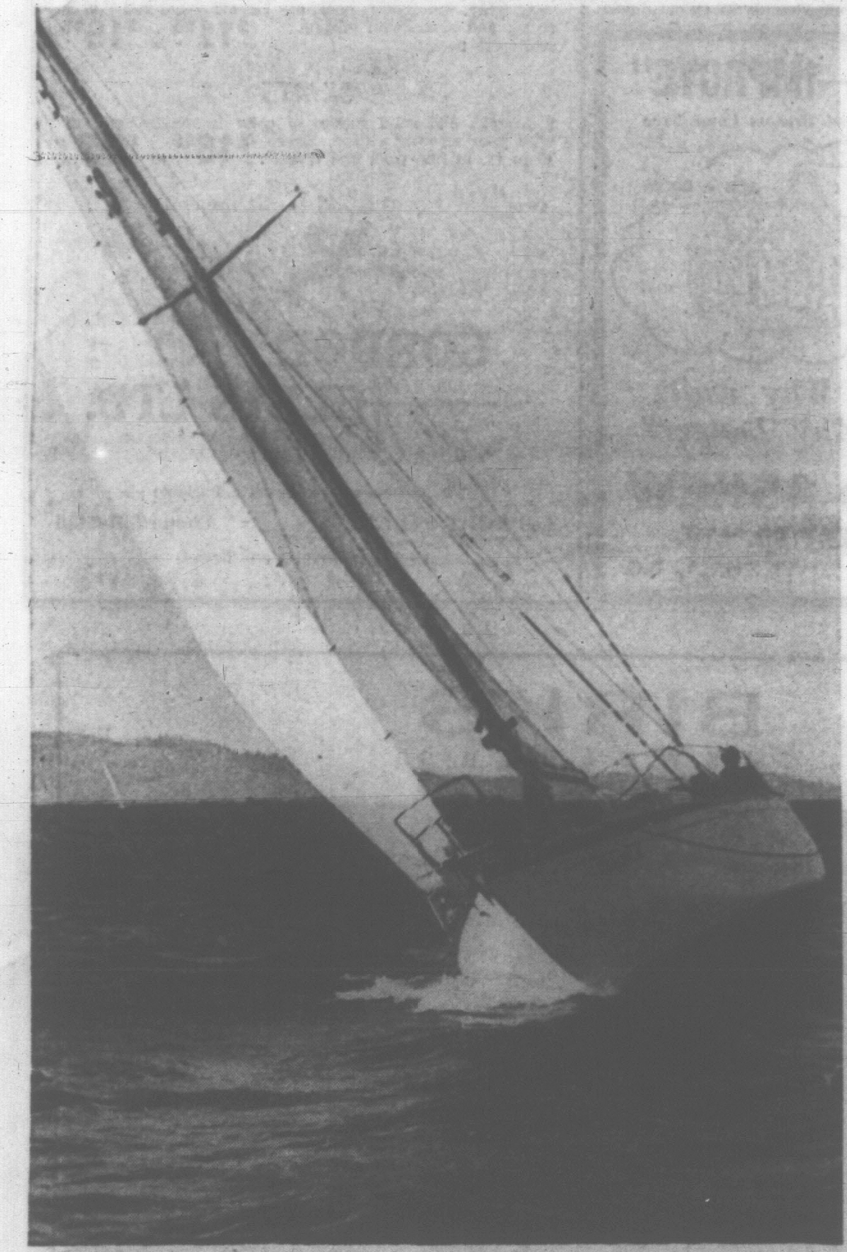
He worked as a locomotive fireman for the E & N Railway and also was employed by the Empress Hotel before serving with the Royal Canadian Navy during the war.

He joined the labor department in 1951 as an industrial relations officer in Nanaimo, transferring to Vancouver in 1959 where he became senior industrial relations officer two years later.

District Pupils Contest Winners

Two Greater Victoria students have been named winners in poster and essay contests sponsored by the Canadian Forestry Association.

First prize in the senior division of the poster contest went to Sharlotte Beauchemin, a student at Colquitz Junior Secondary School and first prize in the junior division, zone 4, of the essay contest was Joan Lynn Ralston, an S. J. Willis Junior Secondary School student.



TANDEM, the Spencer 35, owned and skippered by Theo De La Mare, was first to cross the line in this year's Juan de Fuca race. The 62-year-old skipper has only been sailing 4½ years and attributes his success in his first try at the Juan de Fuca to the calibre of his crew. They were Lt.-Cmdr. Bill Walker, former skipper of HMCS Oriole; Gordie Nickells, Dr. Bob Grunderson and "Rocky" Rochfort.—(James McVie Photo)

Pat's Galenaia Stood the Test Like a Giant

By PAT DUFOUR
Times Women's Editor

Our little sloop Galenaia won a victory Sunday. She didn't win the Juan de Fuca race. But she won a contest against the sea in a 75-mile ordeal that saw us take every condition in a deep-water yachtsman's book. And she was the smallest in the race.

Our crew of three was George, my husband and Galenaia's skipper, myself and Mack Lewis.

As we jockeyed for position near the start line at Brotchie Ledge on Saturday morning we felt as David felt when he decided to take a shot at Goliath.

In light winds we jockeyed around, avoiding the risk of fouling the larger yachts that set off on the Swiftsure's 136-mile sailout 15 minutes before us.

It was as if a mountain had blanketed us when the 66-foot sloop Spirit bore down on us, the windward side of her huge Genoa sail towering high above and stealing every puff of air from our sails.

●

On our first leg over to the Canadian side there was no indication that this would turn out to be the most gruelling Juan de Fuca race on record.

The winds were light and had to be wooed and our purpose in choosing this course, rather than setting out for Race Rocks and the American side of the strait, was to be able to play the back eddies of the Canadian side, benefiting from the lift of the favorable tide.

When we reached the shoreline we made the mistake of going in too close, thus losing what little wind force there was. So, trying to retrieve as quickly as possible, we tacked out for the American shores.

When the wind whipped up to 40 and the waves looked as if they'd swallow us we were working our way over on the other side of Race Rocks.

How glad I was at this point that Bill Lapworth had such conditions in mind when he designed our midget ocean racer.

Gunwales under part of the time, we carried on until offshore at Angeles Point. There, we decided to reef down so as to be able to ride out the storm in greater safety and comfort and avoid being slowed by heeling over and spilling wind from our sails.

As if by a miracle, a quiet sheltered bay stood right in front of us. Estimating that a quick mainsail adjustment there would save us time we headed in, dropped anchor. In five minutes we were out in the boiling Strait again.

Then the battle began. Short tacking all the way along the shore, we fought our way up and it seemed hours before we could spot Pilar Pont, which we knew lay not too far from Slip Point. There we'd turn in for Clallam Bay and the rounding of the coast guard vessel that was to be our mark.

Hard as we tried, we found that we couldn't make Slip Point before the hour when the wind dropped to a whisper.

From 2 a.m. to 11 a.m. we crabbed our way across the Strait, with no wind and the tide against us, a heavy swell stealing what progress our flapping sails made.

●

Finally the wind began to rise. An hour later we were able to set our spinnaker and see her golden fleur-de-lis filled above our bow. Two hours later, we were off on a gallop, the spinnaker flying us along so that at times we surfed.

Right through the Strait, through the angry rip tides off Race Rocks, Galenais rode like a champion.

We felt proud of our midget, knowing that six of our 20 competitors had been forced to quit because of conditions and faulty gear.

We were thrilled to know that another of Lapworth's boats had come through with flying colors, Doxy 11, the Cal 28 owned and skippered by Peter Coombs, also of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, had won the race, coming over the line in the early hours of the morning.

The larger Tandem, a Spencer 35 owned by RVYC's Theo De La Mare, had crossed the line before her but Docy II managed to wrestle the trophy from her, beating her time by two minutes on corrected time set by the ratings of the two yachts.

●

Lapworth was also represented with one of his Cal 25s. Saga, owned by Jeremy Hewett and skippered by Ned Ashe, last year's winner, finished in seventh position.

This year's race was also a triumph for local designer Ray Richards.

His 26-foot sloop Haida design proved herself to be a top contender when Don McCowan's Haida, with Denny Coverdale as skipper, came through in third position.

The rest of the yachts who completed the race came in this order: Scutum, G. Mervyn, West Vancouver Yacht Club, fourth; Kalara, L. Walters, Royal Vancouver Yacht Club, fifth; Whistler, Sid Halls, RVYC, sixth; Surfer, T. Repard, Royal Van., eighth; Mutineer II, S. Toy, WVYC, ninth; Antares, J. Allan, WVYC, tenth; Galenaia, 11th; Traveda, L. Murrell, Royal Van., 12th, and Sea Urchin, H. White, Nanaimo Yacht Club, 13th.

Minister Cool Toward Compulsory Arbitration

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said today he isn't convinced the Australian system of compulsory arbitration is the best for B.C.

He was commenting on suggestions Friday by federal Labor Minister Jack Nicholson that adoption in Canada of compulsory arbitration courts merited serious consideration.

The federal minister also said his department has given "serious consideration" to compulsory arbitration in recent years.

Mr. Peterson said his department is interested in the practices in other countries of resolving labor disputes.

"I'm sure that those who advocate the Australian system of compulsory arbitration are sincere in their desire to improve labor relations by adopting this practise.

"But I am not convinced the Australian system is the best for B.C."

The minister said his department has looked at the Australian system and his officials have discussed it with responsible officials from Australia.

But with roughly half the population of Canada, Australia lost about 10 times the number of working days through strike action.

Esquimalt NDP To Name Candidate

The New Democratic Party in Esquimalt provincial constituency will hold a nomination convention Saturday, June 25th, at 8 p.m.

Spokesman Geoff Mitchell said place of the meeting hasn't yet been decided.

VANCOUVER GARBAGE SENT HERE

At least one Vancouver drugstore has solved its garbage problem with a mail-order service to Victoria.

Salesman Karel de Roo recently ordered a small package of prescription drugs from the drugstore.

It arrived here today in a large package stuffed with discarded cigarette cartons and other garbage which Vancouverites have been hard-pressed to get rid of since the outside workers' strike which stopped garage pickups.

Mr. de Roo wonders if there might be some problems with postal workers' handling "hot" merchandise.

Car Kills Pedestrian

An elderly Alberni woman died in hospital early today after an accident with a car late Sunday night on Beaver Creek Road in Alberni.

RCMP said Mrs. Margaret Frances Carnduff, 78, was crossing the road to her home at 11:45 p.m. when she was struck by a car driven by Walter Leroy Barber, of Port Alberni.

She died in West Coast General Hospital three hours later.

Mr. Barber told police the woman crossed the road immediately behind an oncoming car and he could not see her.

An inquest will begin tonight.

Peers Take a Look At 'Hell-Fire' State

By NORMAN SHRAPNEL
Manchester Guardian

The House of Lords last Thursday turned to gambling, not for the first time in their ancestral lives, but the place looked considerably less dashing than the notorious eighteenth century Hell Fire Club.

Lady Wootton was sitting primly on the Woolsack, and none of the bishops appeared in any immediate moral danger of losing their cathedral bells, as King Henry VIII is reputed to have done, on a turn of the dice. It was soon apparent, in fact, that most of the peers had come along to discourage gambling rather than promote it.

There was plenty to discourage. We have now not a Hell Fire Club but a Hell Fire State. It was generally agreed that, with a total turnover of £1,000 millions and betting shops now around the 16,000 mark, and still rapidly increasing, this is our most spectacular growth industry.

Nobody was boasting. In fact, Lord Longford, at the government dispatch box, was so worried about how our recent legislation has worked out, and particularly about the contemptuous way in which gambling club proprietors are dodging the rules, that he foresaw a decisive tightening of the law.

Intimidation and blackmail, mentioned by one speaker after another, were also in Lord Longford's mind.

"The situation," he firmly declared, "cries out for remedy."

It seems we may get it some time soon. For Lord Longford mentioned the need for proper public supervision and for a law flexible enough to stamp out new abuses as they arise. Probably there would have to be "some sytem of licensing or registration or both."

Lord Stonham later confirmed that the Government does intend to act. But not this session.

People want to gamble — this their Lordships faced.

Gambling Habit

One speaker, Lork Kilbracken, expressed the dilemma most eloquently by calling himself a compulsive gambler who was at the same time well aware of "the completely disintegrating effect gambling can have."

Apparently, he ran a book while still at Eton; and although he managed to lose on it, and get a caning into the bargain, the lure survived.

Lord Kilbracken gave some startling examples of what goes on in London, which now seems to be turning Las Vegas into a rather sedate back number.

Many Americans are now being flown here, with all expenses paid, simply for a week's gambling. You can now chance your arm and your bank account, it seems, on almost every game of hazard that exists.

Including politics. This was a special anxiety to Lord Wade, who hated to see a general election becoming a punters' field day.

The betting on the last election ran into millions, and Lord Wade's fear seems to be that the studied placing of bets in marginal constituencies may ultimately win and lose elections.

Nobody mentioned Caligula's horse, which won without a single bet or a single vote.

Planning Rescues In Space

By JOHN G. NORRIS

NEW YORK — What will happen if the American astronauts' good luck runs out and they encounter trouble in orbit on a future space mission that cannot be corrected?

Air Force and space industry engineers admitted to the Aero-Space Writers Association here that there is no way to save them at present and that there won't be during this decade without a crash effort to build a space rescue system.

But the experts did unveil some of the plans for an effective space rescue program that has been partly underway in recent years to bring astronauts back from orbit alive.

General Electric has developed an "emergency cocoon" — a sort of inflatable lifeboat or shelter in which an astronaut could survive if trouble in his space ship forces him to bail out. Another space ship would then come up and get him.

For Re-Enetry

Another is called the "MOOSE" also devised by General Electric. It stands for Manned Orbital Operations Safety Equipment and it is an erectable one-man re-entry vehicle for emergency return to earth.

Two major features of MOOSE, G.E.'s Harold L. Blum told newsmen, are a foldable heat shield and a polyurethane foam structure which forms a capsule around the astronaut and insulates and supports him during reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

These and other space rescue plans — about which almost nothing previously had been released — were disclosed by a panel of government and industry officials here.

T. J. Gordon of Douglas Aircraft described his company's program to compartmentalize spacecraft, with water-tight doors and air locks. A fire in one compartment could be snuffed out by shutting off the oxygen. Douglas also is working on plans for larger space stations that would carry Gemini or Apollo crafts as "life boats."

Backward and still medieval in many respects, Spain is slowly moving into the 20th century but not without great difficulties. Dictator General Francisco Franco still holds power through the police, but another of his bulwarks, the Church, is slowly shifting away from him as the result of a new concern for social justice among the lower clergy, encouraged by the new liberal spirit which has come from the Vatican Conference. The scene above is in the old city of Toledo where things have changed little in hundreds of years.

Franco May Be Facing His 'Moment of Truth'

THE ECONOMIST
By Special Correspondent

MADRD—For more than one Hispanic dictator the moment of truth came when he lost the goodwill of the Roman Catholic Church.

The church has been a pillar of General Franco's regime for more than a quarter of a century. But Catholic goodwill for the regime was dented on May 11 by the truncheons of the Barcelona police. A member of the civil governor's staff admitted a "crisis" in relations with the lower clergy.

The crisis began when a hundred priests held a silent procession in the centre of Barcelona in protest against the alleged ill-treatment of imprisoned students.

Not First Time

This was not the first time priests had demonstrated in public against actions of the Franco regime. Last year Catalan priests assembled outside a law court in Madrid, and Basque priests handed out leaflets in the centre of Bilbao. But then the police merely kept an eye on them and the press carried no mention of either affair.

The latest ecclesiastical demonstrators were savagely charged by truncheon-wielding policemen who injured about ten of them; the controlled press and radio reported that a number of priests had been "dispersed."

Hit Back

At once the priests hit back with a weapon that embarrassed the Archbishop of Barcelona, who is criticized by the junior clergy for his "servility" to the regime, as much as the civil authorities: a demand that the offending policemen be excommunicated—which would involve their dismissal, since only a practising Catholic may be a policeman or civil servant in Spain.

In making their demand, the priests invoked article 2343 of canon law which declares that any person who strikes a member of the clergy is liable to excommunication. Some priests argue that this article also applies to the civil governor of Barcelona, who is generally believed to have ordered the police to take stern action against them.

It is known that the "socio-political" sections of the police in Barcelona and other large Spanish cities are uneasy about the evolution of the regime and more than usually short-tempered.

In principle, the police are required to break up all unauthorized meetings and demonstrations; in fact, a few well-connected groups are being allowed a lengthening amount of rope—but nobody tells the officer on duty until he cracks down on the wrong target.

GEN. FRANCO

Despite the Concordat, and despite appearances, anticlericalism is strong in the police, the Falange, the sindicatos (official unions) and other ancillaries of the regime; the fact that "certain priests and Catholic movements flirt with the opposition while sleeping with the government" is resented by many officials.

Denunciation

The police are one of the few remaining strongholds of falangist indoctrination in Spain; and falangists are loud in their denunciation of the "separatist" Catalan clergy.

As they see it, the Catalans were disillusioned by the Vatican's collaboration with General Franco in silencing the out-spoken Abbot of Montserrat. After his declaration that "the Spanish regime calls inself Christian but fails to respect the basic principles of Christianity," the abbot was called to Italy and given a temporary mission that looks like occupying him for the rest of his life.

The abbot's sermons and interviews had made him the unofficial leader of the Catalan regionalist movement. After his departure many Catalanistas, feeling let down by the Vatican, broke away from the church, and anticlerical leaflets appeared in Barcelona.

Anti-Clericalism

Falangists suggest that the Catalan clergy fear a recrudescence in the future of the anti-clerical violence that has scarred Catalonia more than once in the past: hence the efforts of the priesthood to recapture the leadership of the Catalan opposition at all costs.

If — as there is reason to believe — this view is held by senior Barcelona police officers, and possibly by the civil governor, who is also provincial chief of the Falange, it may help to explain the contempt and anger with which the priests were assaulted.

There is a grain of truth in the falangist interpretation of the Catalan clergy's motives, but it is an oversimplification.

The upper and lower clergy of Spain inhabit two different worlds. At the bottom of the scale, in most parishes, priests live much the same kind of material life as is experienced by the mass of the population.

Born Poor

Many parish priests, born into poor families, went — or were sent — into a seminary to ease the economic burden on their parents, not becuse they felt an overpowering vocation. Their vocation came later, and with it a sense of the need to say more about life than what happens after it.

In Catalonia and the Basque country — less hidebound socially, and livelier intellectually, than many other parts of Spain, and where people are stimulated by the challenge of preserving their regional culture — the junior clergy have few political inhibitions.

At the moment many of them are reading the third volume of "El Catolicismo y la Cruzada de Franco," by the Basque priest "Juan de Iturralde," supplies of which are now filtering through the customs in ecclesiastical trunks.

Severe Critics

Their criticism of their bishops is often severe; their influence among Catholic laymen it growing.

"In the past," one of them said recently, "the church gave the impression that, while it was always ready to meet the rich and powerful half-way, it insisted that the poor and underprivileged come to it, as if in an act of unconditional surrender. Today it must go out and meet the under-privileged half-way."

That, in a sense, was what those Catalan priests were doing.

South African Judiciary Rebuked for Its Silence

By STANLEY UYS

CAPE TOWN — The South African judiciary has come under criticism for failing to speak out against laws which offend against moral values.

In Cape Town last week a former Opposition MP, J. Hamilton Russell, said: "Our judges have set high standards of probity in the administration of justice. The public has had faith in them. This will change if, by their silence and lack of criticism they seem to accept if not inadvertently approve, the arbitrary rules and extreme laws which it is their duty to interpret in the courts.

"As I see it, there is no obligation in a judge to remain silent if in his opinion the law he interprets is a negation of the rule of law and endangers the liberty (or life, or sanity) of the subject.

Moral Duty

"I believe the courts have a moral duty to condemn such laws. If is clear to a judge that while he is interpreting a law he is not administering justice in terms of the rule of law, he should say so.

"Our judges should not allow their minds to be conditioned by the incessant claims of the government that the present state of the country necessitates arbitrary emergency laws to preserve 'law and order,' or that the perpetual state of emergency declared by the government amounts to a 'state of war'."

Mr. Russell, who resigned from the opposition United Party in protest against its attitude to the Verwoerd government's 90-day detention law, is a member now of the executive of the Progressive Party.

The other criticism of the judiciary comes from Professor A. S. Mathews, professor of law in the University of Natal, and Professor R. C. Albino, professor of psychology in the same university, in an article in the South African Law Journal on the 90-day and 180-day detention laws.

Answer Plain

They write: "It may be argued that it would be wrong for judges to have regard for what appear to be political values. The answer to such an argument is plain. The ideal of which we speak is part of the woof and warp of Roman Dutch law, and it can surely never be wrong for a judge to give effect to the very spirit of that great legal system unless Parliament forbids him to do so in clear and unambiguous terms.

"In recent years, the courts have interpreted laws which have cried out for one of those resounding defences of individual liberty in the dignified and majestic language in which judges sometimes speak. But the opportunity has been passed by.

"There is another reason why faith in the courts has been dangerously weakened. Men have over the years looked to the courts for protection of basic rights. In South Africa the courts have had to enforce and apply a heavy program of laws which deny basic rights. We are not concerned now with the reasons for the laws, but merely with the fact that the courts have become an instrument for what many people regard as oppressive legislation. This is not the fault of the courts, but it is hard to deny that our courts have not shown themselves to be the reluctant, or even faintly troubled, instruments of the enforcement."

Barbarism

The authors discuss the holding of detainees in solitary confinement and state "there can be little doubt that solitary confinement for a prolonged period may be a dangerous and barbarous punishment."

Two 90-day detainees committed suicide while in detention, and a number of others were committed to mental institutions from which they were later discharged.

The authors refer to a case involving a detainee, in which the judge asked: "Did Parliament intend that in the furtherance of the object of inducing the detainee to speak, the continued detention should be as effective as possible, subject only to considerations of humanity as generally accepted in a civilized country?" They comment: "These words show that the court assumed, without much self-questioning, that imprisonment in solitary confinement, without reading matter and writing materials, is in accordance with the considerations of humanity."

Doubt Confessions

The authors think that "little reliance" should be placed on the prescribed weekly visits of magistrates to detainees, and they warn against the reliability of confessions and admissions extracted under conditions of detention in solitary confinement.

Referring to a case in which the court "correctly" found that aged African parents — one of whom was blind — had no legal right to live with their son in a location, the authors pose the question: "Should it not have added words of disapproval, or even a request for official alleviation, or an expression of concern? (this is but one example of inexplicable silence.)"

Soviet Scientists Find New Chemical Element

WASHINGTON — Doubts now have vanished that Soviet scientists have produced a chemical element 104—the first man-made chemical element discovered by the Russians and the first discovered outside the United States.

Tentative Russian plans are to call the new element Kurchatovium after the late Igor Kurchatov, "father" of Russia's hydrogen bomb.

Late in 1964 the Russians announced they had found evidence for the existence of element 104. When first reported, most other scientists expressed doubt largely because the Russian evidence was based on physical measurements and not chemical identification, which is the classical method for new element claims.

Now, however, more evidence including some chemical studies have accumulated to remove almost all doubt over the Russian claim.

The Russians have not yet sought to publicize their achievement or to seek formal international recognition of their claim. One reason is the Russians recall the scientific imbroglio over the discovery of element 102.

In 1957, a team of scientists working in Sweden claimed to have discovered 102. But confirmation from other laboratories was not forthcoming.

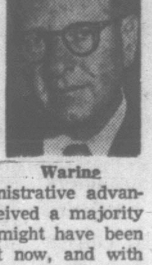
Indeed, it was during the confirmatory experiments that element 102 actually was discovered by scientists at the University of California Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, which has played a key role in the discovery of all man-made or transuranium elements.

Now the Russians apparently are waiting confirmation of their discovery from experiments being carried out at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory.

Political Realities Force Delay on 'Inner Cabinet'

By GERALD WARING

OTTAWA — The first time I recall Prime Minister Pearson having plugged the idea of a small "inner" cabinet was soon after he took office three years ago. He has mentioned the idea more than once since then, mostly recently in the Commons last week.



Waring

His failure to proceed with the plan suggests that he has failed to solve the practical problems raised by such basic reorganization.

Or to put it another way, it suggests that the political disadvantages at this time of shaky Liberal hold on power outweigh the administrative advantages. Had the Liberals received a majority last November Mr. Pearson might have been influenced to go ahead. But now, and with Mr. Pearson's tenure of office not likely to continue beyond this Parliament, it's rather late in the day for this particular prime minister to remake the executive in the British mold.

* * *

Indeed, Mr. Pearson made it clear in his comments to the House that no immediate action is under consideration. But, he said, "as government business continues to increase . . . it may be necessary to increase the number of ministers." Then he added "it will perhaps become necessary to introduce a system into our governmental structure by which we will have ministers in the cabinet and ministers who only attend cabinet meetings when subjects of direct responsibility and interest to them are being considered."

"This would mean that the cabinet itself would be smaller and that there would be a number of ministers who would not automatically be members of the cabinet," he explained.

In lieu of implementing this reorganization long ago, Mr. Pearson tried another method of increasing executive efficiency. He set up a number of standing cabinet committees to which cabinet matters in specified categories are referred for consideration and recommendation to full cabinet. While this arrangement has been helpful, it still does not blast out the bottleneck of ultimate decision by 25 men and one woman.

The nature of the bottleneck is the time required to get 26 more or less strong-willed ministers with widely-different regional responsibilities to agree on policies and courses of action. One minister confessed to me that projects with which he wants to proceed are held up almost interminably by inability to get decisions out of cabinet.

* * *

Mr. Pearson's "inner cabinet" plan would automatically ease this bottleneck. Cabinet as a decision-making body might then be no more than 10 or 12 men, with the remainder of the ministers being left with departmental administration, participating in cabinet decisions only when their departments' activities were involved.

Mr. Pearson's inner cabinet, if he named one, would comprise those already recognized as the chief ministers: Martin, Sharp, Winters, Favreau, Marchand, Pickersgill, MacEachen and perhaps Cardin and Greene. The power of government would be concentrated in their hands. Ten men plus the PM—and only two of them from outside the central provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

What has stayed Mr. Pearson's hand, I suspect, is the belief that an Ontario-Quebec inner cabinet running the country would be resented in the outer provinces, with harm to national unity and the Liberals' political future.

DATSUN 1600
New Model Outperforms Specifications

A sports car that actually exceeds manufacturers' specifications in both top speed and acceleration is the hot and handsome Datsun 1600.

Powered by a 96 HP, 4 cylinder OHV engine with twin carburetors, the stock two seater was recently test driven in Japan by reporters for 11 automotive magazines. Tests took place at the Yatabe track near Tokyo.

Maximum speed over the circular course was 112 MPH. Average speed was 110.2 MPH as compared with a catalogue maximum of 106 MPH. From a standing start the Datsun covered a quarter mile in 17 seconds flat; it hit 62.14 MPH in 10.3 seconds.

Now available in Canada, the new 1600 is a beautifully finished, luxuriously equipped and superbly engineered unit. Compression ratio is 9:1. Weight is 2,028 lbs. Mechanical features include front wheel disc brakes, cam and lever type gear steering and a four speed fully synchromeshed transmission. The 1600cc displacement engine develops 95 HP at 6,000 rpm.

Race wins for the model have been numerous. They include firsts in the GT2 and GT3 categories at the Japan Grand Prix and a first in the All Japan Hill Climb. Another first was scored in the Women's event of the U.S. Sports Car Club races before the car was officially in production.

A fastback coupe version of the 1600 now in limited production created a sensation at the recent New York Auto Show. 'Car and Driver' called it "one of the most ogled exhibits." 'Road and Track' commented: "completely original and very well finished — a combination of proven chassis and engine wrapped in an attractive package."

Development Body Backed

TORONTO (CP) — Prof. Edward Neufeld of the University of Toronto told a weekend Liberal party conference that the Canada Development Corp. is the cleanest, easiest way to begin the nationalization of industry.

Speaking Saturday to a Toronto and district Liberal meeting, Prof. Neufeld said use of the development corporation would be the most sensible approach to take if the government starts nationalization of industry.

He said the corporation is designed to give more Canadians a chance to invest in the development of their country. The proposed structure of the organization would give the government 10 per cent of the shares and limit other groups and individuals to three per cent or less.

Former finance minister Walter Gordon said the government did not plan to take an active part in the corporation but would, instead, appoint management representatives from the business world to reflect the point of view of private shareholders.

But, he said the $1,000,000,000 corporation would be profit-making and only take control of industries which might be purchased by foreign interests.

He said the government-owned Polymer Corp. of Sarnia would come under the control of the corporation and the Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Organization, operated by the department of transport, might also be absorbed.

Union Fighting 2 Battles

The new regional direcor of Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers says the union is fighting two opponents.

"They are the pulp and paper manufacturers who are unwilling to make necessary concessions on wages and working conditions and a raiding breakaway group trying hard to disrupt us," said E. P. O'Neal, the former secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labour.

"The actions of this breakaway group aids and abetts the employers. They are hurting all workers in the industry."

Mr. O'Neal said pulp and paper workers face "hard bargaining. Locals were taking their own strike votes and there may soon be a government-supervised one.

He called the rival union "disruptors in the mills."

His comments came as the independent Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada made its second application within a week for locals now held by the international union.

The Canadian union has applied to the Labour Relations Board for certification for 950 workers at Harmac, near Nanaimo, and 750 workers at Elk Falls, north of Campbell River.

Harmac would be Local 8 and Elk Falls Local 7 of the union, formed several years ago when locals at Crofton and Castlegar left the international union.

Canam Sale Supported

TORONTO (CP) — Shareholders of Canam Copper Co. Ltd. today voted to sell all the company's assets to Giant Mascot Mines Ltd. and to wind up Canam.

Giant Mascot shareholders approved buying the assets Thursday.

Canam's main asset is a copper-molybdenum-silver property in Hope on which Giant Mascot spent about $237,000 in development under an agreement with Canam.

Giant Mascot will give Canam: 1,084,994 shares; pay $217,770 owed to Lorado Uranium Mines Ltd. and Consolidated Mogul Mines Ltd. and $3,457 in unearned insurance premiums.

A spokesman for Canam said after the company is wound up, shareholders will receive one share of Giant Mascot for each eight shares of Canam.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trading was limited on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as a result of holidays in both Europe and the United States.

There was a lack of interest on all commodities, especially oilseeds. Some hedging sales appeared and were absorbed by a modest demand although prices were easier. Oats and barley trade was light with domestic demand for feed. Prices showed underlying firmness.

The rye market moved in a narrow range, reflecting firmer prices than were evidenced last week.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 2,900,000 bushels to Russia, 920,000 bushels to China, 300,000 bushels to the United Kingdom and 55,000 bushels to Belgium.

Car Fees Increased

SINGAPORE (Reuters) — The Singapore government today increased the registration fees on all imported cars, including those from Canada and announced an increase of 30 per cent in imported car duty within the next 14 months.

Finance Minister Lim Kim San said the new tax measures were framed to promote "the sound and speedy development" of the motor vehicle assembly industry here.

The registration fee for cars imported from Britain as from today will be 15 per cent, while manufacturers in other countries, including Canada and Australia, will pay 25 per cent on the value.

Until today the registration fee charged on cars imported from Britain, Canada and Australia was five per cent on the value, while other countries paid 15 per cent.

Commenting on the lower registration fees for British-manufactured cars, Lim said Singapore could not accord preferences to all Commonwealth countries unless it received reciprocal preferences.

Emerald Isle Bank Strike Tightens Cash

DUBLIN (AP) — The Emerald Isle's bank strike is going into its third week, and there is no sign of a settlement.

About 900 banks in Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic are shut down by a walkout of junior employees to back up demands for more pay.

Business north and south of the border seems to be operating normally, but the squeeze is tightening. A considerable volume of money was available at the start of the strike, but some of it now seems to have dropped out of circulation.

Businesses with large cash intakes each day are getting rid of their surplus by making deals with firms that have large weekly payrolls but take in no cash.

One large brewery has taken on the role of banker for pubs.

Saloons are favorite places for cashing cheques.

FAIRS HARD HIT

Hardest hit are the Irish cattle fairs, where street transactions are traditionally on a cash basis.

Hundreds of young bank clerks have gone to England for jobs, and many of the girls who operate accounting machines have deserted the banking business for better-paying jobs in other industries.

The 3,400 junior bank employees are demanding a seven-per-cent wage increase in the Irish Republic and 11-per-cent rise in Northern Ireland.

Rookie Wins Hectic '500'

A Last-Second Victory

It was an inch-by-inch finish.

The massive yawls Diamond Head and Mary Bower fought every inch for the finish line at the weekend's racing classic, the Swiftsure.

And it was a second's delay in setting a spinnaker that gave the Mary Bower that extra inch to flash across the finish line and the City of Victoria trophy for the first boat home.

Thousands of spectators lining the breakwater at Ogden Point were treated to one of the most dazzling finishes in the 35-year history of the race.

In the last precious seconds, the people were within 20 feet of the Mary Bower's rigging as the yacht screamed by Diamond Head on the inside.

All through the 136-mile race that had thrown every condition in the book at the contestants, Mary Bower's skipper, John Long, had worked his boat and crew to the limit.

Then came the second that

Four Die By Fire In 2 Days

(Times News Services)

SAIGON — Two more Buddhists burned themselves to death today in the struggle to force South Viet Nam's military regime from power. A Buddhist leader warned of more suicides unless Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government steps down.

A 17-year-old monk burned himself to death at the Buddhist Institute here and another monk took his life by fire at Dalat, a resort 115 miles from this South Vietnamese capital.

A Buddhist girl was reported to have cut her wrists in Dalat. A later report said the girl survived.

Two Buddhist women burned themselves to death Sunday.

The young monk's body was inside the institute's compound when correspondents arrived. Other monks said he had set himself ablaze near the main gate to the grounds.

Thich (venerable) Tam Chau, the Buddhist Institute's moderate chairman, appealed to monks and nuns for an immediate halt to such "self-sacrifice." But later the 86-pound monk told correspondents self-immolation is not a contradiction of Buddhist principles of non-violence. He added:

"We hope the general Ky realizes the situation. Today is only the beginning. I will try to do my best to use diplomatic means. If not, there is no other way but to struggle with suicide and blood."

PLACES NO DEADLINE

Tam Chau gave no deadline for Ky's resignation, but his talk of more suicides as a means of forcing the United States to withdraw support from Ky indicated the monk was under pressure from extremist members of the Buddhist hierarchy.

The new wave of Buddhist protest suicides were the first immolations since seven monks and nuns burned themselves to death in the months before the overthrow of the late president Ngo Dinh Diem in November, 1963. The new suicides are believed to reflect despair among Buddhist extremists of rallying enough support in the streets to bring down the junta.

Foster Forced Out

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Graham Hill, a London road racer, became the first rookie to win the 500-mile Memorial Day auto classic in 39 years today in a crash-marked race that saw more than one-third of the 33-yard field knocked out in a fiery crash on the first turn.

The 36-year-old Britisher, 1962 world champion, was the second straight foreign winner of the grueling event, beating out defending world and Indianapolis champion Jimmy Clark of Scotland.

Billy Foster of Victoria was knocked out in the opening pileup.

Only seven cars survived the 200-lap race, marred by repeated wrecks and engine failures. The previous lowest number of finishers was eight in 1951.

A holiday crowd of 275,000 was brought to its feet by the pileup at the first turn, moments after the 33 machines, moving three abreast, had started down the asphalt track.

Miraculously, no one was seriously injured although 14 spectators were treated for minor scratches and bruises after flying wheels and parts ripped into the stands.

TEMPORARY HALT

The race was stopped temporarily—the second time in three years that a crash on the first lap had caused the race to be held up. It was restarted 84 minutes later with a field of 22, and two more cars went out shortly afterward.

Hill's winning speed of 144.317 miles per hour was far below Clark's record of 150.686 set last year because the yellow caution light was on for 41 minutes, compared with 12 last year.

Sixteen cars were involved in the fiery crash that forced the restart of the race.

Jackie Stewart, another Scotsman, appeared to have the race won until his oil pressure failed 25 miles from the end. He finished sixth.

Fledgling Trims Eagles

By PAT DUFOUR

A fledgling trimmed the feathers of the biggest eagles in the Swiftsure classic over the weekend.

Terna, the smallest yacht in the race, came through in grand style to capture the coveted Swiftsure Trophy for over-all winner.

This was the maiden race for the 32-foot sloop owned and skippered by Per Christoffersen of the West Vancouver Yacht Club. It beat out such champions as John Graham's yawl Maruffa and Ches Rickard's L36 Winsome III which is the only yacht to win the title of overall winner three years in a row, 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Christoffersen admits he had "tears in my eyes" when he crossed the line and realized that, on corrected time, he was a hot contender for top spot.

Co-skipper with Christoffersen was Phil Miller of the Vancouver sailmaking firm of that name. An able skipper of six-metres he was given the helm by Terna's owner for the all-important start at Brotchie Ledge.

FOSTER, 12 OTHERS OUT

Fiery Pileup at Indy

(Times News Services)

See Pictures on Page 18

INDIANAPOLIS—A blazing pileup of 16 cars, including one driven by Billy Foster of Victoria, stopped the 50th annual 500-mile race today moments after it started. Only one driver and 14 spectators were hurt, none seriously.

The cars left of the original 33 restarted the race in single file after flames in burning cars were extinguished and the debris cleared from the 2½-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway track. The race was resumed after a delay of one hour and 22 minutes.

The 16 cars were the most ever involved in one smashup at the famous racing grounds.

Dr. Tom Hanna, medical director, said about eight spectators were treated at the hospital and six others at first aid stations. He said they were "hurt primarily by panic rather than flying debris—all injuries are minor."

After repair of minor damage, three cars joined the re-starters, increasing the field to 20.

On the first lap of the restart, Johnny Boyd's BRP rear-engined Ford spun against the first-corner retaining wall. He walked away from the crackup.

Front-running Lloyd Ruby was sent to the pits with his car smoking and rookie Jack Stewart of Scotland inherited the lead with only 50 laps to go.

Defending champion Jim Clark, also of Scotland, was running second but encountered trouble with his suspension. Clark twice spun out earlier in the race but managed to stay in. Favorite Mario Andretti was knocked out earlier.

It was the second time in two years a mishap marred the race and it had to be halted. Two years ago, at the other end of the main stretch on the second lap, Dave MacDonald and Eddie Sachs were killed in a multiple smashup.

Track officials blamed the crackup on a fight for position among the racers.

The officials said Foster's car made contact with Gordon Johncock's. The chain reaction pileup continued as drivers tried frantically to avoid the first two cars.

At least one wheel came off one of the cars bolting past the starting line. One of the racers smashed against the outside retaining wall at the southwest turn and caught fire. The blaze was less than 15 yards from fans in the grandstand.

Two-time winner A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., was one of those eliminated in the pileup. Foyt, who had also cracked up in time trials for this year's race, escaped with a scratch on his knee.

Out of the race with Foyt were Foster, Don Branson, Gary Congdon, Dan Gurney, Gale Yarborough, Arnie Knepper, Al Miller, Bobby Grim, Larry Dickson and Ronnie Duman.

Foster, 28-year-old car dealer who last year became the first Canadian to qualify for the event, started in the fourth row in a Vollstedt Ford. He had qualified this year with an average speed of 159.490 miles an hour.
